Favor TB Hospital for Pulmonary Cases

Supervisors Asking State to Make Study

In a move, which Chairman Peter Williams (R), Saugerties called "the beginning of the end" for the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, the board of supervisors Thursday night voted 32 to 1 to have the State make a survey of the hospital facilities and determine whether 10 beds in the hospital may be set aside for treatment of non-tuberculosis pulmonary disease cases.

Williams, who voted for the resolution to have the study made, said "this is the beginning of the end of the TB hospital, so try your experiment." Williams noted that there had been attempts to close the TB hospital before and have patients transferred to other facilities. His contention now is that if the state approves use of a wing of the hospital for non-tuberculosis patients the hospital will eventually be closed as a TB hospital and patients transferred to other facilities.

Physicians for Move

The move to seek a state survey and authorization to use a 10-bed wing of the hospital for other than tuberculosis cases, came after Dr. Theodore S. Drachman, Ulster County Health Commissioner, had spoken on the matter. He said it "seemed advisable" to make the move and cited the action of the Ulster County Medical Society which advocated the change.

Dr. Drachman said due to new treatment and drugs the stay of tubercular patients in hospitals has been shortened and pointed to this as one of the reasons there are fewer beds being used. He said it was "seldom" that more than half the beds in the Ulster County hospital were occupied and the "census" had dropped to a point where occupancy was from 19 to 30. In winter months he said the number was greater. However, he said, they had to keep a full staff available and this made the per diem cost heavy.

Would Lower Cost

By admitting non-tuberculosis patients, he said, the per diem cost would be lowered. There would be no state-participation for non-tuberculous patients. TB patients care is state reimbursed at the rate of $5 per day.

At the last meeting of the board the resolution to seek state inspection and secure consent to divert 10 rooms to non-tuberculous cases, was tabled pending further study of the matter. Dr. Drachman appeared before the board Thursday evening to clarify certin matters prior to action on the matter.

Supervisor Clarence C. Raichle (R), 12th ward inquired whether the diversion of facilities might

$250,000 Is Needed on Courthouse

A special meeting of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors will be held at 8 p. m. Monday at which time the board will consider additional repairs and renovations to the courthouse.

In a report from the Building Committee Thursday night these repairs and alterations are estimated to cost $250,000.

This sum is in addition to the $225,772 spent so far on alterations and renovations.

The new program would include a new heating plant and air conditioning in the courthouse at an estimated cost of $100,000; heating the county jail, $50,000; renovation and repair at the 74 John Street office building $20,000; renovation of sheriff's office $15,000; renovation of supreme court room and library $55,000; pointing up exterior of courthouse where paint was sand-blasted, $10,000.

At the May meeting the board adopted a resolution authorizing the firm of Augustus R. Schrowang Associates to make a study of the project at no cost to the county and submit a report on cost.

To Figure Cost Spread

Accompanying the report of the Building Committee was a table reflecting the cost to each town and the City of Kingston if the proposed $250,000 cost were to be spread, ad valorum, over the entire county as well as the rate per $1,000 of assessed valuation based on the 1964 assessment rolls in each town and the city and the yearly rate based on a five-year projection of the proposed amount.

The Building committee in its report signed by Chairman Peter Williams (R), Saugerties, recommended that plans and specifications be prepared and the work be put up for bid at the earliest possible date.

The table showed that the amount to be raised on Kingston property was $46,728.94, an increase of $1.65 in the tax rate or 23 cents spread over a five year period.

A $100,000 false arrest action brought against the county and others by George Hagipolis was settled for $100. The action grew out of the arrest of Hagipolis by Police Officer George Dougherty back in 1958 on a bench warrant which had been issued for an-

Mones Is Elected To Presidency of City Water Board

Melvin Mones, who has served as secretary of the Board of Water Commissioners, was elected its president at the board's annual meeting Thursday night and Ellsworth Johnson was elected secretary.

Edmund T. Cloonan, water department superintendent, reporting a May rainfall of only 1.97 inches, said it was the lowest since 1925 for the month. The May, 1963 total was 2.45 inches, and the average in 39 years of records is 4.12 inches for the month.

Cooper Lake, the city's main reservoir, at capacity for several months, was reported nearly a

$20,000 Voted to Finish Ulster College Survey

The first step toward development of the Stone Ridge site for the Ulster County Community College campus was taken Thursday night by the board of Supervisors when $20,000 was made available for completion of preliminary studies so that a site plan, space need plan and a campus development plan can be submitted to the State University as a pre-requisite to approval of plans for individual buildings.

In a report by the Community College Committee, signed by all members, it was stated that since the recent visit and inspection of the proposed campus site there had been a meeting with the college trustees.

On file was a communication from the Sites Facilities Committee of the board of trustees requesting $20,000 for completion of preliminary studies by the architect and engineer.

Brinnier and Larios, engineers, reported that a feasible solution has been found to the drainage of sewage affluent at the site. By running approximately 3,600 feet of pipe from the proposed sewage plant to and along Cottekill road to an existing stream, at an estimated cost of $18,000, it will not be necessary to get formerly proposed easements.

With this impediment to the further development removed, the committee recommended that the request for $20,000 to complete preliminary studies be granted.

This sum will be appropriated as follows:

For borings if needed $3,500. $16,500 to be applied to architects and engineering fees. The entire $20,000 shall be charged against any future bond issue for capital construction. The money will be raised by a budget note to be retired from funds made available upon the subsequent bond authorization and issuance for capital construction at the college site.

On motion of Majority Leader James A. Rapp (R), First Ward, the Budget Note was unanimously approved.

In an announcement made following the board's action on Supervisor Abram F. Molyneaux's resolution calling for the $20,000 appropriation, Trustee Bernard A. Feeney, chairman of the Sites and Facilities

Scranton Joins '64 Field To 'Offer Party A Choice'

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania today announced his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination "to offer our party a choice."

The 46-year-old governor and former congressman has been saying for almost a year that he would accept only a "sincere and honest draft."

Says Danger Faces Party

In an 11th-hour speech arranged only Thursday night for the Republican State Convention of Maryland, Scranton declared the Republican party "is in danger if we let an exclusion-minded minority dominate our platform and choose our candidates."

"I have come here to offer our party a choice. I reject the echo we have thus far been handed, the echo of fear, or reaction, the echo from the never-never land that puts our nation backward to a lesser place in the world of free men," he said.

CR Key Factor

The announcement by Scranton puts him in direct opposition to Sen. Barry Goldwater. The Arizona Republican presently holds a commanding lead in the battle for national convention delegates.

A key factor in Scranton's decision, sources said, was Goldwater's vote on Wednesday against ending the filibuster in the Senate on civil rights legislation. Scranton long has been an outspoken advocate of civil rights.

Goldwater has indicated he would vote against the civil rights bill itself unless it is changed to meet his specifications.

In announcing his candidacy, Scranton joins a field of GOP contenders that includes Goldwater, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Maine Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, and former Minnesota Gov. Harold Stassen.

Goldwater was not available immediately for comment.

In New York a spokesman for Rockefeller said the governor will not change his position "one bit."

Michigan Gov. George Romney, an outspoken opponent of many of Goldwater's views, has said he is not seeking the nomination, but will campaign for a strong platform along lines of the 1960 platform.

He had no immediate comment on Scranton's plans.

Scranton's announcement was

County Building Is Ahead Of Time, Opening in Fall

Work on the new $1,445,000 Ulster County Office Building on Main Street is ahead of schedule, except for the ironwork on the entrance lobby.

The architects, Augustus R. Schrowang and Associates, report the work has progressed to such an extent that the building will be fully enclosed by July 13. At present work on installing the exterior "skin" and the windows has been completed on much of the lower portion of the building.

Complete in Fall

It is believed the building will be completed for occupancy by late fall.

A tour of the building by a Freeman reporter Wednesday disclosed that much of the interior work has been completed and other work is well underway on all six stories, which will house all of the county departments with the exception of the judiciary and the sheriff's department. These two will remain in the newly renovated court house on Wall Street.

Two Elevators in Building

The first of its kind to be erected in this locality, the metal and glass enclosed structure presents many innovations. Among them is the tinted thermo-pane glass windows, the two hydraulic-lift elevators which are said to be the highest of their kind in the state. The elevators which will serve all floors have a lift of 78 feet and are semi-fast, having a speed of 200 feet per minute.

Tinted glass windows, which have an appearance of being almost black from the outside, are unusually easy on the eye from the interior and give excellent outdoor vision, while cutting the sunglare.

Install Vaults

Installation of the large record vaults on the floors occupied by the Motor Vehicle Bureau, county clerk, county treasurer and surrogate is well underway and are being constructed so that in later years, if needed, expansion could be accomplished at modest cost.

Interior walls will be of the movable type, easily altered to accommodate changes in office areas.

The entire building is airconditioned from a central plant in the basement and numerous thermostatic controls throughout the building give "zone-control" of both heating and airconditioning.

Entrance to the building will be through a main lobby off Fair Street. On the first floor will be the Motor Vehicle Bureau offices,

State Police To Have 3,500 Men, 9 Troops

Reorganization plans for the New York State Police providing for increase in strength from its present seven troops to nine, and its personnel from 2,400 to 3,500 have been completed.

Supt. Arthur Cornelius Jr. discussed the reorganization plans Thursday in Albany with Dr. George F. Chandler of Kingston, organizer of the state police force and its first superintendent.

Estimates 3,500 Men

Dr. Chandler, 92, and retired from police work and practice of medicine, was Supt. Cornelius' guest at the division headquarters new facilities at the State Campus. As he looked over the reorganization map, Dr. Chandler told the superintendent, "You'll need at least 3,500 men to make it work."

Dr. Chandler, whose original plans for the State Police in 1917 called for 12 troops, yesterday declared the reorganization plan "a perfect set up for a State Police organization."

Discussing the plan, Supt. Cornelius said, "all that remains is the actual physical expansion of of the division to conform to the reorganization plan." He noted that the new super-State Police would take care of the state's needs for the next 20 years.

Proposed Plans

According to the proposed reorganization of the division:

(a)—The state will be divided into eight troops instead of the present six, with the Thruway detail, Troop T, making the ninth.

(b)—Virtually all existing troops, except Troop T will be reduced in size to make the two new troops.

(c)—Portions of Troop A (far west) C (south central) and D (central) will be taken to make Troop E, to be located between existing Troops A and D. Troop B (north) will lose Jefferson and Lewis Counties to the reshaped Troop D.

(d)—Troop F, a new troop, will be composed of Greene, Ulster, Orange and Rockland Counties, which will be pared from Troops G, C and K.

(e)—Troop K will gain Columbia County from Troop G, and Troop K's function will be solely on the east side of the Hudson River and the eastern half of Long Island.

Rhymer Absolved On Tool Dispute With Employer

Charges against Edward Rhymer, 50, of 125 Hasbrouck Avenue, involving the alleged theft of tools, were withdrawn recently and the defendant was absolved of all guilt in a ruling issued by Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Robert S. Stedge.

Rhymer had been charged on a warrant for grand larceny second degree involving some tools borrowed from his employer. Rhymer told the court he was holding the tools as a lien for back wages.

The ruling signed by Judge Stedge stated that the charges were without any foundation and Rymer was released.

400 Other Places Are Still Awaiting Bill

Kingston, as was feared earlier this month, will not have to wait out future action of Congress to continue with downtown's Broadway East urban renewal project, it was announced today

George E. Yerry Jr., Kingston Housing Authority chairman, said Congressman J. Ernest Wharton has advised him that approval has been given to the authority's plan for public housing in the Broadway East urban renewal area.

Had Doubts Here

It was announced June 5 that public housing and urban renewal throughout the nation, and possibly in Kington, was in jeopardy unless Congress acts on a new housing bill.

Yerry said an executed copy of an agreement with the Public Housing Administration has been received, and added:

"The housing authority wishes to express its sincere appreciation to Mr. Herman D. Hillman, regional director of the PHA for his extreme cooperation in fulfilling prior committments made in connection with our project, and to Congressman J. Ernest Wharton for his assistance.

City Is Fortunate

"Kingston is fortunate in securing this executed agreement in view of requests from 400 communities in the United States for similar projects, which will have to wait for future Congressional action, if any.

"This project will provide 115 low-rent apartments to assist in relocation required in urban renewal, and 20 apartments for senior citizens."

Other members of the authority are Max Mones, John DeGasperis, Robert Slover, and Benjamin A. Storms. Alexander Yosman is executive director, and former Mayor Frederick H. Stang is counsel to the authority.

Sends Contract

Regional Director Hillman's letter to the authority said:

"We are enclosing an executed contract of the Consolidated Annual Contributions Contract dated June 10, 1964. By this contract, the provisions relating to Equal Opportunity in Housing, pursuant to Executive Order No. 11063 are mandatory in their application to the 135 dwelling units comprising Project NY-45-1.

"The enclosed contract also includes the provisions relating to Equal Employment Opportunity required by Executive Order No. 11114.

Praises Authority

"Your progress represents a significant achievement of the commissioners of the authority in its efforts to serve the needs of the entire community. It will make possible for the benefit of all your fellow citizens, an increase in the supply of decent, safe and sanitary housing for eligible low-income families, and a corresponding decrease in existing sub-standard housing.

"As you continue with the final steps toward the construction of Project No. NY-45-1, you will have our best wishes for success, and assurances of the cooperation of our staff. By working for the earliest possible date for the start of construction, the authority will be contributing to

Little League Drive

It was announced today by officials of the National Little League that the annual fund drive for support will be held Saturday, starting at 10:30 a. m. Youngsters, dressed in their uniforms, will canvass through the day in wards four, five, six, seven, eight and nine.

Severance Puts Off Drug Trial

Trial of an indictment charging sale and possession of a narcotic by two local men, was put over until the opening of the September term of County Court Thursday after a motion for severance was made in one of the cases.

The indictment charges Anthony A. Vasi, 30, who gave his address as a Route 9W motel, and Robert H. Harrell, 31, of 60 Van Buren Street, with possession and sale of a narcotic. They were apprehended last January after a month long investigation by local police into the alleged sale and possession of narcotics in the area.

Early in January police arrested 10 persons during a weekend raid on the alleged sale and possession of narcotics.

Counsel for Vasi moved for a severance on the grounds his client would be prejudiced if the two defendants, named in one indictment, went to trial together. He moved to sever the indictment and allow his client to be tried separately, claiming that if tried together his client would be prejudiced before the jury.

Separate Trials

District Attorney David W. Corwin consented to the motion for severance and Surrogate Judge Francis X. Tucker, who was sitting as county judge in place of County Judge Raymond J. Mino, who is holding a term of court in New City, Rockland County, granted the motion. Vasi and Harrell will have separate trials.

In view of the granting of the motion for severance in the Vasi case, Charles Saccoman, counsel for Harrell, asked that trial of the Harrell case be put over to September.

Attorney Objects

District Attorney Corwin said he was ready to begin trial in Saccoman objected and he had the Harrell case on Monday. Saccoman objected and he had no knowledge of severance application until the present and told the Court he had been taken by surprise and was not prepared to try the Harrell case separate from the other. Both were named in the same indictment, Saccoman said, and he had been prepared to go to trial with both defendants ready.

Judge Tucker granted his motion and also put the Harrell case over to September 1 at 2 p. m. Bail in both cases was continued.

Other Cases

Carl William Polick, 22, Wawarsing, charged with third degree burglary, petit larceny and unlawful entry entered a plea of innocent and his case was adjourned to June 29 at 2 p. m. for motions. Bail was continued on application of his counsel Charles Saccoman.

Esopus to Seek Aid On Tax-Exempt Land

The formation of a committee to seek possible state legislative assistance in providing relief to townships with an inordinate amount of tax-exempt properties was the principal item of business resulting from this week's meeting of Esopus Town Board held at the Town Hall, Port Ewen.

In one of the fire districts in the township, $1,700,000 of an assessed valuation slightly in excess of $2,000,000, is tax-exempt, it was reported at the meeting.

The formation of the committee by Supervisor Roger W. Mabie was sparked by a request made by Connelly and Connelly, Kingston attorneys, on behalf of Science and Art Camps, Inc. of New York City for tax-exempt status. Science and Arts Camps recently acquired the former Camp Chiwanda property located off River Road, Port Ewen.

Science and Arts Camps is an educational, non-profit organization that operates a number of day camps in the metropolitan New York area and a residence camp in Connecticut for gifted children of high intelligence and talent. They propose to operate the Port Ewen property as another residence camp.

Esopus Town Board did not question the objectives or the merits of the Science and Arts Camp group. They did, however, question the fairness of the existing tax laws that permits an organization to come into a township and obtain tax-exempt status, when the operating organization is from outside of the township and when in all probability all of the children who would benefit from the camp would come from areas outside

Septic Tank System Approved For New School at Saugerties

Saugerties Board of Education this week announced it has received permission to discharge the 100 per cent pure effluent from the sewer system of the proposed new school at Blue Mountain into the Plattekill Creek.

The plan, announced at the time the site was purchased, created a storm of protests from area sportsmen's clubs and property owners downstream along the creek.

The sewerage control system for the Grant D Morse Elementary School consisting of a septic tank, several filter beds, clorinator and a lagoon for aeration, was approved by the Bureau of Water Resource Service of the State Health Department.

Architect Albert E. Milliken said this system is one of the few 100 per cent purification plants in the county.

The system is as follows:

After the septic tank liquid is clorinated, it travels through several sub-surface filter beds and eventually flows into a lagoon for aeration to dissipate the chlorine. The 100 per cent pure effluent is then discharged into the Plattekill Creek, the architect said.

Milliken reported that rough grading and preparation of the site at the Grant D. Morse School had been completed and that rock is being removed and the new approach to Washington Avenue graded at the high school.

At the Mount Marion School the roof deck will be completed within the next few days and the building closed in by next week. Concrete is presently being poured. He stated that although he had made numerous contacts with the State Education Department, final approval of plans for the Grant D. Morse School and the high school addition has not been received because of the heavy work load on state personnel.

The board voted adoption of a new policy regarding part-time study at the high school. To be accepted for part-time attendance, a pupil must now be a qualified senior or a candidate for graduation at the end of the school year and must submit a request for part-time attendance. Pupils carrying less than the regular four academic subjects may be required to file a request. Approval will hinge upon results of pupil, parent and teacher conferences and other the alleviation of the nation's current employment problems, which in some localities constitute an emergency."

The Freeman noted June 5 that a housing official had reported recently at Columbus, Ohio that unless Congress acts in the near future, projects involving some 40,000 homes in the nation would have to be shelved, with 400 communities involved

City Reassured

It was felt that this situation might affect projects, such as those in Kingston, which have been in progress for some time, but Yerry's announcement today serves as reassurance to the city that it may proceed. Actual start of the Broadway East project is expected in the fall.

A newsletter of the Association of Housing and Redevelopement Officials, issued May 29, reporting on the "Housing and Community Developement Act of 1964" said: "After early February hearings on the housing bill, no further action has transpired. Reports from the Housing Sub-committees of the House and Senate have not been released. This bill has not appeared among the priority bills listed by the President for passage before Congress adjourns for the nominating conventions. There is increasing discussion about the possibility of an abbreviated bill for 1964, which could contain authorizations for public housing and urban renewal for a one-year period. Such activity would postpone major legislative activity until next year."

No Delay Here

Today's announcement means that Kingston will not be affected by any such delays, if they occur, but more recent applications for federal aid could be.

Long filibustering on civil rights, now ended, it was indicated, has affected the housing bill and others.

Charged With Assault

Charged with third degree assault, Samuel Rotella, Broad Street Hollow, Town of Lexington, pleaded guilty Thursday before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Jenkins, that township. Rotella received a 30-day suspended sentence. The complainant was Eva Storey, Lexington. Troopers L. J. Little and R. P. Tompkins, Leeds sub-station, made the arrest.

Check 3 Car Fires In Kingston City

Firemen checked two automobile fires today and one last night believed to have been caused by cigarettes thrown on rear seats while they were parked.

One reported at 11:43 p. m. Thursday damaged the car of Lester Jansen of 151 Hasbrouck Avenue on Hasbrouck Avenue. Firemen said it was believed to have been started by a cigarette thrown through a window. A unit from Central Station responded to the call.

Another caught fire while it was in the North Front Street parking lot this morning. It was owned by Wheels Inc., of Chicago, and driven by Joseph Graham, of Tivoli, who quenched the blaze with a pail of water and drove it to Wiltwyck Fire Station to be checked.

A call at 12:17 p. m. today was for another car fire on Hoffman Street. Its owner was not immediately determined. The rear seat cushion was damaged. A unit from Central Station responded to the call.

John G. Long, charged with third degree burglary, petit larceny and unlawful entry, sought to be treated as a Youthful Offender. He allegedly entered the Salzmann bakery and Wagner's delicatessen on Broadway last April. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant.

George W. Nace also charged with third degree burglary petit larceny and unlawful entry, was adjudged eligible to be treated as a Youthful Offender and his case was adjourned to July 6. Marshall Lipton appeared for defendant.

Esopus to . . .

of the township. Science and Arts Camps had already received tax-exempt status from the U. S. Internal Revenue Service, the States of New York and Conneticut, and City of New York. Under the circumstances, Esopus Town Board could do little but grant their request, Supervisor Mabie said.

The current request for tax exemption gave further emphasis to the large number of religious and educational institutions that already enjoy tax-exempt status in the Town of Esopus.

It was pointed out that the assessed valuation in Esopus Fire District, one of the town's five fire districts and the one in which most of the present religious and educational institutions are located, is slightly in exeess of $2,000,000, while approximately $1,700,000 of this figure is tax-exempt. Tax exempt properties do not pay general or highway taxes, although they do pay school taxes, fire district and other special district taxes.

At Supervisor Mabie's suggestion, the committee was formed to contact other townships with substantial tax-exempt properties, with a view towards jointly approaching area state legislative representatives for the possible introduction of legislation that would give tax relief or assistance to the townships involved. Area townships with large tax-exempt properties within their boundries are the Town of New Paltz, and the Towns of Hyde Park and Rhinebeck in Dutchess County. The resolution providing for the establishment of the committee was moved by Councilman Sol Rosenthal and the committee appointed consisted of Supervisor Mabie, Councilman Rosenthal and Justice of the Peace Allan S. Dargie.

Formal permission was given to the group attempting to form an Ulster-Dutchess County Natural History Museum to utilize the former West Park School building for museum purposes. The group contemplates the holding of a series of natural history lectures and the setting up of a series of exhibits.

The property was recently acquired by the Town of Esopus by gift from the Highland Central School District. Esopus Town Board feels that it is particularly appropriate for the building to be used for natural history purposes, as John Burroughs,, the famous naturalist, was for years a resident of West Park. A contract to make roof repairs to the building was awarded to B. C. Potter and Sons, Port Ewen.

It was announced that through the kindness of Zale Liese, who provided the available land, the town removed a number of abandoned automobiles from lower Port Ewen and disposed of them by burial. Liese is presently levelling off a tract of land he owns, at the northern end of the village, adjacent to the area from which the old autos were removed.

The report of the audit of the town's records for 1961 and 1962 was received from the State Department of Audit and Control. The only criticisms involved the purchase of fuel oil and water pipe in amounts in excess of $1,000 without competitive bidding and the payment of year end highway vouchers with the next year's tax monies. It was pointed out by the Town Board that the water pipe had been purchased as an emergency measure in 1961 to reach Esopus Lake and had been authorized by the Ulster County Health Department, and that the current highway budget had been increased to prevent a reoccurence of the highway item.

A letter was received from the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers pertaining to the proposed periodic maintenance dredging of Rondout Creek to maintain a 12-foot channel to Eddyville. The board agreed to jointly support the Town of Ulster and the City of Kingston in urging the carrying out of the dredging.

Other items of interest resulting from the meeting will appear in Saturday's Daily Freeman.

State Police . . .

F, will be required under the reorganization, and relocation of at least one other troop headquarters facility will be ncessary.

It was pointed out that the reorganization plan follows closely the recommendations made in 1958-59 of the Division of the Budget's 18-month survey.

Cornelius agreed with Dr. Chandler that at least 3,500 men will be needed to carry out the reorganization. The superintendent said about 3,000 uniformed men and another 500 men in the Bureau of Criminal Investigation will make up the new personnel.

The eighth troop will be added in two to four years, the superintendent stated. The ninth troop will become a reality thereafter.

Former Area Man Picked Up for Parole Violation

Local FBI agents today said they had been notified that Burgell Thomas Krow, 33, who had lived for some time in the Kingston and Saugerties areas, and who was wanted for violation of his "conditional release" from a federal prison, is in custody at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Krow was sentenced in Minneapolis, Minn., on May 16, 1961 to three years for car theft involving the crossing of state lines and was committed to the federal prison at Danbury, Conn. His maximum term would have extended into this year, but for good behavior, and other considerations, he was released Aug. 22, 1963.

His parole status immediately after release from prison involved federal parole officers in the Saugerties area. On Sept. 16, 1963, this was changed to permit him to go to Massachusetts. The new arrangement was violated, and a federal parole violation warrant was issued on Nov. 4, 1963.

Reports earlier this year said Krow had been seen in the Kingston area and all area police were notified.

An FBI notice bearing his description and other details cautioned police that the "Subject has a very extensive criminal record, which includes numerous escapes from custody."

Local FBI agents were notified by a Washington, D. C. teletype message that Krow had been taken into custody by FBI agents at Daytona Beach, June 9. He was to be returned to prison.

Boys Held for Thefts To Build Sailing Raft

Two boys, who police said, built a raft from wood and steel pieces allegedly taken from the junk yard of B. Millen's & Sons, East Strand, were apprehended by sheriff's deputies on the Sleightsburgh side of the Rondout Creek.

Police were notified at 8:55 p. m. that the boys were sailing in the creek on the raft, and Officers John Crespino and Anthony Turck were dispatched to investigate. They reported that the boys, who are juveniles, had sailed across the creek.

The sheriff's office was notified and the boys were apprehended by deputy sheriffs Ronald Dietz and Cyrus Countryman and were brought to police headquarters for questioning.

Several incidents of theft and vandalism at the Millens property have been reported within the past few months, and it was reported today that hundreds of windows have been broken in buildings there during the past two years.

Tri-Mount Opens July 5

Registration PointsTo Big Scout Year

With only a few weeks to go until opening day, registration at the Tri-Mount Scout Reservation in East Jewett is building up to be the biggest ever. Camp Tri-Mount, owned and operated by the Rip Van Wingle Council, BSA, for Scouts in Ulster and Greene Counties, can accommodate up to 170 Scouts and Leaders each week during the six-week season. With some 850 boy-weeks already registered in advance, it appears likely that the 1964 attendance will exceed even last year's record-breaking 906 boy-weeks.

The camp will open Sunday, July 5.

Lists Improvements

Henry P. Eighmey of Kingston, camping chairman for the Rip Van Winkle Council, has announced that there will be several major improvements in the physical facilities at Tri-Mount this summer. Chief among these are a shower-house for campers where hot showers will be available, and a new swimming dock at the waterfront. Also, the new rifle range east of the Moseman House is rapidly taking shape, under the direction of Sherwood F. Lasher, of Kingston. It is expected that the new range will be ready for use by camp-opening time, even if not completed in all details. Additionally, the new dining hall, used for the first time in 1963, has had several additions and refinements in the intervening months, and is now virtually completed. The Nature Lodge addition, which doubles the work area of the lodge, is being constructed by Harry Slobodian of Saugerties, and will be ready for use by opening day.

Camp Director John Vliet, of Catskill, has announced that the complete camp staff has been hired, except for the cook's helper. Program Director Stewart Glenn, of New Paltz, and Waterfront Director-Chaplain Donald Spencer, of Wilbraham, Mass., are attending the National Camping School from June 7 to 13. This school is conducted by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the Schiff Scout Reservation, National Training Center in Mendham, N. J.

Others on Staff

The remainder of the staff for 1964 is as follows: Provisional Scoutmasters, Clement Hulick of Greenville and Richard Nixdorf of Woodstock; Nature Director, Andrew Davidson of West Hurley; Nature Assistant, Robert Kelly of Kingston; Campcraft Director, John Mullaney of Saugerties; Campcraft Assistant, Jerome White of Poughkeepsie; Activities Director, William Daum of Kingston; Activities Assistants, Michael Atkins of Centerville and Robert Petery of Highland.

Assistant Waterfront Director, Michael Angstrom of Kingston; Waterfront Assistants, Peter Wells and James Winslow of Kingston, and Donald Decker of Catskill; Trading Post Director, George Loucks of East Jewett; Camp Clerk and Assistant Storekeeper, David Pelham of Catskill; Ranger-Driver, Douglas Eighmey of Kingston.

Returning for his fifth season as chef will be James Garland of Albany. Dining hall steward will be Bruce Safford of Kingston. Kitchen Assistants are Michael Van De Mark of Kingston and Henry Weiss of Catskill.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JUNE 12, 1964

DISPLAY THE FLAG

Sunday, June 14 the entire nation will pause to observe the 187th birthday of the American Flag, which was adopted in 1777.

While the observance is nation-wide, Flag Day has a special significance in New York State for it was at Fort Stanwix in Rome, New York, according to tradition, that the red, white and blue colors were first raised in battle, during the American Revolution. And it was in New York that the first official public observance of Flag Day was proclaimed by a state official in 1897. That year, the Governor ordered the display of "Old Glory" over all the public buildings in the state, leading the way to national recognition of our flag's birthday.

Meeting in Philadelphia, the Continental Congress adopted this resolution: "That the flag of the United States shall be of 13 stripes of alternate red and white with a union of 13 stars of white in a blue field, representing the new constellation.

Every citizen should participate in this important historical event—the showing of our devotion to the national emblem—by displaying the flag. It is a public manifestation of respect to those who sacrificed and suffered to keep it flying.

Because of its spiritual values, which the flag symbolizes for all Americans, it should be shown with pride and reverence on Sunday.

ELECTION REPORTING

The "California question" still hovers in the background as the nation girds itself for the party conventions and the big election showdown in November:

Did the broadcasting of a computer decision of a Goldwater victory in the primary more than a half hour before polls closed in Rockefeller-strong northern California, have an effect on the voting? If so, was it good or bad?

The consensus of both Republicans and Democrats seems to be that it had a definite influence, and that it wasn't good.

Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Tex., chairman of the House sub-committee on communications, fears that the combination of increasingly rapid returns from the polls and the three-hour time differential between East and West coasts could create "a very serious situation" in national elections.

He suggests, cautiously, the possibility of some kind of legislation controlling election reporting, but prefers the broadcasting industry to come up with its own solution.

The big problem is California, which as long ago as 1916 overturned the presidential election decision of the East. In 1960, news media had declared John F. Kennedy president while Californians were still going to the polls.

Whether this had anything to do with Nixon's victory in California, electronic computing and predicting and reporting will pose even more of an unknown quantity in 1964.

And now that California has only two less electoral votes than New York—only nine less than the eight New England states combined—its role as kingmaker, or breaker, is further enhanced.

Restrictions on election return reporting or predicting, which would involve questions of free speech and press, as well as natural human emotions, do not seem feasible. Neither does a suggestion that East and West split the time difference — the East opening and closing its polls later, the West earlier.

Maybe Californians ought to vote on Monday, the day before the rest of the country, with the vote count withheld.

Then on Tuesday evening, after the other states had elected the new president, the California surprise package could be opened to see who really did win.

WHO'S READY TO SUE THE SENATE?

Williamsburg, Va. — Senator Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota has proposed a simple and effective way of ending filibusters against civil rights or whatever in the United States Senate. Just let the U. S. Supreme Court proclaim them unconstitutional.

This idea, which sounds so startling, was seriously proposed here in Williamsburg by the Senator in a talk before the annual Williamsburg International Assembly of foreign graduate students of American universities. The Senator based his proposal on the wording of the Constitution, which does not direct the Senate to apply the two-thirds rule to a vote on shutting off debate. If the Founding Fathers had intended a two-thirds vote to sanction cloture, so the Senator says, they would have said as much, just as they did in specifying a two-thirds vote in the case of ratifying treaties with foreign governments.

The Senator's theory that any citizen could bring suit to force the Senate to apply majority rule save in constitutionally enumerated exceptions is certainly a novel one. It would raise the hackles of a lot of people who would see in it an unwarranted judicial intrusion on the Senate's right to make its own rules. But McCarthy notes that the Supreme Court, in the legislative reapportionment and redistricting cases, has interfered with the rights of the states to set their own voting qualifications and procedures. If the Warren Court did not boggle over telling state legislatures what they must do, it might not be averse to applying its philosophical principles to the U. S. Senate.

The Senator, of course, has good reason under the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution for making his proposal. For the Tenth Amendment reserves to the states, or to the citizens, all rights and powers that are not specifically delegated to the Federal government. And the Constitution, when it provided for the exception of a two-thirds vote on treaty ratifications, clearly implied that a simple majority vote in the Senate should be enough to pass an ordinary law or deal with an ordinary situation.

What the Senator does not reckon with, however, is that if the Tenth Amendment were ever to be taken seriously again by the Supreme Court, it might be invoked by litigaiton-happy citizens to reverse much New Deal and post-New Deal legislation and also some of the Supreme Court's own recent decisions. For example, the Constitution is silent on the educational practices of the states. Strict construction of the Tenth Amendment would certainly permit a local Virginia county to shut down its public schools if it were so minded. Strict construction of the Tenth Amendment would permit Connecticut and Colorado to determine their own geographical representation in local legislatures.

It was suggested to Senator McCarthy that, if a citizen were to bring suit against the U. S. Senate for infringing upon his rights by denying the application of majority rule to shutting off debate on such topics as civil rights, the government might fall back on the old argument that it does not have to recognize suits against itself. But when a newspaper reporter for the Hartford Courant in Connecticut brought suit to compel reapportionment in his home state, the action was accepted as valid. Senator McCarthy thinks it entirely possible that a suit to compel the U. S. Senate to abide by majority decisions save in the case of an enumerated exception would have to be accepted in court.

The Senator professed to foresee a great clamor in favor of his proposition in case the present proposed civil rights legislation is vitiated by an unwillingness on the part of one-third of the Senate to apply cloture. (Of course, Mr. McCarthy's plan would be available again if a filibuster recurs.) But the clamor against his idea would certainly be strong in the South, which continues to think that some mechanism for applying the old John C. Calhoun regional "concurrent veto" is a necessity if differing cultures are to be happily reconciled. The two-thirds rule on cloture, whether it is constitutionally legal or not, represents the last lingering stand of the old states' rights theory. It would be a queer irony if the states old shield and buckler of the Tenth Amendment were to be used to do the two-thirds rule on cloture in.

54 Years of Calisthenics Keep Him Physically Fit

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I am now 80 years old and I still take two 20-minute periods of calisthenics every day. Back in 1910, I started brushing myself all over every day with a stiff brush. Is this harmful?

A—I assume that the stiff brush you have been using for 54 years is not a wire brush. I don't believe it could be very harmful or you would have found reason to give it up years ago. The calisthenics are an important aid to fitness and the brushing can stimulate the circulation of the skin if it is not overdone. Since rubbing with a Turkish towel will accomplish the same purpose and is less likely to injure the skin, you might want to consider switching.

Q—I am a housewife, 22 years old. About two years ago my toenails started to become thick and hard. What could cause this?

A—The toenails are much more likely to become thickened than the fingernails. In some persons this is an inherited trait. In others, wearing shoes that are too short may be the cause, especially if the nails are not kept trimmed. When outward growth of the nails is thus impeded the nails tend to become thick and to curve downward.

Q—What is chondrodystrophy?

A—Chondrodystrophy or achondroplasia means that the bones of the arms and legs are very short but the rest of the skeleton is of normal proportions. The victim is a type of dwarf as opposed to the midget who is abnormally small, but perfectly formed. Since chondrodystrophy is usually an inherited characteristic, there can be no corrective treatment. A child with this type of dwarfism is normal mentally, but is likely to suffer a lot of teasing from thoughtless playmates. He will, moreover, need realistic guidance in planning his future as an adult.

Q—I am bothered with gouty arthritis. Can you give me a list of foods that will help to control this disease?

A—For you it is not so much a matter of eating certain foods as meats, especially glandular cuts (kidney, liver, sweetbreads); meat extracts (bouillon cubes); fish, including shellfish. (caviar and shad roe are permitted); fowl and lentils. There is danger—but to a lesser degree—in asparagus, cauliflower, kidney beans, navy beans, lima beans, mushrooms, spinach, rye bread graham crackers, whole wheat bread, shredded wheat and wheat flakes.

These items should be taken sparingly. All other foods can be taken as desired.

The News Isn't All Bad

Washington News

BY BRUCE BIOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Defeated though he may now be, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York has brought to the Republican political scene one of the most warmly admired and respected men ever to move about on the campaign trail.

He is George L. Hinman, 58, the governor's top political associate, New York Republican national committeeman, lawyer, holder of many Rockefeller portfolios.

Hard-crusted party professionals speak of Hinman above all as a man of unexampled quality — gentlemanly, diplomatic, fair and straight in his dealings, knowledgeable, and incredibly hard working. Some suggest they have never quite seen his equal in politics.

Rockefeller, hearing frequent complaint that his camp in 1959-60 lacked a real grasp of national party politics, commissioned Hinman in 1961 to correct the situation.

THIS LAWYER FROM BINGHAMTON thereupon set out on an almost continuous round of political travels across the country, attending every important party meeting no matter where held, joining in fund-raising dinners, shaking hands with hundreds of politicians.

This undertaking quickly turned George Hinman into one of the most proficient professionals in the nation. And, until the moment of the governor's remarriage in May, 1963, it had so prepared the groundwork that Rockefeller's nomination for the presidency this year was taken for granted in many circles.

Says a man who observes Hinman closely:

"He is carrying around in his head the most complete information on major party political figures ever put together in this country."

FROM THE OUTSET, no matter what his immediate purpose, Hinman made it a practice never to move into any territory without first calling on and making accommodation with the party regulars there. This is one of his most admired habits.

A former Wisconsin GOP chairman, Claude Jasper, once dreamed up this incident to express his appreciation:

"George and the governor are flying over my state in a twin-engined aircraft. An engine conks out. The plane is faltering badly. But Hinman radios me, requesting permission to land."

Hinman's close associates say he has built a prodigious file of written material on personalities, party structure, strategic situations and other matters. He pours out this information to secretaries in brief pauses between trips.

EVEN THOUGH Rockefeller's remarriage sent his nomination prospects plummeting, Hinman carried doggedly on, laboring to set up in state after state an organization which many politicians—including numerous Rockefeller adversaries—consider high grade.

He suffered many slings in the dark months before Rockefeller finally triumphed in the Oregon primary. Then for a time it looked as if his long concentration on California would be rewarded. When defeat came for the governor, it was also a very hard blow for Hinman.

No cue yet exists as to Rockefeller's next moves in the 1964 nomination fight now so close to being won by Sen. Barry Goldwater. Whatever is done, George Hinman will be in the thick of it.

A good many politicians around the nation wish he could be in the thick of important Republican party endeavors for a long time to come.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson undoubtedly would rather have Robert F. Kennedy decide to run for the United States Senate from New York State than to be confronted with the necessity of picking the Attorney General as the Vice-Presidential nominee. All Washington has been gossiping about the problem for many weeks now, but it is becoming clear that until it is definitely established that the President will not request the Attorney General to be his running mate, Mr. Kennedy will keep an open mind on making the race in New York State. There are political complications both ways. If, for instance, Mr. Kennedy is selected as the Vice-Presidential nominee, he will help the Johnson cause in some states but possibly alienate voters in others. This is because he has been the center of the controversy on civil rights.

It has long been assumed here that Mr. Johnson would not ask the Attorney General to become his running mate unless he needed him for election. In other words, many of the Johnson supporters think that at present the disadvantages would outweigh the advantages, and the feeling in Administration circles is that Mr. Johnson isn't going to ask the Attorney General to be on the ticket.

But even if Mr. Kennedy decides to run for the Senate from New York State, it could have some bearing on the Presidential race in that area. The civil-rights controversy has left its imprint on New York State, and there seems no question that there will be a large "crossover" vote from the Democratic party if the civil-rights issue is dramatized by the entrance of Mr. Kennedy in the race.

It is true that the incumbent New York Senator, Kenneth B. Keating, R., has also been a staunch supporter of civil rights, but he has not been directly involved in as many activities in that field as Attorney General Kennedy.

It will come as a surprise to many people that someone who has not been a resident of the State of New York would even consider the possibility of trying to represent in the United States Senate such a populous state. Undoubtedly in opposition to the idea, the campaigners for Sen. Keating will be heard singing to the voters of the state the song of the salesmen in "The Music Man," the refrain of which is, "But he doesn't know the territory, he doesn't know the territory."

Under the Constitution, of course, it isn't necessary for a candidate to be a resident of the state which he seeks to represent in Congress. Pierre Salinger has just won the Democratic nomination for Senator in California, although he has not lived there for a long time.

The British have a system which permits would-be-candidates for Parliment to look over all the districts and choose any one in which to run. The government requires a deposit of around $500, however, beforehand so as to prevent people who are not serious candidates from entering the race. If a candidate gets more than one-eighth of the votes, he has his deposit returned to him.

In this country, there have been a few instances in which individuals have moved from one state to another and entered politics, but usually after several years of residence in the state.

It could be, of course, that Mr. Kennedy figures that, if he becomes a United States Senator, he will have a better chance for the Presidency in 1968 in the event that President Johnson chooses not to run that year. The latter is, however, eligible for two elected terms in addition to the 14 months he will have served in filling out the Presidential term of his predecessor.

It seems illogical for Attorney General Kennedy to give up the idea of becoming a vice presidential candidate at the national convention and run instead for the U. S. Senate unless he is absolutely sure he has no chance of getting the President's assent to be his running mate. Mr. Johnson might prefer to avoid a lot of controversy inside his party by taking someone else for the second place on the ticket—for instance, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Minn. This, however, is not likely to satisfy the ardent and almost fanatical worshippers of the Kennedy name. They feel that there ought to be another of the many memorials to the late President and that this should be accomplished by nominating his brother as vice president, and thus put him in line for the presidency in the future.

It is speculated also that there could be another Kennedy administration either after Mr. Johnson has served two full terms or in the event that he became physically incapacitated beforehand. Bobby Kennedy is only 38 years old now, however, and can afford to wait a decade or so for political fortune to give him his chance to become President.

BY HAL COCHRAN

It's dangerous to be a two-car family if the second car is driven by a reckless, speeding teen-ager.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

What is Vietnam? I wish I knew. The newspaper have been full of stories about it but someone forgot to tell us what it is, why it is, and how we can tell the Good Guys from the Bad Guys without a scorecard. I am possessed of a vague uneasiness that America feels that the place is worth fighting for, but the Vietnamese don't.

There is a North Vietnam and a South Vietnam. The North fights for Communism. The South runs from Democracy. The old Nhu family used to govern South V.N., but they alienated the Buddhists, and monks began to burn themselves to death sitting in the streets of Saigon. Soon, no Nhus became good Nhus.

Parts of the place were once called Annam, Cochin-China and Tonkin. It had more names than an oriental confidence man. It was also French Into-China. Its neighbor, Thailand, used to be Siam. This is confusing. On the same peninsula are countries named Cambodia and Laos—pronounced louse—which is libelous English.

South Vietnam has an area of 66,280 square miles, and a populatiodn of 15,500,000. The capital is Saigon, with a population of 1,400,000. North Vietnam has an area of 60,156 square miles, and a population of 17,000,000. The capital is Hanoi, with a population of 643,576. Both sides call themselves Republics and, as both are lying, this explains the whole war.

Both grow rubber and rice, and import four times as much as they export. The North is clearly superior in two departments: famines and females. No matter how hard the North Vietnamese try, they always end up with 70 more females per thousand population. This leads to chronic irritation in the jungle. The men sell the rice and eat the rubber. As a result, they become hungry and more warlike.

All governments in Southeast Asia are established to be overthrown. The strongest is always described as "tottering." The American government remedies this by sending helicopters. The choppers fly up and down the jungle. This gives the Vietnam soldiers something to shoot at, because they are averse to shooting at each other.

In Laos, there is something called the Pathet Lao. It has a small army which fights for Communism. On the Plain of Jars, Pathet Lao fought a battle with a big democratic army headed by General Kong Le. The big democratic army dropped its American guns and ran. To save face, Kong Le demanded more American arms. He needs them, he said, for the next retreat.

All of this is comprehensive t- the New York Times, which says: "It took the United States several years to learn that, despite all the weapons and advice it provided for the right-wing forces, there was no military solution to the war against the Pathet Lao."

This is not quite true. Senator Barry Goldwater, an old saber rattler, is in favor of knocking the foliage off the Southeast Asia trees with small friendly atomic bombs. This would pluck the leaves off, mow the lawns, and, at the same time, give our nervous helicopter pilots an opportunity to see who is shooting at them.

It wouldn't hurt anybody much, and it would raise the morale of the chopper chicks. Come to think of it, the U. S. is spending more than one million dollars a day in this war to keep from hurting anybody. As in Korea, we cannot win it and we dare not lose it. A young widow in San Antonio weeps that her husband died "for nothing." True.

China wants all of Southeast Asia. Mao can't feed his 700,000,000 mouths, and wants more starving millions he cannot feed. Sound like a paradox? Don't be silly. It's as logical as America fighting to feed the same million, when it has already promised to fight poverty on the home front.

Would you have us take the same money and blood and put it into a fight for Cuba? Ridiculous. Cuba is in our front yard. If we're going to fight, it must be on the other side of the world for people who have no yen to fight. We can live with Communism next door, but we can't stand it next door to China.

I once knew an old Vietnamese who was never sure what he was because he couldn't read the newspapers. He said he was Indo-Chinese, although privately he told me he thought he was nuts. "Imagine leaving land where more pretty women than men," he used to shout. "Har har. Me nuts."

Still, he loved America. His name was Dong Dong, and he had long silken whiskers which swayed if you blew on them. He used to dust my office, humming "Life Is Just a Bowl of Rice" but the song never came out even. As a joke, he used to rewrite Chinese laundry tickets.

One day he left to start a little war in Cambodia. I haven't seen him since, although we carry on a lively correspondence between my home and his jail. Recently, I asked him to stop referring to my countrymen as the "inscrutable Americans" and to tell me what we should do about Vietnam.

He wrote back angrily: "Vietnam? Who he?"

Bradley Meadows Committee Moves to Preserve Open Site

The newly formed Committee Bradley Meadows is expected to explore the possibility of prefor the Preservation of the serving the meadow at tonight's open meeting at the Woodstock Playhouse at 8 p. m.

The committee, numbering more than 200 and headed by Alf Evers, town historian, as chairman, hopes that some way be found in cooperation with the new owners to keep the meadow forever free.

One member of the committee, speaking as an individual, has suggested that money be raised by public subscription to purchase the site from its new owner, Attorney Howard C. St. John of Kingston. Under this plan the property would be deeded to the town to remain forever open.

Lease Unconfirmed

It has been confirmed that the A&P is interested in the site for a supermarket but it is not known if the food chain has signed a lease with St. John.

The committee points out that the historic meadow offers a magnificent, unobstructed view of Overlook Mountain and many Woodstockers who value the natural beauty and charm of the town deplore the possibility of a large commercial development on this site. It was this feeling that prompted this group of concerned people to form the committee.

Edgar Rosenblum, owner of the Woodstock Playhouse is acting as temporary vice chairman. It was decided that a public meeting to discuss this matter which is of vital interest to the community was of great importance.

All persons who have an interest in this matter are urged to come to the meeting and contribute their ideas. The original committee has grown to include several hundred names.

The Woodstock Township Chamber of Commerce last night voted unanimously to endorse the principle that the Bradley Meadows be preserved forever as open space in Woodstock village.

The unanimous vote on a resolution offered by Alvin Moscowitz and seconded by Irving Kalish came after a lengthy discussion.

Mrs. Sylvia Kondolf, editor of the Woodstock Week who has been prominently identified with the move, made a strong appeal for Chamber action and urged that the organization be represented in strength at tonight's public meeting at the Woodstock Playhouse.

Mrs. Kondolf said that while the Chamber of Commerce is committed to the encouragement and attraction of industry and commerce in its by-laws, the Bradley Meadows was something apart. She called it a "special place" in the history and tradition of Woodstock.

In another resolution, the Chamber reaffirmed the principle, as embodied in the by-laws, that it encourage the promotion of commerce and industry in suitable sites in the community.

The Chamber secretary, Richard O. Langham, was instructed to write the A&P company and Howard C. St. John, Kingston attorney who now owns Bradley Meadows, informing them of the Chamber's action.

Mrs. Kenyon New SPCA Secretary

Mrs. Wellington Kenyon of Woodstock was elected secretary of the Ulster County SPCA at the recent annual election meeting.

Mrs. James Stoutenburgh of Glenford was named president; Mrs. Frances Stokes, New Paltz, vice president; and Miss Margaret Johnson, Kingston, treasurer.

The treasurer reported that the rummage sale held in Weisberg's store and the recent cake sales were great successes.

Plans were announced for the annual dinner at Kurta's. Many valuable prizes will be awarded at this time.

Mrs. Jean Mack was congratulated for her devotion and efficient care of the SPCA shelter. The secretary will be happy to accept donations or to answer any inquiries regarding the SPCA.

Methodist Church Plans Trip to Fair

The big news at the Overlook Methodist Church this week is the MYF-sponsored bus trip to New York World's Fair. According to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vredenburg, MYF advisors, some seats are still available on the bus.

The bus will leave the Methodist church hall at 7 a. m. for New York and leave the Fair for the return trip at 10 p. m. Participants will furnish their own Fair ticket.

Reservations must be made by June 15. Persons interested in joining the bus trip on Wednesday, July 8, should contact Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vredenburg or any member of the MYF.

EDWARD FRODERMAN

Edward Froderman was named president at the Christian Science Annual Meeting in Boston, June 8. Several thousand members traveled to attend the meeting held in The Mother Church, First Church of Christ, Scientist. The new president was once vice president of a Chicago bank, but resigned 15 years ago to enter the public practice of Christian Science healing. He is currently a trustee of the Christian Science Publishing Society.

Further Answers For OCS Budget

The following is a continuation of a question and answer forum conducted by Superintendent of Schools Dr. George R. Sullivan of Onteora Central with respect to the June 16 re-vote on the $2,696,435 school budget for 1964-65:

Question—Can a taxpgayer of the district vote on the budget June 16 if he lives outside the district and votes at general elections outside the district?

Answer—No. A 1934 opinion of the Attorney General states: "Persons having residence in a city where they vote at general elections, cannot also claim residence in a school district outside the city where they own property, as a person can have only one residence or domicile, which is the place of permanent residence or home." The above opinion was later confirmed by court decision in 1953.

Question — What can the Board of Education do if the budget is defeated again?

Answer—It has three choices: a) change the budget and call for another vote after 25 days; b) re-submit the same budget after a waiting period of 25 days; c) levy a tax without voter approval to operate the schools under an "austerity budget."

Question—What is an austerity budget?

Answer—An austerity budget is that budget for which the state authorizes local boards to levy taxes without voter approval. The state prohibits certain services without voter approval including: providing for textbooks, transportation for children living less than 2 miles (grades K-8) and 3 miles (grades 9-12) from the school they attend or less than the same distances to main bus routes, transportation for after school activities, cafeteria, purchase of certain new equipment and some minor items.

New Circus Date Set for July 3

The Woodstock Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced a new date (July 3) for the circus it will sponsor in Woodstock this year. The Von Brothers 3-ring circus will bring to Woodstock a strong 3-ring performance than ever before with a full band and a wild animal menagerie with many new animals, including a hippopotamus.

The Friday date wil have two performances, at 3 p. m. and 8 p. m. Doors and menagerie open at 2 and 7 p. m. Everyone is invited to visit the circus grounds early and see the "Big Top" raised with the aid of the elephants.

The Jaycees urge everyone to purchase their tickets early. Profits from the advance ticket sale will be used to support Jaycee activities for the coming year, including youth recreational programs.

Tickets are on sale at Schneider's and the News Shop on the Village Green. Any Jaycee may be contacted for tickets and additional ticket sales booths will be set up in the town during the week preceding the show.

Great Steel Skeleton Going Up Will Be Moonport for U.S.

BY HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —Rising from the swamplands of Cape Kennedy is a great steel skeleton which is being forged into the world's largest building.

More important than its size, however, is that this structure will be the assembly area for the giant Saturn 5 rockets which will ferry American astronauts to the moon.

The Vertical Assembly Building—VAB—will not be the tallest structure ever built. At its high est point, 524 feet, it will be less than half the height of the Empire State Building.

But the VAB will measure 710 feet long and 513 feet wide. These dimensions will enclose 125 million cubic feet, making it the biggest man-made structure, from the standpoint of volume, anywhere.

Dwarfs Some Records

It will dwarf the present record holders—the great Pyramid of Cheops in Egypt, 96 million cubic feet; and the Pentagon, 77 million.

When completed in 1966, the VAB will be the dominant featured of the sprawling $750-million moonport the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is constructing here for manned lunar flights starting late in this decade.

The price tag on the VAB is more than $100 million.

Designing required the combined work of 200 engineers from four New York firms.

Max O. Urbahn, head of one of the firms, said: "The paperwork alone was monumental. Approximately 2,500 separate drawings were submitted. The final specifications, drawn up and duplicated for the firms who bid on the construction, took a train carload to deliver from the printer."

Slick Polished Box

"As an architectural structure," Urbahn said, "the VAB will be little more than a slick, polished box covering eight acres.

"Inside the box it is somewhat more interesting, with whole buildings hanging from its sides, some of them moving up and down and in and out like suspended file drawers, mating with one another to form still other buildings within buildings to house the space vehicles."

Many of these smaller buildings are enclosed, air-conditioned, dust-free work platforms which are shaped like halfmoons on one side so they will fit snugly against the side of the Saturn 2 rockets and Apollo spacecraft.

Four 400-foot-tall rockets and spacecraft can be checked simultaneously as they stand upright in the VAB.

Engineering problems included designing the huge building, which does not have regularly spaced floors inside as reinforcement, to withstand hurricane winds and the tremendous pressure and noise created by Saturn 5 rockets blasting off from launching pads 3.5 miles away; constructing four doors, each 460 feet high, through which the assembled rockets will pass, and airconditioning.

Had to Be Anchored

"We were faced with the fascinating possibility that the shape of the building might make it react like an immense box kite and blow away in high wind. We had to design pile foundations that would prevent that," Urbahn said.

Construction of the VAB began with a process called surcharging.

Sand was dredged up from the nearby Banana River by the Army Corps of Engineers an piled to a depth of 46 feet over the eight-acre site. The weight of this so-called surcharge bore down on the soggy swampland, squeezing out the water and firming the ground for foundation footings.

Pile drivers hammered 4,225 steel tubes, each 16 inches in diameter, into the bedrock 150 to 170 feet below the surface.

The steel anchor was capped by concrete to form the foundation for the VAB. Early this year, workmen began erecting the framework, which will require 50,000 tons of steel.

Once the steel skeleton is complete, it will be enclosed by more than a million square feet of corrugated aluminum siding.

Everything about the VAB is big. Its purpose, a link between man and the moon, is even bigger.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Europe's struggles with prosperity's problems could spread to the United States.

The immediate troubles in Europe, and the distant threats here, are inflationary price increases and rising interest rates to fight them. Both are children of Europe's fast economic expansion and spreading consumer prosperity.

Placid as the U.S. monetary position looks today, Europe's moves to fight inflation by raising interest rates could roil American waters.

U.S. Investors Anxious

This is because much of our recent gains in bringing our international monetary transactions into better balance have been due to keeping idle investment money at home. Now, as Europe's interest rates go up, so does the yen of investors to reach for the higher yields abroad.

Europe's battle with inflation now contrasts with the slow rise in prices here in recent years. The rash of rising interest rates abroad of late contrasts with the stability here. American monetary authorities have been able to hold short-term rates high enough to keep money at home, and long-term rates low enough to encourage the economic growth which has become the national goal.

Part of the success is due to international monetary pacts preventing big swings of capital from nation to nation, which would upset currency exchanges and threaten another run on U.S. gold reserves. These international agreements are now being put to the test.

The Rates Abroad

This week the National Bank of Denmark has increased to 6½ per cent from 5½ per cent its charges on loans to commercial banks. Last week the bank rate in the Netherlands went to 4½ per cent from 4 per cent. Earlier in the year the British bank rate was jumped to 5 per cent from 4 per cent. Swiss and German interest rates have advanced. Italy is expected to make a similar move to fight inflation there.

The comparable U.S. Federal Reserve discount rate still holds at 3½ per cent.

The link between rising prices and interest rates is that by hiking bank charges business booms are discouraged, along with consumer eagerness to borrow to buy goods.

Income Up

LONDON (AP)—White collar pay averages 22 pounds 2 shillings 2 pence ($61.90) a week in Britain, the last survey by the Ministry of Labor shows. The October, 1963, figure was 4.8 per cent higher than the previous year and 22.4 per cent higher than the 1959 average.

S. Howard Evans Dies

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—S. Howard Evans, executive director of urban affairs for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, died Thursday in North Side Hospital. He was 61.

Evans was working in nearby New Castle, Pa., when he became ill last Saturday and was hospitalized.

He had been with the Chamber of Commerce for five years and lived in Washington, D.C.

Funeral services and burial will be in Rome, N.Y., where Evans was born.

Queens Recount Gives Barry 3rd Supporter

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A close contest in Queens appears to have given Sen. Barry Goldwater a third suppporter in New York's delegation to the Republican national convention.

Vincent J. Leibell Jr., head of the Goldwater - for - President organization in the state, apparently has defeated Chester Schwimmer, who backed Rockefeller, in a recount. Schwimmer originally had been listed as the winner.

The recount has not been completed officially, but Schwimmer said Thursday his own inquiries satisfied him Leibell had won.

Leibell did not attend a meeting of the 92-member delegation here yesterday, but his name was on an official list of delegates.

Two other Goldwater delegates were named in the June 2 primary, one in Erie County and the other in Nassau County.

Saturn Booster Is Success in Test, Chrysler Product

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The eight engines of the first industry-produced Saturn Roman I space booster roared for 143 seconds without a hitch Thursday in a full-duration static test firing at the Marshall Space Flight Center.

The huge booster was built by the Chrysler Corp. at the Michoud operations plant in New Orleans.

The booster, the SI-8, produced 1.5 million pounds of thrust. It is almost identical to six Saturns which previously made successful flights from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

It will now be transported to the cape where it is expected to launch a giant meteoroid detection satellite early in 1965.

Will Invite Russia

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—The Soviet Union will be invited to participate in ceremonies marking the 100th anniversary of the United States' purchase of Alaska from Russia.

The centennial occurs in 1967.

The invitation will be extended by Paul Greimann of Fairbanks, who plans to visit Moscow in July.

Grave of Indian Scout Can Not Be Located

HOBART, Okla. (AP)—The remains of Kiowa Indian Chief Big Bow, an ex-Army scout who died in 1901, were sought in vain Thursday by 25 persons, a helicopter, a road grader and a metal detector.

A reburial ceremony was interrupted Tuesday when the grave couldn't be found. The remains of the old chief were to have been transferred to Ft. Sill for military rites.

If the grave can be found, Chief Big Bow will be buried in the Ft. Sill post cemetery alongside Hunting Horse, who served under him as a Ft. Sill scout.

Different With Sharpe

NEW YORK (AP) — In Ian Fleming mystery fiction, James Bond, ace British secret agent, bears the code number 007, identifying him as an agent authorized to kill in the line of duty.

In the U.S. Army everyone also has a job code number, his MOS (military occupation specialty).

Pfc. John Sharpe of Montgomery, Ala., stationed at Ft. Totten here, wondered what the Army meaning of 007 is and looked it up.

It's a Women's Army Corps basic trainee.

Swede Gets Life Term for Spying, NATO His Target

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) —Col. Stig Wennerstrom of the Swedish air force was sentenced to life in prison today for spying against Sweden for the Soviet Union.

The sentence, Sweden's most severe in peacetime, was handed down 10 days before Soviet Premier Khruchev is due in Stockholm on a visit.

When Wennerstrom was arrested a year ago, Premier Tage Erlander said relations between Sweden and the Soviet Union had been seriously disturbed by the case. But recently he declined to comment when asked how this might affect Khrushchev's visit.

Wennerstrom, 57, was arrested after 14 years of espionage activities in Moscow, Washington and Stockholm.

His activity was mainly directed against the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, he said.

Wennerstrom received notice of the sentence from the Central Criminal Court in a special steel and concrete prison "bunker" in which he has been kept since a suicide attempt.

He will be eligible for parole after 10 years.

Dear Abby . . .

The Tramp And The Lady!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: With reference to the letter about why a man, who has a lady for a wife, will pick up a tramp and treat her like a lady, and then will turn around and treat his wife like a tramp:

Some time ago you stated in the confidential section of your column: "The worse a man's morals are, the better he wants his wife's to be." How do you reconcile the two answers?

MRS. A.

DEAR MRS. A.: A man whose morals are low wants his wife's morals to be high, but he prefers a tramp for a sweetheart because he has a feeling of worthlessness and inferiority with his wife—but not with the tramp. And because a man treats his wife like a tramp does not mean he wants her to behave like one. Married men who cheat with tramps have no desire to marry one. Comprende?

• • • • •

DEAR ABBY: I am so unhappy I hardly know where to start. I am a middle-aged woman employed as a cook, housekeeper, companion and chauffeur to the most selfish, heartless woman I have ever known. She expects me to eat leftovers that should go into the garbage can. She finds fault with everything I do. When she is going out I have to help her dress, which is a chore, because she tries on a dozen dresses before deciding what to wear, and I have to tell her how "beautiful" she looks in every one or she gets mad. On my day off she lays in bed watching TV all day, and I have to prepare all her meals and put them within her reach. She is not an invalid. She plays golf. When she goes out I have to stay up and dressed to let her in, lock up the house and undress her and put her clothes away. She is a millionairess, but she goes around the house in a quilted robe with the heat turned off to save fuel. Once she made a toll call for me and took 15c out of my wages. Jobs are not easy to find. What should I do?

MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: If you remain with this woman, you do not deserve much sympathy. Jobs may not be "easy" to find, but if I were you I'd start looking for another one tomorrow. You could hardly do worse.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WANTS TO BE POPULAR": It is better to sit home for a few weeks—or months—than to date boys who want only a quick physical thrill. Get smart, and date only decent boys, or keep your nose in a good book. These are years for self-improvement—not self-destruction.

Heart Campaign Donations Go to Research Studies

Contributions by Ulster County residents to the Heart Fund have helped make possible the award of $3,554,915 to scientists for research studies in the field of heart and blood vessel diseases. Deweese W. DeWitt, president of the Ulster County Heart Association, announced today. The newly announced awards are part of a $10,000,000 research effort being underwritten by the American Heart Association and its affiliates for the fiscal year 1964-65, DeWitt said. Of the share of Heart Fund contributions sent to the American Heart Association by the Ulster County Heart Association, more than 50 per cent is set aside for research.

Of the fellowships and grants announced today, 74 are new awards and 223 represent contributions of support from previous years. All are concerned with various phases of basic and applied research designed to combat ailments which are responsible for nearly a million, or more than 54 per cent, of the deaths in the U. S. annually. The allocations were made by the Association's National Research Committee.

The national awards are being made to scientists in 33 states and Canada. Recipients include 11 career investigators, outstanding scientists who receive support throughout their professional lives. Also included are 95 established investigators, highly qualified individuals who receive five-year awards for independent programs of research; 54 Advanced Research Fellowships; and three Research Fellowships.

Fellowships awarded for the 1964-65 fiscal period amount to $2,225, 375. The remaining $1,-$2,225, 375. The remaining $329,-540, will be spent for 134 Grants-in-Aid support specific projects conducted by exeprienced investigators.

In addition, the Association's Research Committee also approved new Grant-in-Aid projects totaling nearly $1 million, subject to the availability of funds to support the. It is expected that local Heart Association affiliates and chapters will provide supplementary research funds to underwrite many of these studies through the Association's Cooperative Research Program.

Flights to Start Again Over Laos As Reds Active

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Premier Souvanna Phouma said today that U.S. reconnaissance flights over Central Laos will resume in the next day or two because "important movements" of Communist forces are under way there.

The flights were suspended Wednesday at Souvanna's request.

"Unfortunately," the premier told a news conference, "recent information reaching us shows that important movements of Pathet Lao and Vietminh troops are taking place in these (Communist - controlled) zones.

"The flights will therefore be continued and if the Pathet Lao want them to stop it is up to them to create the necessary conditions."

Cadillac

HIS THIRD CADILLAC . . . HIS FIRST NEW ONE

This man is enjoying his first brand-new Cadillac—after becoming acquainted with the car's unsurpassed value by twice buying used Cadillacs.

He learned that a late model used Cadillac gave him more standard equipment and engineering advancements than most new cars—and gave it to him on a budget he could easily afford.

First of all, while Cadillac's styling was continually refined, it never lost the clean, dignified look that says Cadillac and Cadillac alone. The smooth, quiet performance and complete reliability of his used Cadillac was a constant source of enjoyment. Then, too, he and his family enjoyed luxury and comfort to a degree reserved exclusively for Cadillac owners.

The pride of ownership of so distinctive a car was a never-ending pleasure, for he had the satisfaction—always—of knowing he drove the finest.

When it came time to trade his previously owned Cadillac for a later model, he found its value had held remarkably high . . . and returned a substantial part of his original investment.

So what could be more natural—or wise—than to make the eventual move to a new Cadillac?

New or used, there is no finer motoring investment than a Cadillac. And your authorized dealer has one to fit any budget.

Relative efficiency of oil and gas heating units is calculated as equal, as reported in Bulletin LR-11 issued in 1962 by the U.S. Public Housing Administration. An efficiency of 100% was used for electricity, since almost all of the electrical energy is converted to heat. Fuel oil cost shown includes cost of electric energy required to atomize the fuel oil.

A communication was received from the Cerebral Palsey Clinic Committee of Ulster County noting the need for additional room. The communication stated the committee was in a position to erect its own building and asked that use of county owned land be granted. Referred to Committee on Public Health.

On motion of Supervisor Robert A. Phinnney (R), 11th Ward, the board authorized purchase of a garage building in Town of Esopus from Joseph Clark for $18,800 for use by the County Highway Department.

Pratt Boice of Lake Katrine was reappointed a member of the County Civil Service Board for a six year term.

By unanimous vote the board also reappointed Macdonald DeWitt to the board of trustees of the Community College, for a nine year term. The board in its resolution took note of the "valuable services" which he had rendered.

On motion of Supervisor Abram F. Molyneaux, (R), Woodstock, the office of deputy clerk of the Family Court was created and $3,900 was made available to meet the cost.

A refund of taxes in the sum of $7,587.90 was authorized to the Children's Aid Society, a charitable organization in the town of Gardiner. This covered taxes paid under protest since 1955. By a recent court decision it was held the Society was entitled to the refund of the illegally collected money, it being a charitable organization.

The Committee on Public Welfare relative to sale of surplus hay from the County Farm at New Paltz reported three bids had been received and recommended acceptance of the high bid submitted by George Riley of Gardiner. He bid $660 for bailed hay, $130 on standing hay, a total of $790. Other bids were Irving Rudolph, Kingston, $510 and Kenneth Walker, Tillson, $455.

A resolution by Supervisor George Majestic (D), Gardiner, asking that a Park and Recreation Committee of five members be created, was referred to the Industrial Development Committee and will be referred by that committee to the County Planning Board.

Clarence A. Raichle (R), 12th Ward, moved to table the resolution on the grounds the Ulster County Planning Board had already considered the action which was suggested in the Majestic resolution. Raichle said it would be a duplication of work. The vote on referring the resolution was 22 to 11.

On Hospital Board

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller today appointed Mrs. Edward S. King of Rochester to the Board of Visitors to Rochester State Hospital for a term ending Dec. 31, 1968.

Mrs. King succeeded Mrs. Helen Power in the unsalaried post. Mrs. Power resigned.

Favor TB . . .

not mean closing of the hospital as a TB hospital "in a few years."

New Drugs Big Help

Dr. Drachman said TB hospitals were being closed through lack of patients. This is due to new drugs and out-patient treatment. Hospital stays are being greatly shortened.

Supervisor James A. Rapp (R), First Ward, inquired as to the cost of use of 10 beds for non-tuberculous patients.

Dr. Drachman said some equipment would be necessary and he mentioned two machines at $400 each. However, he said, "change or not" the need for an additional physician at the TB Hospital will be needed "at any rate". He said there was no assistant physician at the hospital now and no provision had been made last year in the budget for such a physician.

Chairman Williams noted that the reason no provision had been made in the budget for such a physician was that "none was asked for" in the request submitted. Williams said in past years provision had been made for an $8,000 item but this year the hospital management had eliminated it and Williams said it was not eliminated at the suggestion of the budget committee.

Would Realize $65,000

Supervisor Rapp, citing the Medical Society action favoring use of a portion of the TB Hospital for non-tuberculous cases, cited income figures. He said the 10 beds at $18 per day, with those patients who can afford to pay the full charge, would bring in a revenue annually of some $65,000. This amount is as much as the state contributes for 35 of 40 TB patients and he said it was "not a bad deal", speaking from a financial viewpoint.

On the roll call the vote was 31 to 1. Supervisor Robert Phinney (R) 11th Ward voted against adoption.

The state will now make a survey of the facilities and if the report favors consent, under provisions of the law the 10 rooms will be released for other than TB chest diseases, as provided by law. The hospital will continue to be primarily a TB hospital, it was stated.

Accused Forger Released on Bond

Accused of forging a $35.15 check on June 8, James Joseph Ross, 27, who gave his address as the Stuyvesant Motor Hotel, city, was arrested Thursday by County Investigator Thomas Mayone and Detective Leonard Ellsworth.

Ross waived preliminary examination before Justice of the Peace Allan Dargie, Town of Esopus. The case was referred to the grand jury and the defendant was released on a $1,000 bond.

According to Mayone, Ross allegedly mailed the check with a letter to a bank in Hurley, requesting that a bank money order for $30 be mailed to him at the above address. The check bore the name of M. L. Tompkins and was drawn on the Kerhonkson National Bank.

When he didn't receive the bank money order, according to Mayone, Ross allegedly telephoned the bank and asked that the money order be mailed to him. Mayone said that Tompkins happened to visit the Hurley bank on business and when informed of the $30.15 check he said he knew nothing about it. The sheriff's office was notified and Mayone launched the investigation.

In a subsequent telephone call, the county investigator said, Ross was informed that he could pick up the check at a bank in Kingston, and when he went there yesterday he was taken in custody by Mayone and Detective Ellsworth.

Scranton Joins

a reversal of his long-stated position that he was not seeking the nomination, but would accept a "sincere and honest draft." Last Sunday Scranton modified his draft statement slightly to say would be available for the nomination if a majority of the convention delegates wanted him.

Caps Week of Activity

The Scranton action capped a week of activity that began last Saturday when Scranton met with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in Gettysburg. Eisenhower urged Scranton to make himself "more available" for the nomination.

Scranton flew to Cleveland Sunday morning for the Governors' Conference prepard to announce he would welcome support from GOP moderates. He did not intend, however, to campaign. Then shortly after his arrival, Scranton received a telephone call from Eisenhower who, disturbed by press reports, said he did not want it to appear that Scranton had been tapped by Eisenhower for the nomination or that he was part of any "stop Goldwater" movement.

Visibly shaken, Scranton went on television and reiterated his previous position. This was the opposite of what had been expected.

Ike Back in Picture

Without the expected rallying point, Scranton backers, Goldwater opponents and nonaligned GOP forces broke into confusion.

Eisenhower was back in the picture Thursday. He told The Associated Press he wanted a wide-open Republican Natonal Convention to stir the party's and nation's interest.

He disavowed a role of either pulling strings for—or cutting the ground from under—Scranton.

At stake in the Maryland convention are 20 delegate votes to the San Francisco convention. It was reported in Baltimore that Goldwater's total commitment ranged from 4 to 10.

Scranton is chairman of the 64-vote Pennsylvania delegation. All but three are committed to support him. The other three have indicated they favor Goldwater.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Sperry Rand was sold heavily as the stock market declined early this afternoon following a three-day recovery. Trading was slow over-all.

Sperry was unloaded on a series of large blocks — 17,000 shares, 15,000 and 10,900 shares —and remained under continuous selling pressure.

The selling, brokers said; was triggered by news that the highly-regarded Dr. Louis T. Radar had resigned as president of Sperry's Univac division to join General Electric. GE stock traded about unchanged.

The market as a whole was in a slow, irregular decline. Gains and losses of key stocks regained mostly from fractions to a point. Some groups fought the downtrend. These included retails, aerospace issues and drugs.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .5 at 303.7 with industrials offf .6, rails off .1 and utilities off .3.

Highland Votes 2nd Time Tonight On School Budget

Voters in the Highland Central School District tonight for a second time will ballot on a proposed $1,439,538.33 budget for 1964-65. The budget was defeated May 5 by a vote of 108-101.

A school district spokesman said that if the budget in its present form is approved, the tax increase will be in the neighborhood of $9.33 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, boosting the rate from $76.71 (this year's rate) to approximately $86 per $1,000.

This projection, the spokesman said, is contingent on the tax rolls to be submitted by the assessors and the equalization rates expected about the middle of August. It was noted that if the assessment total and the equalization rates are basically the same as last year, the rate increase will be about $9.33 per $1,000.

The meeting tonight is slated to start at 7:30 in the High School, and the voting will take place at the close of the public session.

County Building

the department through which many thousands of persons pass each year. On the second floor is the county clerk's working offices, a department which is also widely patronized. Other departments occupy the upper floors with the Board of Supervisors rooms on the fifth floor. The sixth floor is presently "undesignated" and may be used for storage or additional space for departments as they are expanded.

Even the basement has been put to use. The Machine Tabulation Department will be located in the basement and provision is also made for storage areas.

Much of the basement is taken over by the machinery and equipment facilities, but a space apart from the boiler room and service areas will be utilized for office storage and office space.

To Store Plates

A room is provided in the basement for storage of automobile license plates with a chute leading from the ground level for unloading the plates directly to the basement.

In the event of need to replace large machinery units such as a boiler or airconditioning unit, provision has been made for "knocking out" a section of the south wall through which these large units could be removed. This will be covered and seeded but will be readily available in emergency need.

There is a fireproof stairway well in addition to the elevators serving all floors but in cases of extreme emergency an exit from the boiler room, an "emergency hatch" has been provided from the engine room.

"We have tried to think of any emergency," Augustus R. Schrowang Jr., told the Freeman reporter. "We hope we have given the county a good and complete building which will serve the county for many years," Schrowang concluded.

Larsen & Johansen, Inc., of Kingston are the general contractors for the job.

Chemical Head Killed

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — A three-car collision has taken the life of Thomas W. Morningstar, 37, of Rye, president of Morningstar-Paisley, Inc., chemical manufacturers with sales of $25 million last year.

Three other persons were injured in the crash Thursday.

Police said Morningstar's car and another were in a head-on collision after the other car and a third had collided.

Committee of the college board, said the firm of Augustus Schrowang Associates, and the engineering firm of Brinnier and Larios will proceed with test borings and other preliminary steps for development of a "master plan" or "site plan" for the college "as it is envisioned for the early 1970's when the full time enrollment is expected to be between 750 and 850 students."

Plan Is Required

This master plan is required by the State University before consideration is given to the construction of any buildings as the first phase of the total campus development project. This plan will show the location of the buildings to be constructed immediately and those to be erected within the forseeable future. Parking lots, roadways, sidewalks, campus lighting and other campus developments will be shown.

Feeney said the additional property from Mrs. Frances Leggett accepted last February, the approximately 85 acres originally proposed for the campus, had now been consolidated and title to all of the property has been taken.

Should Stop Rumors

In commenting on this definite move forward for the development of the permanent campus, Abram F. Molyneaux, chairman of the Community College committee of the Board of Supervisors said:

"The forward step we have taken tonight should put to rest any further rumors with respect to the college on the Stone Ridge site. The trustees and the board have both acted in the best interest of the county in solving the problems that existed."

The college opened in temporary quarters in the former No. 2 school building on West Chestnut Street in September 1963, with a full time enrollment of 193 and the part time enrollment was 550. This September the enrollment is expected to be about 350 full time and the evening enrollment approximately 500 to 550.

The fall term opens on September 21.

Daughter Has Problem How to Invest $30,000

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "My daughter, a minor, has inherited a good-sized estate. She is in the 38 per cent income bracket. She has a wide variety of blue chips and would like your advice on the investment of an additional cash disbursement of $30,000. Would you consider tax-exempts? If so, how would you rate State of California selling to yield 3.55 per cent, Analy High School District bonds at 3:55 per cent and Folsom Gt. Union at 3.65?" J.C.

A) I am sincerely pleased at your daughter's good fortune, and I believe she would be well advised to put her $30,000 disbursement into tax-exempts.

I regard each of the bonds you mention as satisfactory. Since there is so little difference in yield, I suggest that because of superior marketability, she place the entire $30,000 in highest-rated State of Californias, which at the yield you mention have a taxable equivalent return—in her bracket—of 5.73 per cent.

Q) "My husband is 53 years old and is forced to retire. He is trying for another job to supplement his pension. I am interested in buying stocks. I thought of American Telephone; Sears, Roebuck; and Procter & Gamble. Can be purchase these stocks in $400-$500 lots as your column suggested? I have $13,000 in savings and would like your comments on my suggested purchases. Also, as to whether I should purchase E bonds." L.Z.

A) I am truly sorry that your husband is forced to retire at 53, and I hope he will find a worthwhile job.

Your purchase suggestions are excellent for growth, but I hope you understand the income return is rather low.

You can buy in amounts of $400-$500, but I would add to your list Texaco, Long Island Lighting, and Scott Paper.

You should, I believe, retain a substantial cash reserve, part of which could well include two or three thousand dollars in E bonds—for assured income and absolute stability.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column. (Copyright 1964) General Features Corp.)

Poodle's Chick

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—Mrs. Robert C. Perry of Fremont, the mother of seven children, says friends, who didn't think she had enough do, gave her a baby chick to care for.

Fortunately, she said, her French poodle Crepes Suzette came to the rescue and took charge of the chick.

"Suzette will not let the chick out of its sight," she says. "The dog carries it all over the house. If the chick gets out of the dog's bed, Suzette follows it. The chick peeps if the dog leaves the room."

Deer Comes to Him

SAYRE, Pa. (AP) — John Rhodes Jr., a Sayre policeman, has gone deer hunting for 23 years, but he's never been able to bag one. And his luck didn't improve even when a buck came to him.

The animal crashed through the porch window of Rhodes' home and went on a rampage through the first floor, as the man was shaving upstairs.

Reluctant to get in the way of the enraged and wounded deer, Rhodes called a fellow policeman, who shot it dead.

Hollywood News and Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This is Hollywood Boulevard—a man of eloquent hands is John Tartaglia, who uses them in conversation and for creating things.

Tartaglia, who came to this country from a village near Naples, Italy, 43 years ago, decorates and repairs interiors of theaters owned by the National General chain. One of his functions is preparing the cement in which movie stars place their marks in the forecourt of Grauman's Chinese Theater.

Shrugs It Off

"Nothing much to it," he shrugs.

Tartaglia arrived a couple of hours before the most recent ceremony and directed an assistant in removing a block of concrete a yard square. A three-inch base of rock and cement was laid upon the naked earth. Then came preparation of the top layer.

Ready-mix cement and sand was sifted twice through a screen and to the fine mixture was added pure cement for greater adhesion. Then came the coloring—green oxide earth, plus some black to deepen the hue.

"You can't see the color now," said Tartaglia, mixing the gray mass, "but the water will bring it out."

"Once he told me how he started this business of the footprints," he said. "It was back in 1927 when he was building the theater and Norma Talmadge came by to look at it. She stepped right out of her car into the wet cement. Mr. Grauman saw the footprints and got his idea. Miss Talmadge, Doug Fairbanks and Mary Pickford were the first ones to go in.

"We've been putting them in pretty fast in the last few years, but there are still 200 squares left. I don't think we'll ever run out of space."

Death From Abortion

LONDON (AP) — There are between 400 and 600 deaths in Britain each year from abortion, Dr. Ann Mullins writes in the magazine Family Doctor. She says at least 150 abortions take place each day.

CP Directors Will Honor Volunteers At Tea on June 18

A tea will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel 2 p. m. Thursday, June 18 for all Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Inc. volunteer workers and the staff of the Treatment Center.

Mrs. Milton Grover and Mrs. Gerald Sumber, co-chairmen of the tea, have announced that the board of directors wish to acknowledge fully the services of those who have participated in fund drives and volunteered help at the center.

In her annual report, Mrs. Charlotte Peck, clinic director said, "one of the essential facts, an integral part of the center program, is the role of the volunteers. These faithful workers serve not only as drivers, nursery aids and helpers for special events but also their warm interest strikes deep responsive chords within the children themselves."

The volunteer driver corps brings handicapped children from all parts of Kingston and outlying areas to the center, 400 Broadway for their regular therapy sessions These children may have handicapping involvements attributed to cerebral palsy, post poliomyelitis, muscular dystrophy, birth defects other than CP, speech problems or hearing defects. The driver corps is vital to the continuance of the center's rehabilitation program.

CP campaign workers in townships outside the community chest area carry the story of the vital service the center provides to Ulster and Greene County communities.

The extent of the help offered the handicapped child of Ulster and Greene depends directly on the volunteer services of residents as well as their financial support.

She has served on the Collge Faculty Committee on Scholarships and Awards , the Faculty Welfare Committee, and the Community Relations Committee of the Campus School Faculty. For a time she was advisor to Kappa Gamma Phi Sorority and also served as an advisor for Delta Kappa Fraternity.

During the 1951-52 school year, she was an Exchange Teacher to England and also had the opportunity to travel extensively in England and numerous countries on the European Continent. She has visited nearly all of the fifty states and has traveled in Canada and Mexico.

During World War II, in addition to her regular teaching duties, she served as a member of the US Air Force Ground Observer Corps, from 1942-1945.

In the New Paltz Community, Mrs. Compton has been an active member of the Reformed Church, the Dutch Guild, and the League of Women Voters. She also has beeen a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Poughkeepsie, and served as Chairman of the International Relations Committee of that organization from 1956 to 1958.

Mrs. Compton received her Bachelor of Science Degree from the State Teachers College in Denton, Texas, in the fields of Education and Social Science, and her Master of Arts Degree from Teachers College, Columbia University, in Supervision and Social Science. She also did additional advanced work at the University of Colorado, Penn State University, and New York University.

She began her teaching career at the Central High School in Fort Worth Texas, teaching Sociology and Civics, and then was Dean of Women at Washington State Normal School, Ellensburg, Washington, before joining the faculty at New Paltz.

Mrs. O'Donnell joined the New Paltz faculty as in instructor in 1942, and for the past seven years has been in charge of the Campus School French Language Program. At the time of the inauguration of this program, it was the first elementary French Language Program in the area.

She received her Bachelor of Arts Degree from Good Counsel College, in the field of English, and her Master of Arts Degree from New York University with a major in Education. She also did advanced graduate work at Columbia University and spent a summer at Urbino University in Italy and another summer at the University of Paris in France. During the summer of 1959, Mrs. O'Donnell studied for eight weeks in the French Language Institute at the University of Delaware under a scholarship provided by the National Defense Education Act.

In announcing the retirement of Mrs. Compton and Mrs. O'Donnell, President Haggerty expressed appreciation on behalf of the College for their long service and devotion to duty. "We feel certain," he said, "that these two individuals, inspite of their retirement, will continue to contribute a great deal in their respective fields."

Dr. Bond, Principal of the Campus School, pointed out that, together, these two teachers represent over 50 years of devoted service to the children of the New Paltz Community. "We of the staff of the Campus School," he said "will miss the stimulation and inspiration of working with these two outstanding teachers."

Both Mrs. Compton and Mrs. O'Donnell were the honored guests at a faculty dinner recently at which Mr. Benjamin Matteson, former principal of the Campus School and later Dean of the College, praised them for their work in the field of Education. They received gifts from the entire College Faculty, presented by Mr. John Harrison, Associate Professor of Art at the Campus School, who is Chairman of the Faculty Social Committee. Dr. Bond brought greetings to them from the administration of the College.

They were again honored by the Campus School Parent Teacher's Association at the final meeting of the organization this year, on May 22. Dr. Bond presented them with gold pins, on behalf of the New York State Teachers Association, symbolic of the devotion of their lives to the teaching profession in the State of New York. Mr. Gustav Silverman, President of the PTA, presented each of them with a bouquet of roses, and they received a standing ovation from several hundred parents, teachers, and pupils who attended the meeting.

Woodstock News

Rotron's earliest days and its present total environment. Local residents employed at Rotron are depicted "on the job." Beautiful vistas of the Village of Woodstock and the countryside, in all four seasons, provide other highlights of the film. It was produced and directed by Woodstock's James Trainor, an internationally - known documentary film maker.

Festival Winner

Accompanying "Rotron in Woodstock" will be the Academy Award-winning "Rasho-mom," a Japanese film with English subtitles. In addition to winning an Academy Award as "Best Foreign Film," it won the Grand Prize at the Venice Film Festival and was selected by the National Board of Review as the "Best Foreign Film."

The plot involves three men, sheltering themselves at the main gate to Kyoto about 1200 years ago, who are contemplating a brutal act that recently occurred. A merchant and his wife, traveling through the forest, were waylaid by a bandit. The wife was attacked and the merchant was killed. The crime is enacted four times, resulting in four different stories: the bandit's version of the incident, the wife's version, the dead merchant's story as told through a medium, and finally, the version as told by a witness.

Director Kurosawa has woven these four contradictory tales into a completely engrossing and intriguing film that will leave its audience spellbound.

High Woods Area Survey Started On Library Needs

During the library meeting in High Woods recently at the home of Mrs. William Ryan, it was decided to form a local committee to plan a survey of the book needs of High Woods, Fish Creek and part of Daisy, to help determine whether any type of general area would be advantageous.

Mrs. Harry Lowe, recently retired librarian of the Saugerties High School library, answered many questions about library services in general and student needs in particular.

Mrs. Berthel Wrolsen reported on a recent visit to Mid-Hudson Libraries in Poughkeepsie, a municipal organization chartered by the State of New York. Mid-Hudson Libraries extends library services to member libraries in the counties of Ulster, Greene, Dutchess, Putnam and Columbia.

About 50 libraries, including those in Saugerties and Woodstock, belong to the Mid-Hudson system. Mrs. Wrolsen told how the "coming thing" for small rural areas is not the establishment of more little libraries, but rather, small, carefully-stocked reading centers, to augment already existing facilities.

The date of the next general meeting of the group will be announced after the survey committee has met.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The average producer of television shows counts the number of sets which will carry his program by the millions, if it is a network broadcast; by the thousands, if local. Lou Ames, television show producer, counts his sets by the hundreds—300, to be precise.

The average producer feels he is an exceptionally creative fellow if he manages to turn out 30 hour-long TV shows a season. Lou Ames estimates that his output this summer will total some 2,000 hours. Subject matter will range from cooking, fashion and flower shows to travelogues and interviews, laced with public service programs.

Ames is headman of the special small closed-circuit television circuit at the New York World's Fair. It consists of a complete broadcasting studio, equippped with the most modern electronic gadgets, and 300 color television sets around the 646-acres of displays and exhibits.

A project of the Radio Corp. of America, the tiny network is commercially designed to exploit the glories of tinted TV to millions of fair-goers who might never have seen it before. It also performs an agreeable useful function — amusing weary sight-seers as they rest their aching feet, and focusing on the faces of occasional lost children to speed reunions with worried parents.

Ames does not have much trouble filling the 12 hours a day, seven days a week, schedule. Press agents from commercial exhibits of the fair are always suggesting that his mobile camera cover a ceremony or event of some sort. He is bombarded with short commercial films, on a variety of subjects.

Visitors to the TV studio — and there is invariably a waiting line — are conducted through the building, and at one point have a chance to see themselves on color television.

Ames estimates that 8,000 visitors a day tramp through the center.

Primary Caused Wringing of Hands

Scranton Declaration Would Add Up to More GOP Chaos

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania does today what he seems ready to do—tell the country that he will seek the Republican presidential nomination—it will be just one more twist in an already unforgettable week.

And if the public is no less confused after he does, the prime movers in the Republican party—Scranton not excluded—will have to share the blame.

For while Sen. Barry Goldwater was emerging as the GOP's only aggressive leader, they were looking more like caretakers than captains. They were sitting back, doing nothing, saying nothing now that New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the only top Republican willing to stick his neck out against Goldwater, seemed at the end of the line although he says he is still in the running.

While Goldwater and Rockefeller were slugging it out in the primaries, there was always the fine chance the two would knock each other out of all consideration before the Republican nominating convention in July. That would leave the field wide open to those would - be presidents who said they'd accept the nomination but would not fight for it.

After Goldwater's California primary victory all but sewed up the nomination for him, they began to wring their hands. They showed concern for the nation and the party but never enough to really do anything about it.

Ike Just Watched, Too

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was also concerned but he didn't show any more leadership than the others. He told The Associated Press Thursday his main concern is in seeing an open convention and a platform and ticket that would build the party to its maximum strength.

He didn't hide his reservations about some aspects of Goldwater's conservative philosophy but, as he put it, he wants to be in a position to pick up the pieces after the convention and help unite the party behind its nominee.

He had said he wouldn't interfere in the selection of a candidate but before the Governors' Conference opened in Cleveland this week he called Scranton and nudged him toward some activity.

Scranton had said he would not seek the nomination but would accept it if drafted. Eisenhower suggested he not be so rigid about waiting to be drafted.

Confusing Performance

Of all the Republican leaders, Scranton put on the most indecisive and confusing performance. He said one time he could run for the vice presidency on Goldwater's ticket and indicated their views on issues weren't too far apart.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan said he'd do everything in his power to stop Goldwater but when former Vice President Richard M. Nixon suggested that Romney actively seek the nomination in opposition to Goldwater, Romney wouldn't.

But Nixon who would like the nomination, but says he isn't a candidate, explained that in urging Romney to oppose Goldwater he wasn't really trying to start a stop-Goldwater move although it might have that effect.

There was always the chance of course, that if Romney and Goldwater fought each other until the convention got deadlocked on them, Nixon might have a chance, perhaps his best and only chance, to be picked finally as a compromise candidate.

Political Chaos

Nixon said Scranton would be a good vice-presidential running mate for Goldwater, a view which, if it caught on, might erase Scranton from the convention's mind as a presidential candidate at all.

Scranton repaid the compliment by suggesting that Nixon, who had been vice president eight years under Eisenhower, would be just the man to run for the vice presidency again.

If all this adds up to some kind of political chaos, that is what it was. Goldwater? All he had to do was sit back and watch the spectacle.

Crazed Man Dies

COLOGNE, Germany (AP)—A crazed man who fatally speared two women teachers and seared 28 children and another teacher with a flame thrower died Thursday night after he was shot by police, then gulped down poison.

The worker, Walter Seifert, 40, a tubercular lathe operator, was shot in the pelvis as he tried to flee from the school. Before police could subdue him he swallowed the contents of a small bottle of insect killer.

Doctors who treated Seifert for tuberculosis had classsed him as mentally unstable but harmless. Before he died he told police he was fed up with the way physicians had treated his illness and "wanted to take revenge."

Ammunition Explodes

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Huge explosions and fire rocked an ammunition dump across the Ozama River from Santo Domingo Thursday night, killing or injuring an unknown number of persons.

At least 50 injured were taken to the Dominican capital's hospitals.

An unofficial report said a fire broke out in the powder magazine of the ammunition dump at the 27th of February barracks.

Urges Flag Display

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller suggests that all New Yorkers display the American flag on Sunday, which he has proclaimed as Flag Day in New York State.

The governor issued the proclamation Thursday.

Hand Was Not Type for Slam

By OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A letter from Schenectady reads: "East cashed his two black aces and led another spade. I ruffed in dummy and went after trumps. East showed out on the second lead. Since diamonds went around twice, I was able to discard my last spade, and get out for down one. A mighty poor result considering that we reached five hearts under our own steam. Who is to blame?"

Apart from the fact that North and South were quite unlucky,

5 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♠ 3

I have to charge both of them with North getting the major share of the blame.

North did have a very good hand, but not one that looked at all like a slam in view of the fact that his partner had dealt and passed. North only held one ace and no high honor in hearts. The best play for a slam would be a finesse, in case his partner had passed ace-queen-jack of hearts and a side ace. Therefore, North should not have obscured the bidding by showing his three-card club suit. Instead, North should either have rebid his diamonds or raised his partner's heart suit.

South's blame is very minor. To start with, he might well have bid one heart instead of two. True he had a maximum pass, but he also held only a five card heart suit and no support for partner's diamonds.

Then his four no-trump call was a trifle optimistic. By this time he had bid and rebid his five card suit, so there was some possibility that his partner had raised him on only two trumps. Even if North held two aces ,there would not be any sure play for the slam.

Costello Will Defend Title in Herdegen Memorial Golf

County Tourney Opens Saturday At Twaalfskill

Ulster county's blue ribbon golf tournament—the 14th annual Herdegen Memorial—starts Saturday at 9 a. m. at The Twaalfskill Club in Kingston.

The winner is recognized as the Ulster county amateur champion. Defending champion is William (Buzzy) Costello of Kingston and Rider College, who captured the 1963 crown in a 5-hole sudden death playoff with Leon Randall.

Thirty six players, who qualified in club tournaments under a new quota system, will compete. The club and at-large totals are: Wiltwyck 16, Woodstock and Twaalfskill, 6; At-Large, 6; and Shawangunk Country Club, Ellenville, 6.

In addition to Costello, three former champions — Leon Randall, George Hughes and Bill Van Aken, will compete. The fifth champion, Clarence (Dubby) Raichle did not seek to qualify.

The 36-player field will be reduced to 24 low scores and ties at the end of 36 holes.

The second round is scheduled Sunday at 9 a. m. at Wiltwyck. The third round will be played at Woodstick on June 20 with the finals at Shawangunk on June 21.

Twelve Prizes At Stake

Twelve of the 24 finalists will receive prizes, with the champion receiving the traditional Greek Jacket and a trophy.

The crack field includes virtually all of the "name" golfers in Ulster County except Bill Kaufman, who is not active. Wiltwyck's powerful contingent has Harvey Bostic, club champion; Leon Randall, Charles J. Turck, Harold Van Aken, Ronnie Marks, Bill McCullen and George Cosenza.

Dan Gaffney, the 1964 Kingston High School sensation, will be playing as a Wiltwyck member.

BUZZY COSTELLO

spearhead the Woodstock delegation. Ellenville is represented by its club champion, Robert V. Stapleton and George Barthel.

Dees Is Optioned

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels said Thursday night they have optioned first baseman Charley Dees to Oklahoma City in the Pacific Coast League, reducing the Angels' roster to 24, one under the player limit.

Dees has been with the team since the season began. He was used mainly as a pinch hitter, batting .077 in 25 games.

Two Top Scores In Bridge Play

Two outstanding performances were registered in the Glenerie Bridge Club's fractional point game. The classy Joseph Pechloff (Kingston) and Ralph Wesselmann (Shokan) combine turned in an excellent 67 per cent game to lead the East-West side.

On the North-South another equally potent tandem — Mrs. Harold Rakov of Kingston and Dr. Paul Perlman of Woodstock were just a half point behind with a superb 66½ per cent effort.

The runnersup were:

North-South: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Peck, Woodland, 55 per cent; Mrs. Margaret Kantzer and John Chapman, Poughkeepsie, 51½ per cent; Mrs. C. Russell Edwards — Mrs. I. H. Wheatcroft, Kingston, 50½ per cent.

East-West: Herbert Gertner —Dr. Victor Randel, Kingston, 63½ per cent; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Le Fevre, Hurley, 55 per cent; tie for fourth at 52 per cent: Miss Dorothy Maroon — Dr. Habeeb Maroon, Kingston; and Mrs. Jay Melton, Kingston, and Mrs. Lee Friedman, New York City.

A fractional point game is scheduled tonight at 8 o'clock at the Bridge Studios on Fair Street.

Little LEAGUERS

Watzka in Second No-Hitter; E. K. Giants Win, 21-1

Paul Watzka racked up his second no-hitter of the season in coasting to a 12-1 win for the Giants over the Braves in a Glasco-East Kingston LL game.

Watzka made a more than generous contribution to the cause by belting three two-baggers in four trips to the plate. He also struck out 15 Braves in his limited mound chores.

The Giants got things started with three tallies in the opening stanza on a single hit. Rick Hackney came across with the lone Brave hit in the bottom half of the frame and after that it was all zeros for the home team in both hits and runs. Watzka walked two batters.

Neil Crantek rapped two doubles and a single in four trips to the plate for the winners. Teammate Bob Clausi also went three-for-four. Steve Pasqua also stroked a double for the winners.

Losing hurler Robert Todaro fanned 13 Giants and gave up seven bases on balls.

The line score:

Giants	310 323—12	12
Braves	100 000— 1	0

Robert Todaro and John Serra; Paul Watzka and Steve Pasqua.

Lions Gain 9-4 Verdict Over Felice in ALL

The Lions Club nine, bolstered by a home run by Rick Cogswell and two-hit pitching, coasted to a 9-4 win over Felice Masonry in the American Little League.

Felice opened with two tallies. The Lions came back with one in the bottom half of the first, three in the second and two in the third for a 6-2 lead. Felice came up with two runs in the fourth, but the Lions retaliated with three more in their half of the inning to put the game on ice.

Cogswell clubbed two-for-three for the winners. Barry Rose slammed a round-tripper for the losers while teammate Burt Bodie collected the only other Felice safety, a double.

The line score:

Felice	200 200—4	2
Lions	132 300—9	7

Robert Hull and Burt Bodie; Larry Feeney (winning pitcher), Bill Samuels and aGry Clark.

Runaway Game, Squeaker, Mark NLL Contests

A romp and a squeaker that went into extra innings featured a pair of National LL games.

Batsmen clubbed out a total of 36 hits as the Mets pounded out a 21-6 victory over the Giants.

Contrariwise, the Dodgers took a 2-1 win over the Cubs on a two-bagger by Dave Post in the bottom of the eighth inning in a game limited to seven safeties.

Mets held an 8-0 lead for three innings and added another run before the Giants came up with three tallies in the bottom of the fourth. The Giants held the visitors scoreless for the first time in the fifth while adding two more runs, but the Mets came on with a vengeance in the top of the sixth, with 12 runs. A single run by the home club was fruitless as the game ended.

Ed Basch slammed four hits in five trips to the plate for the winners, including a home run and a triple. Team mate Paul De Cicco had a perfect day at the plate with five-for-five. Earl Edmund and Mike Pugliese slashed three-baggers for the losers. Giant Ron Drieser also collected a double. Team mate Parris Beverly went three-for-three for a perfect day in a losing cause. Rickie Williams belted four hits in six trips for the Mets.

Tom Manello gave up 12 hits in taking the win while losing hurler Fred Homel was ripped for 24 safeties.

First-sacker Post broke open the close eight-inning contest between the Dodgers and Cubs.

The Cubs came up with a lone tally in the opening frame and the Dodgers produced the equalizer in their half of the second. After that it was zeroes for five and a half innings.

Tony Darwak smashed two hits in three appearances at the platter for the winners, including a home run. Post had a two-for-four day at the plate.

Henry Harder struck out 12 Dodgers in a losing cause although team mate Wayne Mencil was credited with the loss. Don Fitzgerald, who shared pitching chores with Darwak was credited with the victory.

The line scores:

Mets	314 10 12—21	24
Giants	000 32 1— 6	12

Tom Mannello and Rickie Williams; Fred Homel and Mike Pugliese.

Cubs	100 000 00—1	2

Wrens Win Close One Over Hawks, 8-6, in JC Loop

Wrens broke a 6-6 tie in the top of the final inning and wrenched an 8-6 win over the Hawks in a Jaycee circuit contest.

The teams were tied at 5-5 through three innings, when the Wrens notched a tally in their half of the fourth. The Hawks tied it up in their half of the fifth. Goose eggs in the sixth frame took the game into extra innings. After the two-run seventh by the visitors, the Hawks were unable to come up with anything and took the loss.

The wrens' Tim Lackaye and Don Lackaye and Kevin McGowan and Scott Findholdt of the Hawks belted two-baggers for the only extra base hits of the match. Winning pitcher Bob Morkes went two-for-three at the plate.

The line score:

A two out triple by Dave Jackson and Don Kiernan's single accounted for three runs in the bottom of the seventh to give the Mets a 7-6 squeaker over the Cubs.

Jackson slammed a double and two triples. Rich Ambrose and Steve Kellerman hit home runs.

Pony Show Judge Named at Katrine

Paul J. DuCuennois, of Glens Falls, has been obtained by the Lowlands Ranch Club of Lake Katrine to judge the club's All Pony Show on Sunday. The occasion marks the first all-pony show in the Hudson Valley.

A pre-veterinarian student at Cornell University, DuCuennois has owned and shown both registered and grade ponies throughout the east for a number of years. In 1962, his show string was winner of the Eastern New York Pony Association high point award.

The American Shetland Pony Club is a pony registry established to protect as well as develop the blood lines of the Shetland Pony as a breed in this country. Among the 22 classes to be held in the Lowlands Ranch show will be model, driving, pleasure and other games, as well as a Pony Grooming Class for those under 16 years of age.

$73.00 Double At Monticello

MONTICELLO — Faye Truder, a 6-1 outsider, pulled out a 2:08.4 decision over pace-setting Dark Amber in last night's second race to clinch a healthy $73.00 daily double payoff for backers of the 5-2 combination at Monticello Raceway.

The opening dash was taken by Whetstone, a two-year-old Jasper Hanover colt making his first betting race start.

Faye Truder, driven by Bill Hylan, came on strong in the stretch to post her second victory in six tries. The three-year-old brown filly by the Intruder returned mutuels of $15.40, $7.10, and $4.20.

Dark Amber held on for second and payoffs of $3.70 and $3.20, while Painted Princess was the show horse for $3.40.

Al Burton was in the sulky as Whetstone racked up a 2:10.2 mark in winning easily over Nevele Mom. The winner was worth $8.60, $4.30 and $3.10 and the runnerup $7.00 and $4.90.

Longshot Senator Glib paid a $7.70 show mutuel.

McBride Likes His New Role

Los Angeles Ace Hits Jackpot in 1st Relief Role

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

After laboring in vain for nearly two months, Ken McBride has gone on relief and hit the jackpot.

McBride, a 28-year-old right-hander, halted his 10-game losing streak as the Los Angeles Angels nipped Cleveland 5-4 in 12 innings Thursday night.

The one-time ace of the Angels' pitching staff beat Washington 4-0 on opening day, April 13, then lost 10 consecutive games in 12 more starts. His latest start—and defeat—was last Sunday.

Then, against the Indians Wednesday night, Manager Bill Rigney brought McBride in from the bullpen for his first relief appearance since April 19, 1962. He didn't give up a hit in 1 2-3 innings.

He relieved again Thursday night, coming on this time in a 4-4 game with two on and none out in the ninth inning. He got Vic Davalillo on a grounder and induced Leon Wagner to hit into a double play.

McBride pitched two more innings, allowing one hit, before leaving for pinchhitter Willie Smith in the 12th. Smith's single started the winning rally.

Year of Despair

The season for McBride has been one of utter frustration. He won 13 games and lost 12 for the Angels last year and had a 3.26 earned-run average.

Elsewhere in the league, Baltimore defeated Chicago 3-1, New York whipped Boston 8-4 and Minnesota downed Detroit 4-2.

After singling for McBride, Smith was forced at second by Tom Satriano. Ed Kirkpatrick's single and an intentional walk to Jim Fregosi moved Satriano to third from where he scored on Lou Clinton's sacrifice fly.

Dean Chance started for the Angels and ran his scoreless inning string to 28 before Bob Chance singled home two runs for the Indians in the sixth. Dick Howser's two-run single tied it in the ninth. Joe Adcock and Felix Torres each drove in two runs for Los Angeles.

Robinson Homers

A two-run homer by Brooks Robinson in the eighth carried the Orioles past the White Sox. The blow off Hoyt Wilhelm broke a 1-1 tie. Luis Aparicio homered for Baltimore in the sixth. Tom McCraw got Chicago off to a 1-0 lead in the first with a homer off Milt Pappas.

Mickey Mantle slammed two home runs and Roger Maris one for the Yankees. Mantle connected with one on in the fifth, then slugged his 10th homer with the bases empty in the seventh. Maris' 10th came in the third. All of the blows were off starter Bill Monbouquette.

Ed Bressoud and Felix Mantilla homered against Jim Bouton, who won his fourth game in nine decisions. Bouton doubled and scored in the fifth and belted a two-run single in the eighth.

Dick Stigman and reliever Garland Shifflett stopped Detroit on three hits as Earl Battey knocked across three runs. Shifflett pitched the ninth after Stigman walked leadoff batter Al Kaline. Bill Freehan and Don Demeter tagged Stigman for home runs in the fifth.

Battey slashed a run-scoring double in the third and smashed a two-run homer in the fourth.

'That Club' Enlists Edwards

Redleg Catcher Drops Strike to Cause Defeat

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

There have been 6,119 strikeouts in the major leagues this year. Pitchers have been happy about 6,115 of them.

The other four lost ball games.

It happened again Thursday night in this Year of the Dropped Third Strike as Cincinnati catcher Johnny Edwards joined a club that is quickly losing its exclusiveness.

Before Edwards could take his red face and damaged pride back to the privacy of the Reds' dugout, the Houston Colts had rushed across five runs in the fifth inning and nailed down a 5-3 victory.

John Tsitouris, the Reds' starter, held a 2-0 lead going into the fifth and retired the first two men without any difficulty. Al Spangler then drew a walk and Nellie Fox followed with a single.

Bearing down, Tsitouris, appeared out of trouble when he fired a third strike by Mike White, but the ball flashed past Edwards and White raced for first, loading the bases.

Came The Crusher

Tsitouris, apparently unsettled, forced in the Colts' first run by walking Dave Roberts and then Bob Aspromonte applied the crusherby smacking a grand-slam homer.

That sent Tsitouris to the showers and Edwards into the Dropped Third Strike Club.

The club has strict rules—the dropped strike must have directly led to a defeat. The other members in good standing are Joe Torre of Milwaukee, Philadelphia's Gus Triandos and Mike Brumley of Washington.

The Philadelphia Phillies, meanwhile, moved back into first place in the National League on their day off when Milwaukee defeated San Francisco 6-5 and dropped the Giants into second place, seven percentage points behind.

Elsewhere, Don Drysdale posted his third shutout with a four-hitter in the Los Angeles' Dodgers' 5-0 victory over St. Louis and Larry Jackson won his eighth game as the Chicago Cubs whipped the New York Mets 6-3.

Aspromonte's homer was his third in three games. He has hit only one other. The Colts' third baseman also collected two singles and in the last three games has collected seven hits in 12 at-bats.

Claude Raymond got the victory in relief, extending his scoreless innings streak to 22 before the Reds scored an unearned run in the eighth on Frank Robinson's double and two errors by Fox.

The Braves-Giants game seemed to revolve around San Francisco outfielder Harvey Kuenn. Kuenn lost Eddie Mathews' drive in the sun in the eighth inning and it went for a three-run double. Then Kuenn homered in the bottom of the eighth.

He came up again in the ninth after the Giants had scored three runs and pulled within a run, but with a chance to win it he grounded into a doubleplay.

Felipe Alou's homer in the ninth against his former San Francisco teammates turned out to be the winning run as Warren Spahn brought his record to 5-4.

Drysdale, bringing his record to 8-5, was in serious trouble only in the fourth when the Cardinals loaded the bases with one out. But the Dodger right-hander got Charley James on a shallow fly and got Tim McCarver to ground out.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, tied their season high for hits by collecting 14 — 10 off loser Ray Washburn.

The Cubs pulled out front to stay against the Mets in the top of the first when Jim Stewart singled and Ron Santo homered. Santo later drove in the decisive run with a single in the seventh after Lou Brock and Billy Williams singled.

Jackson, 8-4, gave up nine hits but brought his lifetime record against the Mets to 8-0.

Nat'l LL Fund Drive Tomorrow

The Kingston National Little League Inc. will conduct its sixth annual "Home Run" drive to raise funds, Saturday, in Wards 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9.

League players in uniform, accompained by adult volunteers, will begin the house-to-house canvass for financial aid starting at 10:30 a. m. Boys also will be stationed at main corners in their particular boundaries.

League President Clayton Stalter stressed the need of the once-a-year drive for funds. He said, "Many people don't realize the expense involved in the running of a league and the upkeep of the grounds and building." He said that between $1,200 and $2,000 was required to properly run the league for an ordinary year. He said further explanation concerning expenses would be given by league officials upon request, and "We need the help of every citizen and hope that when a Little Leaguer knocks on your door tomorrow, you will be generous.

National Little League is established at Shults Stadium in Kingman Park and is known as one of the Hudson Valley's "better LL diamonds." The league consists of 90 boys from the downtown area. The playing area is entirely enclosed with a link chain fence and modern conveniences are contained in the building. There is a parking space for 300 cars.

American Legion Tryouts, Registration on Saturday

American Legion Post No. 150 and co-sponsor Old Capital Motors will hold registration and tryouts for American Legion baseball candidates Saturday at 6 p. m. at Dietz stadium.

All interested, 16 to 19 years of age, boys born on or after Sept. 1, 1945, are eligible. Boys must bring birth certificates issued by a bureau of vital statistics. Baptismal and hospital certificates will not be accepted.

Tommy Maines will again manage the Legion nine, with Jules Albertini and Al Gruner serving as coaches. It is hoped there will be at least four Legion teams in Ulster county this season.

M.P.'s Dying Early

LONDON (AP) — Members of Parliament are studying vital statistics with more than usual care. The last ten M.P.'s in the British House of Commons died at an average age of 59. Life expectantcy in this country is ten years more.

Knights and Hurley Capture Wins in Babe Ruth League

Charlie James scattered seven hits and fanned 13 to lead the Knights of Columbus to a 9-5 victory over the Vols in the Babe Ruth League.

In a free swinging affair, Hurley clobbered Rotary, 28 to 5, scoring 12 runs in the first inning and 14 in the fifth. The game was mercifully halted by darkness.

Wayne Corkery rapped two doubles and single for Vols. Jack Watzka had a single-double combination for the Vols.

Charley Moore, pitching an 8-hitter, was the beneficiary of the Hurley onslaught. Joel Tomson slammed a triple and homer for the winners. Ralph Hoffman had a double and two singles. Roger Vogt and Charlie Moore bashed triples.

Reminds N.Y. Vets Of Cutoff Date For State Bonus

Mrs. Donald B. Snell, Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, Home Service Chairman, reminds veterans that a cutoff date for filing applications for payment of a World War II Bonus has been enacted into law by the New York State Legislature. March 31, 1965 has been set as the date beyond which veterans of World War II may not file unless they can prove that they were physically or mentally incapable of doing so.

Honorable discharged veterans of World War II who were on active duty between Dec. 7, 1941 and Sept. 2, 1945, who were legal residents of New York State at least six months immediately prior to entry into service are eligible. Also eligible are the veteran's next-of-kin, if the veteran died while on active duty with the armed forces of the United States at any time between Dec. 7, 1941 and Sept. 2, 1945. If the veteran died after separation from the armed forces, the next-of-kin is entitled to what the veteran would have received had he or she lived to present the application in person.

For service outside the Continental United States at any time between Sept. 2, 1945 and Dec. 7, 1941, there is a maximum bonus payment of $250. For service of more than 60 days within Continental United States, the payment is $150; and for service of 60 days or less within Continental United States, the payment is $50. The payment to eligible next-of-kin is $250.

The Ulster County Chapter American Red Cross, 308 Clinton Avenue, may be contacted concerning the order of precedence of the eligible next-of-kin.

Forms for application for the bonus may be obtained from and filed with any local office of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs or from the Veterans' Bonus Bureau, New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs, Albany.

Art Student Tour

Forty art students and three chaperones, Mrs. Lillian Campbell, Mrs. Margaret Lyon who teaches in Highland, and Mrs. Brita Reed from the Central School Art Department, went on a field trip to New York City recently. They saw an exhibition of VonGogh's work at the Guggenheim Museum which was designed by Frank Lloyd Wright, as well as visit the Metropolitan Museum of Art with its many varied and well known masterpieces.

Some of the students also saw the show in the Museum of Modern Art. This museum had just recently been remodeled and enlarged and those who saw it for the second or third time were impressed by the changes, especially in the patio and garden area.

A short stop was also made by some of the group, to the museum of Contemporary Crafts where avant garde crafts of all kinds are exhibited.

Evaluation Is Given on Local School Personnel

NEW PALTZ—This is the 16th in a series of reports on the evaluation of New Paltz Central High School by the Middle States Association.

The evaluation of the school staff and administration was concerned with the numerical adequacy of all personnel; their effectiveness in performing their duties; staff improvement; the adequacy of salaries; teaching load policies; and the organization and management of attendance procedures, reports to parents, school schedule, and school finance.

The visiting committee found that the school has an adequate number of administrators, teachers, and professional non-instructional personnel such as nurse, specialists, and guidance counselors. The committee felt that the school has need for additional clerical and maintenance help, but that the existing personnel are handling their work loads as effectively as possible.

The committee commended the entire staff, administrators, the Board of Education, teachers, clerical, custodial and cafeteria staffs, for their good working relationships among themselves and with other staff departments. The Board was especially commended for being aware of the details of the management of the school and of the needs of the community. The administrators were found to be aware of the educational needs of the community, well qualified for their jobs, and actively involved in efforts to improve the total school program. The administration was especially commended for its comprehensive program to keep the pupil informed through press releases and newsletters.

It was recommended that the high school principal be freed from more of his clerical duties in order that he might spend more time orienting new teachers and working more intimately with curriculum development and improvement of instruction. It was also felt that the high school principal should be provided with an office commensurate with his position. The committee recommended that the school district office, including the board of education, business manager, and the supervising principal, be moved out of any building where any students are taught.

The committee felt that the teaching staff was cooperative and interested in doing a good job. It was recommended that teachers explore new teaching techniques, do more experimenting, and further utilize the findings of educational research in order to continue improvement of instruction. The facilities, staff, and leadership of the adult education program received strong commendation.

The teaching load was found to be too heavy in certain subject areas. Because of homogeneous grouping in all of the academic areas, each class period requires separate preparation. However, this matter has been considerably improved by the addition of new teachers since the time of the evaluation.

The professional and non-instructional salary schedules were found to be good in relation to local socio-economic conditions. The salaries for custodial and maintenance staff were rated, however, as somewhat sub-standard. The committee felt that attendance procedures, reports to parents, school schedule, and school finance were efficently organized and well managed.

The most important part of the evaluation is, of course, the rating of the total program and its effectiveness in meeting the collective and individual needs of the students. In this respect, the evaluating committee felt that the staff is making noteworthy progress. However, the committee urged the entire staff to continue to improve coordination within and between the various departments. The needs of the non-academic student, it is felt, require special attention.

Summer Music

Again this summer the New Paltz Central School offers a special opportunity to all pupils in the district who wish to continue their instrumental music lessons. Beginning lessons on all band instruments will also be given by Paul Steiner in the music room of the Central School.

There is no tuition charge, but there is an instrument rental charge for students who do not own instruments.

Lessons will begin on Monday, July 6 and end Friday, Aug. 21. Now is the time to enroll in the summer music program.

High School Has Awards Assembly

New Paltz High School held its annual awards assembly Friday. Students who participated in the various music organizations and who distinguished themselves at NYSSMA were recognized by George Bond, Stuart Krams and Paul Steiner.

Mrs. Ruth Frampton, librarian presented certificates to students who belonged to her Library Assistants Club and assisted her in library during their study periods.

Mrs. Marcella Leininger, distributed the awards in the business education department.

Thomas Benenati, giudance director, presented certificates to students who distinguished themselves by making the principal's list or honor roll.

John L. Wyman, high school principal, awarded letters to the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders. Bruce Grey, student council president, received the accomplishments of the council this year and assisted Mr. Wyman in giving keys to girls and tie pins to boys in the Student Council.

Vacation School Plans Announced

A summer vacation church school will again be sponsored by churches of the New Paltz area for all children interested in participating.

It will be held this summer beginning Monday, Aug. 17 and continuing for two weeks, ending Friday, Aug. 28. The school will be held in the Educational Building of the New Paltz Reformed Church, from 9 a. m. to noon. The theme will be, Jesus, Learning About Him and From Him.

The registrar will be Mrs. Alvin Beatty, and as soon as registration blanks are made available, they should be returned to her. A small registration fee will cover the cost of study, craft, and activity material, as well as the mid-morning daily snack.

All children from kindergarten through junior high age may attend.

Your Merc dealer invites you to compare the 9.8 hp Merc 110 with competitors' 9.5 hp fishing motor

Merc 110 is the lightest outboard in the 10 hp class ever built. Yet, it performs like a 12 hp, trolls like a 3 hp and weighs like a 5 hp outboard.

Merc 110 balances perfectly on the transom. You don't have to lean over the back of the boat to clamp it on . . . risking the chance of falling in the drink. Merc power plants are high enough to be at least as high as the transom. Unlike competitive outboards, it keeps its power dry.

Merc 110 has a tilted powerhead that prevents fuel "puddling" at any speed. It idles and trolls smoothly without flooding or misfiring on "raw" fuel. The fixed-jet carburetor is on the front of the motor toward the boat . . . not on the back. You don't have to get in the water when normal service is required.

Merc 110 has a unique Glide-Angle design that lets it slide up and over unseen obstacles . . . over sandbars and through shallows. No need to tilt it by hand. It corrects itself when you hit deep water again. There's no protruding nose on the front to harvest weeds, snag rocks or plow sand. It has no shear pins . . . a live rubber safety clutch protects the prop on impact.

Merc 110 has a Jet-Prop exhaust system. The exhaust is fired through the center of the propeller hub . . . burying the fumes, and with it the sound, far behind the boat. The exhaust fills the vacuum pocket that forms in back of propeller hubs, resulting in increased thrust and improved breathing of the engine.

There are many other features to COMPARE on a Merc 110 . . . and your Mercury dealer will be happy to have you make the comparison. See him soon. See how you get more RUN for your money with Mercury . . . 100, 85, 65, 50, 35, 20, 9.8, 6 and 3.9 hp outboards and MerCruiser Stern Drives . . . 110 to 310 hp gasoline; 60 and 100 hp diesel.

Capitol News in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

DISARMAMENT: Sen. Joseph S. Clark today blamed a belligerent congressional minority—and he included specifically Sen. Barry Goldwater—for blocking the road to complete and general disarmament.

This "boisterous belligerency in foreign policy," led by a self-perpetuating few, "is a constant drag to our efforts to wage the peace," said Clark, a Pennsylvania Democrat.

They rally against any treaty, "no matter how minor, with the Communist world," he said in a speech prepared for delivery to the General Assembly of United World Federalists.

Clark called upon advocates of disarmament to take "issue with the military-industrial complex and all those who, like Sen. Goldwater and many a Democratic senator, as well, pursue a belligerent line in foreign policy."

Goldwater, the front-running contender for the Republican presidential nomination, was the only member of Congress named by Clark in his speech.

TAXES: Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier, chief economic adviser to President Dwight D. Eisenhower a decade ago, has called for a halt to "the Kennedy-Johnson expenditure explosion."

Saulnier charged in a Republican panel's report issued on Thursday that many of the President's projected spending reductions are either "of doubtful practicability" or stem from "bookkeeping devices."

Johnson has used more of these bookkeeping devices "than any other administration in history," said Saulnier, a professor of economics at Columbia University, in the Republican Critical Issues Council Report.

WARREN COMMISSION: Marina Oswald testified again Thursday to the presidential commission investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and, a source close to the commission confirmed, was questioned about a report that her late husband threatened to kill Richard M. Nixon.

The source declined to reveal what answers the widow of Lee Harvey Oswald gave when questioned about the report and a second one that she had blocked an attempt on Nixon's life by locking Oswald in his room.

Mrs. Oswald refused to discuss her six-hour testimony and her attorney, William A. McKenzie, shielded her from newsmen's questions, even those she seemed disposed to answer.

Kennedy was murdered last Nov. 22 while riding in an open car through the streets of Dallas. Nixon had visited the city the day before, the day of the reported locked-room episode.

Federal and local authorities are convinced Oswald killed the president. Oswald subsequently was slain by Dallas nightclub operator Jack Ruby.

Some of the nomadic "blue men" of the Sahara reacted to a new cattle duty by shooting the tax collectors.

Carlino Has Praise For N. Y. Education

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (AP)—Higher education "bespeaks a responsibility for higher involvement in community affairs by those who have that education," Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino said today.

Carlino said New York State's vast expansion of college opportunity should reverse "the trend toward non-participation in the political and intellectual life. . . which some claim is the inevitable consequence of urbanization and industrialization."

In a speech prepared for commencement exercises at the State University Agricultural and Technical Institute here, Carlino said:

"No public effort in the field of increasing higher educational opportunity has matched the record of New York State in the past decade."

Youth Is Seized On Way to Pick Up Pay Check

A 32-hour manhunt by more than 50 policemen for George Emory Hastings, 20, of 476 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, ended Thursday night when troopers nabbed the youth as he went to a store to pickup his pay check.

Hastings is accused of the theft of five vehicles in Dutchess County. He was booked on charges of first and second degree grand larceny, escaping from custody and second degree assault.

Awaits Jury Action

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Francis T. Williams, Town of Fishkill, Hastings waived preliminary examination. He was committed to the Dutchess County Jail pending grand jury action.

The larceny charges involve the alleged thefts of five vehicles, including a sports car and a pickup truck. The assault charge accused him of attempting to run down a State Police BCI officer after the youth was cornered on a Poughkeepsie street following a chase.

According to Fishkill troopers, Hastings was picked up early Wednesday morning, after he was stopped for questioning about the car the youth was driving. Authorities suspected the vehicle had been stolen. As Hastings was being taken from a car to the Fishkill troopers station on Route 52, he bolted and disappeared in the darkness. Troopers combed the nearby wooded area but found no trace of the youth.

Sometime later, a car was stolen from Fishkill village. Hastings reportedly was spotted driving the vehicle towards Poughkeepsie, and two troopers gave chase. Troopers said Hastings was seen in the vicinity of Rose and Main Streets and a trooper fired three shots, but apparently missed his target.

During the getaway escapades of Hastings, authorities alleged, the youth stole two more cars and a pickup truck, which were later recovered.

Management Alerted

Investigators learned that Hastings had been employed at Bradlee's Store on South Road, and management was alerted. Last night, authorities said, Hastings went to the store to pickup a pay check. Two troopers cruising in the area were notified and they soon had the accused youth in custody, ending a 32-hour manhunt which was made by 50 policemen including state troopers and Poughkeepsie town and city police.

Before Hastings was caught, troopers thought he might have been hit by one or more of the bullets fired during a chase in Poughkeepsie. After the capture of the youth, authorities learned he had apparently been cut by particles of glass from a bullet-shattered getaway car.

Peterson, 19, of RD 1, Box 431C, Kingston and Burnt Taverns, Pa. Peterson was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Doctor's ambulance. His car is shown in photo. He suffered lacerations of the forehead and multiple bruises of the legs. Troopers said Rosenberg was traveling east and slowing to make a left turn, and Peterson following in his car when the crash occurred. Charges may be lodged, according to Trooper Robert Houghtaling. NEW YORK (AP)—The Student Admissions Center says about 60,000 places are still open in next semester's freshman classes of two-year and four-year accredited colleges.

"The problem is one of distribution of applications rather than a lack of physical space," he said.

Cyclists Injured, Collide With Auto

Two Dutchess County men were injured Thursday night when a motorcycle on which they were riding was in collision with a car on a highway north of the Dutchess-Columbia county line.

Claverack State Police said the motorcycle was operated by Lawrence Lawson, 20, of Tivoli, who was treated at the Northern Dutchess Hospital. A passenger, Leonard Hummel, 26, of Poughkeepsie, was treated by a Red Hook physician for multiple lacerations and abrasions of both legs.

Troopers reported the car was driven by Miss Rita N. Gruntler, 17, of Tivoli, who was uninjured. She was operating the vehicle with a learner's permit. The vehicles were traveling in opposite directions when the crash occurred on a curve.

State police summoned both drivers on charges of failing to keep to the right. The summonses are returnable before Justice of the Peace Guido Zilliani, Town of Clermont, at a later date.

Both riders on the motorcycle were ejected as the vehicles collided, troopers said.

Supervisors Asking State to Make Study

In a move, which Chairman Peter Williams (R), Saugerties called "the beginning of the end" for the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, the board of supervisors Thursday night voted 32 to 1 to have the State make a survey of the hospital facilities and determine whether 10 beds in the hospital may be set aside for treatment of non-tuberculosis pulmonary disease cases.

Williams, who voted for the resolution to have the study made, said "this is the beginning of the end of the TB hospital, so try your experiment." Williams noted that there had been attempts to close the TB hospital before and have patients transferred to other facilities. His contention now is that if the state approves use of a wing of the hospital for non-tuberculosis patients the hospital will eventually be closed as a TB hospital and patients transferred to other facilities.

Physicians for Move

The move to seek a state survey and authorization to use a 10-bed wing of the hospital for other than tuberculosis cases, came after Dr. Theodore S. Drachman, Ulster County Health Commissioner, had spoken on the matter. He said it "seemed advisable" to make the move and cited the action of the Ulster County Medical Society which advocated the change.

Dr. Drachman said due to new treatment and drugs the stay of tubercular patients in hospitals has been shortened and pointed to this as one of the reasons there are fewer beds being used. He said it was "seldom" that more than half the beds in the Ulster County hospital were occupied and the "census" had dropped to a point where occupancy was from 19 to 30. In winter months he said the number was greater. However, he said, they had to keep a full staff available and this made the per diem cost heavy.

Would Lower Cost

By admitting non-tuberculosis patients, he said, the per diem cost would be lowered. There would be no state-participation for non-tuberculous patients. TB patients care is state reimbursed at the rate of $5 per day.

At the last meeting of the board the resolution to seek state inspection and secure consent to divert 10 rooms to non-tuberculous cases, was tabled pending further study of the matter. Dr. Drachman appeared before the board Thursday evening to clarify certin matters prior to action on the matter.

Supervisor Clarence C. Raichle (R), 12th ward inquired whether the diversion of facilities might

$250,000 Is Needed on Courthouse

A special meeting of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors will be held at 8 p. m. Monday at which time the board will consider additional repairs and renovations to the courthouse.

In a report from the Building Committee Thursday night these repairs and alterations are estimated to cost $250,000.

This sum is in addition to the $225,772 spent so far on alterations and renovations.

The new program would include a new heating plant and air conditioning in the courthouse at an estimated cost of $100,000; heating the county jail, $50,000; renovation and repair at the 74 John Street office building $20,000; renovation of sheriff's office $15,000; renovation of supreme court room and library $55,000; pointing up exterior of courthouse where paint was sand-blasted, $10,000.

At the May meeting the board adopted a resolution authorizing the firm of Augustus R. Schrowang Associates to make a study of the project at no cost to the county and submit a report on cost.

To Figure Cost Spread

Accompanying the report of the Building Committee was a table reflecting the cost to each town and the City of Kingston if the proposed $250,000 cost were to be spread, ad valorum, over the entire county as well as the rate per $1,000 of assessed valuation based on the 1964 assessment rolls in each town and the city and the yearly rate based on a five-year projection of the proposed amount.

The Building committee in its report signed by Chairman Peter Williams (R), Saugerties, recommended that plans and specifications be prepared and the work be put up for bid at the earliest possible date.

The table showed that the amount to be raised on Kingston property was $46,728.94, an increase of $1.65 in the tax rate or 23 cents spread over a five year period.

A $100,000 false arrest action brought against the county and others by George Hagipolis was settled for $100. The action grew out of the arrest of Hagipolis by Police Officer George Dougherty back in 1958 on a bench warrant which had been issued for an-

An announcement from Kingston High School today said that report cards were distributed this morning for the six-week period ending the last of May. Parents or guardians are requested to examine them prior to adding their signatures for return of the cards.

$20,000 Voted to Finish Ulster College Survey

The first step toward development of the Stone Ridge site for the Ulster County Community College campus was taken Thursday night by the board of Supervisors when $20,000 was made available for completion of preliminary studies so that a site plan, space need plan and a campus development plan can be submitted to the State University as a pre-requisite to approval of plans for individual buildings.

In a report by the Community College Committee, signed by all members, it was stated that since the recent visit and inspection of the proposed campus site there had been a meeting with the college trustees.

On file was a communication from the Sites Facilities Committee of the board of trustees requesting $20,000 for completion of preliminary studies by the architect and engineer.

Brinnier and Larios, engineers, reported that a feasible solution has been found to the drainage of sewage affluent at the site. By running approximately 3,600 feet of pipe from the proposed sewage plant to and along Cottekill road to an existing stream, at an estimated cost of $18,000, it will not be necessary to get formerly proposed easements.

With this impediment to the further development removed, the committee recommended that the request for $20,000 to complete preliminary studies be granted.

This sum will be appropriated as follows:

For borings if needed $3,500. $16,500 to be applied to architects and engineering fees. The entire $20,000 shall be charged against any future bond issue for capital construction. The money will be raised by a budget note to be retired from funds made available upon the subsequent bond authorization and issuance for capital construction at the college site.

On motion of Majority Leader James A. Rapp (R), First Ward, the Budget Note was unanimously approved.

In an announcement made following the board's action on Supervisor Abram F. Molyneaux's resolution calling for the $20,000 appropriation, Trustee Bernard A. Feeney, chairman of the Sites and Facilities

Scranton Joins '64 Field To 'Offer Party A Choice'

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania today announced his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination "to offer our party a choice."

The 46-year-old governor and former congressman has been saying for almost a year that he would accept only a "sincere and honest draft."

Says Danger Faces Party

In an 11th-hour speech arranged only Thursday night for the Republican State Convention of Maryland, Scranton declared the Republican party "is in danger if we let an exclusion-minded minority dominate our platform and choose our candidates."

"I have come here to offer our party a choice. I reject the echo we have thus far been handed, the echo of fear, or reaction, the echo from the never-never land that puts our nation backward to a lesser place in the world of free men," he said.

CR Key Factor

The announcement by Scranton puts him in direct opposition to Sen. Barry Goldwater. The Arizona Republican presently holds a commanding lead in the battle for national convention delegates.

A key factor in Scranton's decision, sources said, was Goldwater's vote on Wednesday against ending the filibuster in the Senate on civil rights legislation. Scranton long has been an outspoken advocate of civil rights.

Goldwater has indicated he would vote against the civil rights bill itself unless it is changed to meet his specifications.

In announcing his candidacy, Scranton joins a field of GOP contenders that includes Goldwater, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Maine Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, and former Minnesota Gov. Harold Stassen.

Goldwater was not available immediately for comment.

In New York a spokesman for Rockefeller said the governor will not change his position "one bit."

Michigan Gov. George Romney, an outspoken opponent of many of Goldwater's views, has said he is not seeking the nomination, but will campaign for a strong platform along lines of the 1960 platform.

He had no immediate comment on Scranton's plans.

Scranton's announcement was

Mones Is Elected To Presidency of City Water Board

Melvin Mones, who has served as secretary of the Board of Water Commissioners, was elected its president at the board's annual meeting Thursday night and Ellsworth Johnson was elected secretary.

Edmund T. Cloonan, water department superintendent, reporting a May rainfall of only 1.97 inches, said it was the lowest since 1925 for the month. The May, 1963 total was 2.45 inches, and the average in 39 years of records is 4.12 inches for the month.

County Building Is Ahead Of Time, Opening in Fall

Work on the new $1,445,000 Ulster County Office Building on Main Street is ahead of schedule, except for the ironwork on the entrance lobby.

The architects, Augustus R. Schrowang and Associates, report the work has progressed to such an extent that the building will be fully enclosed by July 13. At present work on installing the exterior "skin" and the windows has been completed on much of the lower portion of the building.

Complete in Fall

It is believed the building will be completed for occupancy by late fall.

A tour of the building by a Freeman reporter Wednesday disclosed that much of the interior work has been completed and other work is well underway on all six stories, which will house all of the county departments with the exception of the judiciary and the sheriff's department. These two will remain in the newly renovated court house on Wall Street.

Two Elevators in Building

The first of its kind to be erected in this locality, the metal and glass enclosed structure presents many innovations. Among them is the tinted thermo-pane glass windows, the two hydraulic-lift elevators which are said to be the highest of their kind in the state. The elevators which will serve all floors have a lift of 78 feet and are semi-fast, having a speed of 200 feet per minute.

Tinted glass windows, which have an appearance of being almost black from the outside, are unusually easy on the eye from the interior and give excellent outdoor vision, while cutting the sunglare.

Install Vaults

Installation of the large record vaults on the floors occupied by the Motor Vehicle Bureau, county clerk, county treasurer and surrogate is well underway and are being constructed so that in later years, if needed, expansion could be accomplished at modest cost.

Interior walls will be of the movable type, easily altered to accommodate changes in office areas.

The entire building is airconditioned from a central plant in the basement and numerous thermostatic controls throughout the building give "zone-control" of both heating and airconditioning.

Entrance to the building will be through a main lobby off Fair Street. On the first floor will be the Motor Vehicle Bureau offices,

State Police To Have 3,500 Men, 9 Troops

Reorganization plans for the New York State Police providing for increase in strength from its present seven troops to nine, and its personnel from 2,400 to 3,500 have been completed.

Supt. Arthur Cornelius Jr. discussed the reorganization plans Thursday in Albany with Dr. George F. Chandler of Kingston, organizer of the state police force and its first superintendent.

Estimates 3,500 Men

Dr. Chandler, 92, and retired from police work and practice of medicine, was Supt. Cornelius' guest at the division headquarters new facilities at the State Campus. As he looked over the reorganization map, Dr. Chandler told the superintendent, "You'll need at least 3,500 men to make it work."

Dr. Chandler, whose original plans for the State Police in 1917 called for 12 troops, yesterday declared the reorganization plan "a perfect set up for a State Police organization."

Discussing the plan, Supt. Cornelius said, "all that remains is the actual physical expansion of of the division to conform to the reorganization plan." He noted that the new super-State Police would take care of the state's needs for the next 20 years.

Proposed Plans

According to the proposed reorganization of the division:

(a)—The state will be divided into eight troops instead of the present six, with the Thruway detail, Troop T, making the ninth.

(b)—Virtually all existing troops, except Troop T will be reduced in size to make the two new troops.

(c)—Portions of Troop A (far west) C (south central) and D (central) will be taken to make Troop E, to be located between existing Troops A and D. Troop B (north) will lose Jefferson and Lewis Counties to the reshaped Troop D.

(d)—Troop F, a new troop, will be composed of Greene, Ulster, Orange and Rockland Counties, which will be pared from Troops G, C and K.

(e)—Troop K will gain Columbia County from Troop G, and Troop K's function will be solely on the east side of the Hudson River and the eastern half of Long Island.

Rhymer Absolved On Tool Dispute With Employer

Charges against Edward Rhymer, 50, of 125 Hasbrouck Avenue, involving the alleged theft of tools, were withdrawn recently and the defendant was absolved of all guilt in a ruling issued by Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Robert S. Stedge.

Rhymer had been charged on a warrant for grand larceny second degree involving some tools borrowed from his employer. Rhymer told the court he was holding the tools as a lien for back wages.

The ruling signed by Judge Stedge stated that the charges were without any foundation and Rymer was released.

400 Other Places Are Still Awaiting Bill

Kingston, as was feared earlier this month, will not have to wait out future action of Congress to continue with downtown's Broadway East urban renewal project, it was announced today

George E. Yerry Jr., Kingston Housing Authority chairman, said Congressman J. Ernest Wharton has advised him that approval has been given to the authority's plan for public housing in the Broadway East urban renewal area.

Had Doubts Here

It was announced June 5 that public housing and urban renewal throughout the nation, and possibly in Kington, was in jeopardy unless Congress acts on a new housing bill.

Yerry said an executed copy of an agreement with the Public Housing Administration has been received, and added:

"The housing authority wishes to express its sincere appreciation to Mr. Herman D. Hillman, regional director of the PHA for his extreme cooperation in fulfilling prior committments made in connection with our project, and to Congressman J. Ernest Wharton for his assistance.

City Is Fortunate

"Kingston is fortunate in securing this executed agreement in view of requests from 400 communities in the United States for similar projects, which will have to wait for future Congressional action, if any.

"This project will provide 115 low-rent apartments to assist in relocation required in urban renewal, and 20 apartments for senior citizens."

Other members of the authority are Max Mones, John DeGasperis, Robert Slover, and Benjamin A. Storms. Alexander Yosman is executive director, and former Mayor Frederick H. Stang is counsel to the authority.

Sends Contract

Regional Director Hillman's letter to the authority said:

"We are enclosing an executed contract of the Consolidated Annual Contributions Contract dated June 10, 1964. By this contract, the provisions relating to Equal Opportunity in Housing, pursuant to Executive Order No. 11063 are mandatory in their application to the 135 dwelling units comprising Project NY-45-1.

"The enclosed contract also includes the provisions relating to Equal Employment Opportunity required by Executive Order No. 11114.

Praises Authority

"Your progress represents a significant achievement of the commissioners of the authority in its efforts to serve the needs of the entire community. It will make possible for the benefit of all your fellow citizens, an increase in the supply of decent, safe and sanitary housing for eligible low-income families, and a corresponding decrease in existing sub-standard housing.

"As you continue with the final steps toward the construction of Project No. NY-45-1, you will have our best wishes for success, and assurances of the cooperation of our staff. By working for the earliest possible date for the start of construction, the authority will be contributing to

Little League Drive

It was announced today by officials of the National Little League that the annual fund drive for support will be held Saturday, starting at 10:30 a. m. Youngsters, dressed in their uniforms, will canvass through the day in wards four, five, six, seven, eight and nine.

Severance Puts Off Drug Trial

Trial of an indictment charging sale and possession of a narcotic by two local men, was put over until the opening of the September term of County Court Thursday after a motion for severance was made in one of the cases.

The indictment charges Anthony A. Vasi, 30, who gave his address as a Route 9W motel, and Robert H. Harrell, 31, of 60 Van Buren Street, with possession and sale of a narcotic. They were apprehended last January after a month long investigation by local police into the alleged sale and possession of narcotics in the area.

Early in January police arrested 10 persons during a weekend raid on the alleged sale and possession of narcotics.

Counsel for Vasi moved for a severance on the grounds his client would be prejudiced if the two defendants, named in one indictment, went to trial together. He moved to sever the indictment and allow his client to be tried separately, claiming that if tried together his client would be prejudiced before the jury.

Separate Trials

District Attorney David W. Corwin consented to the motion for severance and Surrogate Judge Francis X. Tucker, who was sitting as county judge in place of County Judge Raymond J. Mino, who is holding a term of court in New City, Rockland County, granted the motion. Vasi and Harrell will have separate trials.

In view of the granting of the motion for severance in the Vasi case, Charles Saccoman, counsel for Harrell, asked that trial of the Harrell case be put over to September.

Attorney Objects

District Attorney Corwin said he was ready to begin trial in Saccoman objected and he had the Harrell case on Monday. Saccoman objected and he had no knowledge of severance application until the present and told the Court he had been taken by surprise and was not prepared to try the Harrell case separate from the other. Both were named in the same indictment, Saccoman said, and he had been prepared to go to trial with both defendants ready.

Judge Tucker granted his motion and also put the Harrell case over to September 1 at 2 p. m. Bail in both cases was continued.

Other Cases

Carl William Polick, 22, Wawarsing, charged with third degree burglary, petit larceny and unlawful entry entered a plea of innocent and his case was adjourned to June 29 at 2 p. m. for motions. Bail was continued on application of his counsel Charles Saccoman.

Esopus to Seek Aid On Tax-Exempt Land

The formation of a committee to seek possible state legislative assistance in providing relief to townships with an inordinate amount of tax-exempt properties was the principal item of business resulting from this week's meeting of Esopus Town Board held at the Town Hall, Port Ewen.

In one of the fire districts in the township, $1,700,000 of an assessed valuation slightly in excess of $2,000,000, is tax-exempt, it was reported at the meeting.

The formation of the committee by Supervisor Roger W. Mabie was sparked by a request made by Connelly and Connelly, Kingston attorneys, on behalf of Science and Art Camps, Inc. of New York City for tax-exempt status. Science and Arts Camps recently acquired the former Camp Chiwanda property located off River Road, Port Ewen.

Science and Arts Camps is an educational, non-profit organization that operates a number of day camps in the metropolitan New York area and a residence camp in Connecticut for gifted children of high intelligence and talent. They propose to operate the Port Ewen property as another residence camp.

Esopus Town Board did not question the objectives or the merits of the Science and Arts Camp group. They did, however, question the fairness of the existing tax laws that permits an organization to come into a township and obtain tax-exempt status, when the operating organization is from outside of the township and when in all probability all of the children who would benefit from the camp would come from areas outside

Septic Tank System Approved For New School at Saugerties

Saugerties Board of Education this week announced it has received permission to discharge the 100 per cent pure effluent from the sewer system of the proposed new school at Blue Mountain into the Plattekill Creek.

The plan, announced at the time the site was purchased, created a storm of protests from area sportsmen's clubs and property owners downstream along the creek.

The sewerage control system for the Grant D Morse Elementary School consisting of a septic tank, several filter beds, clorinator and a lagoon for aeration, was approved by the Bureau of Water Resource Service of the State Health Department.

Architect Albert E. Milliken said this system is one of the few 100 per cent purification plants in the county.

The system is as follows:

After the septic tank liquid is clorinated, it travels through several sub-surface filter beds and eventually flows into a lagoon for aeration to dissipate the chlorine. The 100 per cent pure effluent is then discharged into the Plattekill Creek, the architect said.

Milliken reported that rough grading and preparation of the site at the Grant D. Morse School had been completed and that rock is being removed and the new approach to Washington Avenue graded at the high school.

At the Mount Marion School the roof deck will be completed within the next few days and the building closed in by next week. Concrete is presently being poured. He stated that although he had made numerous contacts with the State Education Department, final approval of plans for the Grant D. Morse School and the high school addition has not been received because of the heavy work load on state personnel.

The board voted adoption of a new policy regarding part-time study at the high school. To be accepted for part-time attendance, a pupil must now be a qualified senior or a candidate for graduation at the end of the school year and must submit a request for part-time attendance. Pupils carrying less than the regular four academic subjects may be required to file a request. Approval will hinge upon results of pupil, parent and teacher conferences and other the alleviation of the nation's current employment problems, which in some localities constitute an emergency."

The Freeman noted June 5 that a housing official had reported recently at Columbus, Ohio that unless Congress acts in the near future, projects involving some 40,000 homes in the nation would have to be shelved, with 400 communities involved

City Reassured

It was felt that this situation might affect projects, such as those in Kingston, which have been in progress for some time, but Yerry's announcement today serves as reassurance to the city that it may proceed. Actual start of the Broadway East project is expected in the fall.

A newsletter of the Association of Housing and Redevelopement Officials, issued May 29, reporting on the "Housing and Community Developement Act of 1964" said: "After early February hearings on the housing bill, no further action has transpired. Reports from the Housing Sub-committees of the House and Senate have not been released. This bill has not appeared among the priority bills listed by the President for passage before Congress adjourns for the nominating conventions. There is increasing discussion about the possibility of an abbreviated bill for 1964, which could contain authorizations for public housing and urban renewal for a one-year period. Such activity would postpone major legislative activity until next year."

No Delay Here

Today's announcement means that Kingston will not be affected by any such delays, if they occur, but more recent applications for federal aid could be.

Long filibustering on civil rights, now ended, it was indicated, has affected the housing bill and others.

Charged With Assault

Charged with third degree assault, Samuel Rotella, Broad Street Hollow, Town of Lexington, pleaded guilty Thursday before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Jenkins, that township. Rotella received a 30-day suspended sentence. The complainant was Eva Storey, Lexington. Troopers L. J. Little and R. P. Tompkins, Leeds sub-station, made the arrest.

Check 3 Car Fires In Kingston City

Firemen checked two automobile fires today and one last night believed to have been caused by cigarettes thrown on rear seats while they were parked.

One reported at 11:43 p. m. Thursday damaged the car of Lester Jansen of 151 Hasbrouck Avenue on Hasbrouck Avenue. Firemen said it was believed to have been started by a cigarette thrown through a window. A unit from Central Station responded to the call.

Another caught fire while it was in the North Front Street parking lot this morning. It was owned by Wheels Inc., of Chicago, and driven by Joseph Graham, of Tivoli, who quenched the blaze with a pail of water and drove it to Wiltwyck Fire Station to be checked.

A call at 12:17 p. m. today was for another car fire on Hoffman Street. Its owner was not immediately determined. The rear seat cushion was damaged. A unit from Central Station responded to the call.

John G. Long, charged with third degree burglary, petit larceny and unlawful entry, sought to be treated as a Youthful Offender. He allegedly entered the Salzmann bakery and Wagner's delicatessen on Broadway last April. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant.

George W. Nace also charged with third degree burglary petit larceny and unlawful entry, was adjudged eligible to be treated as a Youthful Offender and his case was adjourned to July 6. Marshall Lipton appeared for defendant.

Esopus to . . .

of the township. Science and Arts Camps had already received tax-exempt status from the U. S. Internal Revenue Service, the States of New York and Conneticut, and City of New York. Under the circumstances, Esopus Town Board could do little but grant their request, Supervisor Mabie said.

The current request for tax exemption gave further emphasis to the large number of religious and educational institutions that already enjoy tax-exempt status in the Town of Esopus.

It was pointed out that the assessed valuation in Esopus Fire District, one of the town's five fire districts and the one in which most of the present religious and educational institutions are located, is slightly in exeess of $2,000,000, while approximately $1,700,000 of this figure is tax-exempt. Tax exempt properties do not pay general or highway taxes, although they do pay school taxes, fire district and other special district taxes.

At Supervisor Mabie's suggestion, the committee was formed to contact other townships with substantial tax-exempt properties, with a view towards jointly approaching area state legislative representatives for the possible introduction of legislation that would give tax relief or assistance to the townships involved. Area townships with large tax-exempt properties within their boundries are the Town of New Paltz, and the Towns of Hyde Park and Rhinebeck in Dutchess County. The resolution providing for the establishment of the committee was moved by Councilman Sol Rosenthal and the committee appointed consisted of Supervisor Mabie, Councilman Rosenthal and Justice of the Peace Allan S. Dargie.

Formal permission was given to the group attempting to form an Ulster-Dutchess County Natural History Museum to utilize the former West Park School building for museum purposes. The group contemplates the holding of a series of natural history lectures and the setting up of a series of exhibits.

The property was recently acquired by the Town of Esopus by gift from the Highland Central School District. Esopus Town Board feels that it is particularly appropriate for the building to be used for natural history purposes, as John Burroughs,, the famous naturalist, was for years a resident of West Park. A contract to make roof repairs to the building was awarded to B. C. Potter and Sons, Port Ewen.

It was announced that through the kindness of Zale Liese, who provided the available land, the town removed a number of abandoned automobiles from lower Port Ewen and disposed of them by burial. Liese is presently levelling off a tract of land he owns, at the northern end of the village, adjacent to the area from which the old autos were removed.

The report of the audit of the town's records for 1961 and 1962 was received from the State Department of Audit and Control. The only criticisms involved the purchase of fuel oil and water pipe in amounts in excess of $1,000 without competitive bidding and the payment of year end highway vouchers with the next year's tax monies. It was pointed out by the Town Board that the water pipe had been purchased as an emergency measure in 1961 to reach Esopus Lake and had been authorized by the Ulster County Health Department, and that the current highway budget had been increased to prevent a reoccurence of the highway item.

A letter was received from the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers pertaining to the proposed periodic maintenance dredging of Rondout Creek to maintain a 12-foot channel to Eddyville. The board agreed to jointly support the Town of Ulster and the City of Kingston in urging the carrying out of the dredging.

Other items of interest resulting from the meeting will appear in Saturday's Daily Freeman.

State Police . . .

F, will be required under the reorganization, and relocation of at least one other troop headquarters facility will be ncessary.

It was pointed out that the reorganization plan follows closely the recommendations made in 1958-59 of the Division of the Budget's 18-month survey.

Cornelius agreed with Dr. Chandler that at least 3,500 men will be needed to carry out the reorganization. The superintendent said about 3,000 uniformed men and another 500 men in the Bureau of Criminal Investigation will make up the new personnel.

The eighth troop will be added in two to four years, the superintendent stated. The ninth troop will become a reality thereafter.

Former Area Man Picked Up for Parole Violation

Local FBI agents today said they had been notified that Burgell Thomas Krow, 33, who had lived for some time in the Kingston and Saugerties areas, and who was wanted for violation of his "conditional release" from a federal prison, is in custody at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Krow was sentenced in Minneapolis, Minn., on May 16, 1961 to three years for car theft involving the crossing of state lines and was committed to the federal prison at Danbury, Conn. His maximum term would have extended into this year, but for good behavior, and other considerations, he was released Aug. 22, 1963.

His parole status immediately after release from prison involved federal parole officers in the Saugerties area. On Sept. 16, 1963, this was changed to permit him to go to Massachusetts. The new arrangement was violated, and a federal parole violation warrant was issued on Nov. 4, 1963.

Reports earlier this year said Krow had been seen in the Kingston area and all area police were notified.

An FBI notice bearing his description and other details cautioned police that the "Subject has a very extensive criminal record, which includes numerous escapes from custody."

Local FBI agents were notified by a Washington, D. C. teletype message that Krow had been taken into custody by FBI agents at Daytona Beach, June 9. He was to be returned to prison.

Boys Held for Thefts To Build Sailing Raft

Two boys, who police said, built a raft from wood and steel pieces allegedly taken from the junk yard of B. Millen's & Sons, East Strand, were apprehended by sheriff's deputies on the Sleightsburgh side of the Rondout Creek.

Police were notified at 8:55 p. m. that the boys were sailing in the creek on the raft, and Officers John Crespino and Anthony Turck were dispatched to investigate. They reported that the boys, who are juveniles, had sailed across the creek.

The sheriff's office was notified and the boys were apprehended by deputy sheriffs Ronald Dietz and Cyrus Countryman and were brought to police headquarters for questioning.

Several incidents of theft and vandalism at the Millens property have been reported within the past few months, and it was reported today that hundreds of windows have been broken in buildings there during the past two years.

Tri-Mount Opens July 5

Registration PointsTo Big Scout Year

With only a few weeks to go until opening day, registration at the Tri-Mount Scout Reservation in East Jewett is building up to be the biggest ever. Camp Tri-Mount, owned and operated by the Rip Van Wingle Council, BSA, for Scouts in Ulster and Greene Counties, can accommodate up to 170 Scouts and Leaders each week during the six-week season. With some 850 boy-weeks already registered in advance, it appears likely that the 1964 attendance will exceed even last year's record-breaking 906 boy-weeks.

The camp will open Sunday, July 5.

Lists Improvements

Henry P. Eighmey of Kingston, camping chairman for the Rip Van Winkle Council, has announced that there will be several major improvements in the physical facilities at Tri-Mount this summer. Chief among these are a shower-house for campers where hot showers will be available, and a new swimming dock at the waterfront. Also, the new rifle range east of the Moseman House is rapidly taking shape, under the direction of Sherwood F. Lasher, of Kingston. It is expected that the new range will be ready for use by camp-opening time, even if not completed in all details. Additionally, the new dining hall, used for the first time in 1963, has had several additions and refinements in the intervening months, and is now virtually completed. The Nature Lodge addition, which doubles the work area of the lodge, is being constructed by Harry Slobodian of Saugerties, and will be ready for use by opening day.

Camp Director John Vliet, of Catskill, has announced that the complete camp staff has been hired, except for the cook's helper. Program Director Stewart Glenn, of New Paltz, and Waterfront Director-Chaplain Donald Spencer, of Wilbraham, Mass., are attending the National Camping School from June 7 to 13. This school is conducted by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the Schiff Scout Reservation, National Training Center in Mendham, N. J.

Others on Staff

The remainder of the staff for 1964 is as follows: Provisional Scoutmasters, Clement Hulick of Greenville and Richard Nixdorf of Woodstock; Nature Director, Andrew Davidson of West Hurley; Nature Assistant, Robert Kelly of Kingston; Campcraft Director, John Mullaney of Saugerties; Campcraft Assistant, Jerome White of Poughkeepsie; Activities Director, William Daum of Kingston; Activities Assistants, Michael Atkins of Centerville and Robert Petery of Highland.

Assistant Waterfront Director, Michael Angstrom of Kingston; Waterfront Assistants, Peter Wells and James Winslow of Kingston, and Donald Decker of Catskill; Trading Post Director, George Loucks of East Jewett; Camp Clerk and Assistant Storekeeper, David Pelham of Catskill; Ranger-Driver, Douglas Eighmey of Kingston.

Returning for his fifth season as chef will be James Garland of Albany. Dining hall steward will be Bruce Safford of Kingston. Kitchen Assistants are Michael Van De Mark of Kingston and Henry Weiss of Catskill.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JUNE 12, 1964

DISPLAY THE FLAG

Sunday, June 14 the entire nation will pause to observe the 187th birthday of the American Flag, which was adopted in 1777.

While the observance is nation-wide, Flag Day has a special significance in New York State for it was at Fort Stanwix in Rome, New York, according to tradition, that the red, white and blue colors were first raised in battle, during the American Revolution. And it was in New York that the first official public observance of Flag Day was proclaimed by a state official in 1897. That year, the Governor ordered the display of "Old Glory" over all the public buildings in the state, leading the way to national recognition of our flag's birthday.

Meeting in Philadelphia, the Continental Congress adopted this resolution: "That the flag of the United States shall be of 13 stripes of alternate red and white with a union of 13 stars of white in a blue field, representing the new constellation.

Every citizen should participate in this important historical event—the showing of our devotion to the national emblem—by displaying the flag. It is a public manifestation of respect to those who sacrificed and suffered to keep it flying.

Because of its spiritual values, which the flag symbolizes for all Americans, it should be shown with pride and reverence on Sunday.

ELECTION REPORTING

The "California question" still hovers in the background as the nation girds itself for the party conventions and the big election showdown in November:

Did the broadcasting of a computer decision of a Goldwater victory in the primary more than a half hour before polls closed in Rockefeller-strong northern California, have an effect on the voting? If so, was it good or bad?

The consensus of both Republicans and Democrats seems to be that it had a definite influence, and that it wasn't good.

Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Tex., chairman of the House sub-committee on communications, fears that the combination of increasingly rapid returns from the polls and the three-hour time differential between East and West coasts could create "a very serious situation" in national elections.

He suggests, cautiously, the possibility of some kind of legislation controlling election reporting, but prefers the broadcasting industry to come up with its own solution.

The big problem is California, which as long ago as 1916 overturned the presidential election decision of the East. In 1960, news media had declared John F. Kennedy president while Californians were still going to the polls.

Whether this had anything to do with Nixon's victory in California, electronic computing and predicting and reporting will pose even more of an unknown quantity in 1964.

And now that California has only two less electoral votes than New York—only nine less than the eight New England states combined—its role as kingmaker, or breaker, is further enhanced.

Restrictions on election return reporting or predicting, which would involve questions of free speech and press, as well as natural human emotions, do not seem feasible. Neither does a suggestion that East and West split the time difference — the East opening and closing its polls later, the West earlier.

Maybe Californians ought to vote on Monday, the day before the rest of the country, with the vote count withheld.

Then on Tuesday evening, after the other states had elected the new president, the California surprise package could be opened to see who really did win.

WHO'S READY TO SUE THE SENATE?

Williamsburg, Va. — Senator Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota has proposed a simple and effective way of ending filibusters against civil rights or whatever in the United States Senate. Just let the U. S. Supreme Court proclaim them unconstitutional.

This idea, which sounds so startling, was seriously proposed here in Williamsburg by the Senator in a talk before the annual Williamsburg International Assembly of foreign graduate students of American universities. The Senator based his proposal on the wording of the Constitution, which does not direct the Senate to apply the two-thirds rule to a vote on shutting off debate. If the Founding Fathers had intended a two-thirds vote to sanction cloture, so the Senator says, they would have said as much, just as they did in specifying a two-thirds vote in the case of ratifying treaties with foreign governments.

The Senator's theory that any citizen could bring suit to force the Senate to apply majority rule save in constitutionally enumerated exceptions is certainly a novel one. It would raise the hackles of a lot of people who would see in it an unwarranted judicial intrusion on the Senate's right to make its own rules. But McCarthy notes that the Supreme Court, in the legislative reapportionment and redistricting cases, has interfered with the rights of the states to set their own voting qualifications and procedures. If the Warren Court did not boggle over telling state legislatures what they must do, it might not be averse to applying its philosophical principles to the U. S. Senate.

The Senator, of course, has good reason under the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution for making his proposal. For the Tenth Amendment reserves to the states, or to the citizens, all rights and powers that are not specifically delegated to the Federal government, And the Constitution, when it provided for the exception of a two-thirds vote on treaty ratifications, clearly implied that a simple majority vote in the Senate should be enough to pass an ordinary law or deal with an ordinary situation.

What the Senator does not reckon with, however, is that if the Tenth Amendment were ever to be taken seriously again by the Supreme Court, it might be invoked by litigaiton-happy citizens to reverse much New Deal and post-New Deal legislation and also some of the Supreme Court's own recent decisions. For example, the Constitution is silent on the educational practices of the states. Strict construction of the Tenth Amendment would certainly permit a local Virginia county to shut down its public schools if it were so minded. Strict construction of the Tenth Amendment would permit Connecticut and Colorado to determine their own geographical representation in local legislatures.

It was suggested to Senator McCarthy that, if a citizen were to bring suit against the U. S. Senate for infringing upon his rights by denying the application of majority rule to shutting off debate on such topics as civil rights, the government might fall back on the old argument that it does not have to recognize suits against itself. But when a newspaper reporter for the Hartford Courant in Connecticut brought suit to compel reapportionment in his home state, the action was accepted as valid. Senator McCarthy thinks it entirely possible that a suit to compel the U. S. Senate to abide by majority decisions save in the case of an enumerated exception would have to be accepted in court.

The Senator professed to foresee a great clamor in favor of his proposition in case the present proposed civil rights legislation is vitiated by an unwillingness on the part of one-third of the Senate to apply cloture. (Of course, Mr. McCarthy's plan would be available again if a filibuster recurs.) But the clamor against his idea would certainly be strong in the South, which continues to think that some mechanism for applying the old John C. Calhoun regional "concurrent veto" is a necessity if differing cultures are to be happily reconciled. The two-thirds rule on cloture, whether it is constitutionally legal or not, represents the last lingering stand of the old states' rights theory. It would be a queer irony if the states old shield and buckler of the Tenth Amendment were to be used to do the two-thirds rule on cloture in.

54 Years of Calisthenics Keep Him Physically Fit

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I am now 80 years old and I still take two 20-minute periods of calisthenics every day. Back in 1910, I started brushing myself all over every day with a stiff brush. Is this harmful?

A—I assume that the stiff brush you have been using for 54 years is not a wire brush. I don't believe it could be very harmful or you would have found reason to give it up years ago. The calisthenics are an important aid to fitness and the brushing can stimulate the circulation of the skin if it is not overdone. Since rubbing with a Turkish towel will accomplish the same purpose and is less likely to injure the skin, you might want to consider switching.

Q—I am a housewife, 22 years old. About two years ago my toenails started to become thick and hard. What could cause this?

A—The toenails are much more likely to become thickened than the fingernails. In some persons this is an inherited trait. In others, wearing shoes that are too short may be the cause, especially if the nails are not kept trimmed. When outward growth of the nails is thus impeded the nails tend to become thick and to curve downward.

Q—What is chondrodystrophy?

A—Chondrodystrophy or achondroplasia means that the bones of the arms and legs are very short but the rest of the skeleton is of normal proportions. The victim is a type of dwarf as opposed to the midget who is abnormally small, but perfectly formed. Since chondrodystrophy is usually an inherited characteristic, there can be no corrective treatment. A child with this type of dwarfism is normal mentally, but is likely to suffer a lot of teasing from thoughtless playmates. He will, moreover, need realistic guidance in planning his future as an adult.

Q—I am bothered with gouty arthritis. Can you give me a list of foods that will help to control this disease?

A—For you it is not so much a matter of eating certain foods as meats, especially glandular cuts (kidney, liver, sweetbreads); meat extracts (bouillon cubes); fish, including shellfish, (caviar and shad roe are permitted); fowl and lentils. There is danger—but to a lesser degree—in asparagus, cauliflower, kidney beans, navy beans, lima beans, mushrooms, spinach, rye bread graham crackers, whole wheat bread, shredded wheat and wheat flakes.

These items should be taken sparingly. All other foods can be taken as desired.

The News Isn't All Bad

BY BRUCE BIOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Defeated though he may now be, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York has brought to the Republican political scene one of the most warmly admired and respected men ever to move about on the campaign trail.

He is George L. Hinman, 58, the governor's top political associate, New York Republican national committeeman, lawyer, holder of many Rockefeller portfolios.

Hard-crusted party professionals speak of Hinman above all as a man of unexampled quality — gentlemanly, diplomatic, fair and straight in his dealings, knowledgeable, and incredibly hard working. Some suggest they have never quite seen his equal in politics.

Rockefeller, hearing frequent complaint that his camp in 1959-60 lacked a real grasp of national party politics, commissioned Hinman in 1961 to correct the situation.

THIS LAWYER FROM BINGHAMTON thereupon set out on an almost continuous round of political travels across the country, attending every important party meeting no matter where held, joining in fund-raising dinners, shaking hands with hundreds of politicians.

This undertaking quickly turned George Hinman into one of the most proficient professionals in the nation. And, until the moment of the governor's remarriage in May, 1963, it had so prepared the groundwork that Rockefeller's nomination for the presidency this year was taken for granted in many circles.

Says a man who observes Hinman closely:

"He is carrying around in his head the most complete information on major party political figures ever put together in this country."

FROM THE OUTSET, no matter what his immediate purpose, Hinman made it a practice never to move into any territory without first calling on and making accommodation with the party regulars there. This is one of his most admired habits.

A former Wisconsin GOP chairman, Claude Jasper, once dreamed up this incident to express his appreciation:

"George and the governor are flying over my state in a twin-engined aircraft. An engine conks out. The plane is faltering badly. But Hinman radios me, requesting permission to land."

Hinman's close associates say he has built a prodigious file of written material on personalities, party structure, strategic situations and other matters. He pours out this information to secretaries in brief pauses between trips.

EVEN THOUGH Rockefeller's remarriage sent his nomination prospects plummeting, Hinman carried doggedly on, laboring to set up in state after state an organization which many politicians—including numerous Rockefeller adversaries—consider high grade.

He suffered many slings in the dark months before Rockefeller finally triumphed in the Oregon primary. Then for a time it looked as if his long concentration on California would be rewarded. When defeat came for the governor, it was also a very hard blow for Hinman.

No cue yet exists as to Rockefeller's next moves in the 1964 nomination fight now so close to being won by Sen. Barry Goldwater. Whatever is done, George Hinman will be in the thick of it.

A good many politicians around the nation wish he could be in the thick of important Republican party endeavors for a long time to come.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson undoubtedly would rather have Robert F. Kennedy decide to run for the United States Senate from New York State than to be confronted with the necessity of picking the Attorney General as the Vice-Presidential nominee. All Washington has been gossiping about the problem for many weeks now, but it is becoming clear that until it is definitely established that the President will not request the Attorney General to be his running mate, Mr. Kennedy will keep an open mind on making the race in New York State. There are political complications both ways. If, for instance, Mr. Kennedy is selected as the Vice-Presidential nominee, he will help the Johnson cause in some states but possibly alienate voters in others. This is because he has been the center of the controversy on civil rights.

It has long been assumed here that Mr. Johnson would not ask the Attorney General to become his running mate unless he needed him for election. In other words, many of the Johnson supporters think that at present the disadvantages would outweigh the advantages, and the feeling in Administration circles is that Mr. Johnson isn't going to ask the Attorney General to be on the ticket.

But even if Mr. Kennedy decides to run for the Senate from New York State, it could have some bearing on the Presidential race in that area. The civil-rights controversy has left its imprint on New York State, and there seems no question that there will be a large "crossover" vote from the Democratic party if the civil-rights issue is dramatized by the entrance of Mr. Kennedy in the race.

It is true that the incumbent New York Senator, Kenneth B. Keating, R., has also been a staunch supporter of civil rights, but he has not been directly involved in as many activities in that field as Attorney General Kennedy.

It will come as a surprise to many people that someone who has not been a resident of the State of New York would even consider the possibility of trying to represent in the United States Senate such a populous state. Undoubtedly in opposition to the idea, the campaigners for Sen. Keating will be heard singing to the voters of the state the song of the salesmen in "The Music Man," the refrain of which is, "But he doesn't know the territory, he doesn't know the territory."

Under the Constitution, of course, it isn't necessary for a candidate to be a resident of the state which he seeks to represent in Congress. Pierre Salinger has just won the Democratic nomination for Senator in California, although he has not lived there for a long time.

The British have a system which permits would-be-candidates for Parliment to look over all the districts and choose any one in which to run. The government requires a deposit of around $500, however, beforehand so as to prevent people who are not serious candidates from entering the race. If a candidate gets more than one-eighth of the votes, he has his deposit returned to him.

In this country, there have been a few instances in which individuals have moved from one state to another and entered politics, but usually after several years of residence in the state.

It could be, of course, that Mr. Kennedy figures that, if he becomes a United States Senator, he will have a better chance for the Presidency in 1968 in the event that President Johnson chooses not to run that year. The latter is, however, eligible for two elected terms in addition to the 14 months he will have served in filling out the Presidential term of his predecessor.

It seems illogical for Attorney General Kennedy to give up the idea of becoming a vice presidential candidate at the national convention and run instead for the U. S. Senate unless he is absolutely sure he has no chance of getting the President's assent to be his running mate. Mr. Johnson might prefer to avoid a lot of controversy inside his party by taking someone else for the second place on the ticket—for instance, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Minn. This, however, is not likely to satisfy the ardent and almost fanatical worshippers of the Kennedy name. They feel that there ought to be another of the many memorials to the late President and that this should be accomplished by nominating his brother as vice president, and thus put him in line for the presidency in the future.

It is speculated also that there could be another Kennedy administration either after Mr. Johnson has served two full terms or in the event that he became physically incapacitated beforehand. Bobby Kennedy is only 38 years old now, however, and can afford to wait a decade or so for political fortune to give him his chance to become President.

BARBS

It's dangerous to be a two-car family if the second car is driven by a reckless, speeding teen-ager.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

What is Vietnam? I wish I knew. The newspaper have been full of stories about it but someone forgot to tell us what it is, why it is, and how we can tell the Good Guys from the Bad Guys without a scorecard. I am possessed of a vague uneasiness that America feels that the place is worth fighting for, but the Vietnamese don't.

There is a North Vietnam and a South Vietnam. The North fights for Communism. The South runs from Democracy. The old Nhu family used to govern South V.N., but they alienated the Buddhists, and monks began to burn themselves to death sitting in the streets of Saigon. Soon, no Nhus became good Nhus.

Parts of the place were once called Annam, Cochin-China and Tonkin. It had more names than an oriental confidence man. It was also French Into-China. Its neighbor, Thailand, used to be Siam. This is confusing. On the same peninsula are countries named Cambodia and Laos—pronounced louse—which is libelous English.

South Vietnam has an area of 66,280 square miles, and a populatiodn of 15,500,000. The capital is Saigon, with a population of 1,400,000. North Vietnam has an area of 60,156 square miles, and a population of 17,000,000. The capital is Hanoi, with a population of 643,576. Both sides call themselves Republics and, as both are lying, this explains the whole war.

Both grow rubber and rice, and import four times as much as they export. The North is clearly superior in two departments: famines and females. No matter how hard the North Vietnamese try, they always end up with 70 more females per thousand population. This leads to chronic irritation in the jungle. The men sell the rice and eat the rubber. As a result, they become hungry and more warlike.

All governments in Southeast Asia are established to be overthrown. The strongest is always described as "tottering." The American government remedies this by sending helicopters. The choppers fly up and down the jungle. This gives the Vietnam soldiers something to shoot at, because they are averse to shooting at each other.

In Laos, there is something called the Pathet Lao. It has a small army which fights for Communism. On the Plain of Jars, Pathet Lao fought a battle with a big democratic army headed by General Kong Le. The big democratic army dropped its American guns and ran. To save face, Kong Le demanded more American arms. He needs them, he said, for the next retreat.

All of this is comprehensive t. the New York Times, which says: "It took the United States several years to learn that, despite all the weapons and advice it provided for the right-wing forces, there was no military solution to the war against the Pathet Lao."

This is not quite true. Senator Barry Goldwater, an old saber rattler, is in favor of knocking the foliage off the Southeast Asia trees with small friendly atomic bombs. This would pluck the leaves off, mow the lawns, and, at the same time, give our nervous helicopter pilots an opportunity to see who is shooting at them.

It wouldn't hurt anybody much, and it would raise the morale of the chopper chicks. Come to think of it, the U. S. is spending more than one million dollars a day in this war to keep from hurting anybody. As in Korea, we cannot win it and we dare not lose it. A young widow in San Antonio weeps that her husband died "for nothing." True.

China wants all of Southeast Asia. Mao can't feed his 700,000,000 mouths, and wants more starving millions he cannot feed. Sound like a paradox? Don't be silly. It's as logical as America fighting to feed the same million, when it has already promised to fight poverty on the home front.

Would you have us take the same money and blood and put it into a fight for Cuba? Ridiculous. Cuba is in our front yard. If we're going to fight, it must be on the other side of the world for people who have no yen to fight. We can live with Communism next door, but we can't stand it next door to China.

I once knew an old Vietnamese who was never sure what he was because he couldn't read the newspapers. He said he was Indo-Chinese, although privately he told me he thought he was nuts. "Imagine leaving land where more pretty women than men," he used to shout. "Har har. Me nuts."

Still, he loved America. His name was Dong Dong, and he had long silken whiskers which swayed if you blew on them. He used to dust my office, humming "Life Is Just a Bowl of Rice" but the song never came out even. As a joke, he used to rewrite Chinese laundry tickets.

One day he left to start a little war in Cambodia. I haven't seen him since, although we carry on a lively correspondence between my home and his jail. Recently, I asked him to stop referring to my countrymen as the "inscrutable Americans" and to tell me what we should do about Vietnam.

He wrote back angrily: "Vietnam? Who he?"

Bradley Meadows Committee Moves to Preserve Open Site

The newly formed Committee Bradley Meadows is expected to explore the possibility of pre- for the Preservation of the serving the meadow at tonight's open meeting at the Woodstock Playhouse at 8 p. m.

The committee, numbering more than 200 and headed by Alf Evers, town historian, as chairman, hopes that some way be found in cooperation with the new owners to keep the meadow forever free.

One member of the committee, speaking as an individual, has suggested that money be raised by public subscription to purchase the site from its new owner, Attorney Howard C. St. John of Kingston. Under this plan the property would be deeded to the town to remain forever open.

Lease Unconfirmed

It has been confirmed that the A&P is interested in the site for a supermarket but it is not known if the food chain has signed a lease with St. John.

The committee points out that the historic meadow offers a magnificent, unobstructed view of Overlook Mountain and many Woodstockers who value the natural beauty and charm of the town deplore the possibility of a large commercial development on this site. It was this feeling that prompted this group of concerned people to form the committee.

Edgar Rosenblum, owner of the Woodstock Playhouse is acting as temporary vice chairman. It was decided that a public meeting to discuss this matter which is of vital interest to the community was of great importance.

All persons who have an interest in this matter are urged to come to the meeting and contribute their ideas. The original committee has grown to include several hundred names.

The Woodstock Township Chamber of Commerce last night voted unanimously to endorse the principle that the Bradley Meadows be preserved forever as open space in Woodstock village.

The unanimous vote on a resolution offered by Alvin Moscowitz and seconded by Irving Kalish came after a lengthy discussion.

Mrs. Sylvia Kondolf, editor of the Woodstock Week who has been prominently identified with the move, made a strong appeal for Chamber action and urged that the organization be represented in strength at tonight's public meeting at the Woodstock Playhouse.

Mrs. Kondolf said that while the Chamber of Commerce is committed to the encouragement and attraction of industry and commerce in its by-laws, the Bradley Meadows was something apart. She called it a "special place" in the history and tradition of Woodstock.

In another resolution, the Chamber reaffirmed the principle, as embodied in the by-laws, that it encourage the promotion of commerce and industry in suitable sites in the community.

The Chamber secretary, Richard O. Langham, was instructed to write the A&P company and Howard C. St. John, Kingston attorney who now owns Bradley Meadows, informing them of the Chamber's action.

Mrs. Kenyon New SPCA Secretary

Mrs. Wellington Kenyon of Woodstock was elected secretary of the Ulster County SPCA at the recent annual election meeting.

Mrs. James Stoutenburgh of Glenford was named president; Mrs. Frances Stokes, New Paltz, vice president; and Miss Margaret Johnson, Kingston, treasurer.

The treasurer reported that the rummage sale held in Weisberg's store and the recent cake sales were great successes.

Plans were announced for the annual dinner at Kurta's. Many valuable prizes will be awarded at this time.

Mrs. Jean Mack was congratulated for her devotion and efficient care of the SPCA shelter. The secretary will be happy to accept donations or to answer any inquiries regarding the SPCA.

Methodist Church Plans Trip to Fair

The big news at the Overlook Methodist Church this week is the MYF-sponsored bus trip to New York World's Fair. According to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vredenburg, MYF advisors, some seats are still available on the bus.

The bus will leave the Methodist church hall at 7 a. m. for New York and leave the Fair for the return trip at 10 p. m. Participants will furnish their own Fair ticket.

Reservations must be made by June 15. Persons interested in joining the bus trip on Wednesday, July 8, should contact Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vredenburg or any member of the MYF.

EDWARD FRODERMAN

Edward Froderman was named president at the Christian Science Annual Meeting in Boston, June 8. Several thousand members traveled to attend the meeting held in The Mother Church, First Church of Christ, Scientist. The new president was once vice president of a Chicago bank, but resigned 15 years ago to enter the public practice of Christian Science healing. He is currently a trustee of the Christian Science Publishing Society.

Further Answers For OCS Budget

The following is a continuation of a question and answer forum conducted by Superintendent of Schools Dr. George R. Sullivan of Onteora Central with respect to the June 16 re-vote on the $2,696,435 school budget for 1964-65:

Question—Can a taxpgayer of the district vote on the budget June 16 if he lives outside the district and votes at general elections outside the district?

Answer—No. A 1934 opinion of the Attorney General states: "Persons having residence in a city where they vote at general elections, cannot also claim residence in a school district outside the city where they own property, as a person can have only one residence or domicile, which is the place of permanent residence or home." The above opinion was later confirmed by court decision in 1953.

Question — What can the Board of Education do if the budget is defeated again?

Answer—It has three choices: a) change the budget and call for another vote after 25 days; b) re-submit the same budget after a waiting period of 25 days; c) levy a tax without voter approval to operate the schools under an "austerity budget."

Question—What is an austerity budget?

Answer—An austerity budget is that budget for which the state authorizes local boards to levy taxes without voter approval. The state prohibits certain services without voter approval including: providing for textbooks, transportation for children living less than 2 miles (grades K-8) and 3 miles (grades 9-12) from the school they attend or less than the same distances to main bus routes, transportation for after school activities, cafeteria, purchase of certain new equipment and some minor items.

New Circus Date Set for July 3

The Woodstock Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced a new date (July 3) for the circus it will sponsor in Woodstock this year. The Von Brothers 3-ring circus will bring to Woodstock a strong 3-ring performance than ever before with a full band and a wild animal menagerie with many new animals, including a hippopotamus.

The Friday date wil have two performances, at 3 p. m. and 8 p. m. Doors and menagerie open at 2 and 7 p. m. Everyone is invited to visit the circus grounds early and see the "Big Top" raised with the aid of the elephants.

The Jaycees urge everyone to purchase their tickets early. Profits from the advance ticket sale will be used to support Jaycee activities for the coming year, including youth recreational programs.

Tickets are on sale at Schneider's and the News Shop on the Village Green. Any Jaycee may be contacted for tickets and additional ticket sales booths will be set up in the town during the week preceding the show.

Rotron Slates Film Showings

1966 Set for Completion of $750 Million Building

Great Steel Skeleton Going Up Will Be Moonport for U.S.

BY HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —Rising from the swamplands of Cape Kennedy is a great steel skeleton which is being forged into the world's largest building.

More important than its size, however, is that this structure will be the assembly area for the giant Saturn 5 rockets which will ferry American astronauts to the moon.

The Vertical Assembly Building—VAB—will not be the tallest structure ever built. At its high est point, 524 feet, it will be less than half the height of the Empire State Building.

But the VAB will measure 710 feet long and 513 feet wide. These dimensions will enclose 125 million cubic feet, making it the biggest man-made structure, from the standpoint of volume, anywhere.

Dwarfs Some Records

It will dwarf the present record holders—the great Pyramid of Cheops in Egypt, 96 million cubic feet; and the Pentagon, 77 million.

When completed in 1966, the VAB will be the dominant featured of the sprawling $750-million moonport the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is constructing here for manned lunar flights starting late in this decade.

The price tag on the VAB is more than $100 million.

Designing required the combined work of 200 engineers from four New York firms.

Max O. Urbahn, head of one of the firms, said: "The paperwork alone was monumental. Approximately 2,500 separate drawings were submitted. The final specifications, drawn up and duplicated for the firms who bid on the construction, took a train carload to deliver from the printer."

Slick Polished Box

"As an architectural structure," Urbahn said, "the VAB will be little more than a slick, polished box covering eight acres.

"Inside the box it is somewhat more interesting, with whole buildings hanging from its sides, some of them moving up and down and in and out like suspended file drawers, mating with one another to form still other buildings within buildings to house the space vehicles."

Many of these smaller buildings are enclosed, air-conditioned, dust-free work platforms which are shaped like halfmoons on one side so they will fit snugly against the side of the Saturn 2 rockets and Apollo spacecraft.

Four 400-foot-tall rockets and spacecraft can be checked simultaneously as they stand upright in the VAB.

Engineering problems included designing the huge building, which does not have regularly spaced floors inside as reinforcement, to withstand hurricane winds and the tremendous pressure and noise created by Saturn 5 rockets blasting off from launching pads 3.5 miles away; constructing four doors, each 460 feet high, through which the assembled rockets will pass, and airconditioning.

Had to Be Anchored

"We were faced with the fascinating possibility that the shape of the building might make it react like an immense box kite and blow away in high wind. We had to design pile foundations that would prevent that," Urbahn said.

Construction of the VAB began with a process called surcharging.

Sand was dredged up from the nearby Banana River by the Army Corps of Engineers and piled to a depth of 46 feet over the eight-acre site. The weight of this so-called surcharge bore down on the soggy swampland, squeezing out the water and firming the ground for foundation footings.

Pile drivers hammered 4,225 steel tubes, each 16 inches in diameter, into the bedrock 150 to 170 feet below the surface.

The steel anchor was capped by concrete to form the foundation for the VAB. Early this year, workmen began erecting the framework, which will require 50,000 tons of steel.

Once the steel skeleton is complete, it will be enclosed by more than a million square feet of corrugated aluminum siding.

Everything about the VAB is big. Its purpose, a link between man and the moon, is even bigger.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Europe's struggles with prosperity's problems could spread to the United States.

The immediate troubles in Europe, and the distant threats here, are inflationary price increases and rising interest rates to fight them. Both are children of Europe's fast economic expansion and spreading consumer prosperity.

Placid as the U.S. monetary position looks today, Europe's moves to fight inflation by raising interest rates could roil American waters.

U.S. Investors Anxious

This is because much of our recent gains in bringing our international monetary transactions into better balance have been due to keeping idle investment money at home. Now, as Europe's interest rates go up, so does the yen of investors to reach for the higher yields abroad.

Europe's battle with inflation now contrasts with the slow rise in prices here in recent years. The rash of rising interest rates abroad of late contrasts with the stability here. American monetary authorities have been able to hold short-term rates high enough to keep money at home, and long-term rates low enough to encourage the economic growth which has become the national goal.

Part of the success is due to international monetary pacts preventing big swings of capital from nation to nation, which would upset currency exchanges and threaten another run on U.S. gold reserves. These international agreements are now being put to the test.

The Rates Abroad

This week the National Bank of Denmark has increased to 6½ per cent from 5½ per cent its charges on loans to commercial banks. Last week the bank rate in the Netherlands went to 4½ per cent from 4 per cent. Earlier in the year the British bank rate was jumped to 5 per cent from 4 per cent. Swiss and German interest rates have advanced. Italy is expected to make a similar move to fight inflation there.

The comparable U.S. Federal Reserve discount rate still holds at 3½ per cent.

The link between rising prices and interest rates is that by hiking bank charges business booms are discouraged, along with consumer eagerness to borrow to buy goods.

Income Up

LONDON (AP)—White collar pay averages 22 pounds 2 shillings 2 pence ($61.90) a week in Britain, the last survey by the Ministry of Labor shows. The October, 1963, figure was 4.8 per cent higher than the previous year and 22.4 per cent higher than the 1959 average.

S. Howard Evans Dies

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—S. Howard Evans, executive director of urban affairs for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, died Thursday in North Side Hospital. He was 61.

Evans was working in nearby New Castle, Pa., when he became ill last Saturday and was hospitalized.

He had been with the Chamber of Commerce for five years and lived in Washington, D.C.

Funeral services and burial will be in Rome, N.Y., where Evans was born.

Queens Recount Gives Barry 3rd Supporter

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A close contest in Queens appears to have given Sen. Barry Goldwater a third suppporter in New York's delegation to the Republican national convention.

Vincent J. Leibell Jr., head of the Goldwater - for - President organization in the state, apparently has defeated Chester Schwimmer, who backed Rockefeller, in a recount. Schwimmer originally had been listed as the winner.

The recount has not been completed officially, but Schwimmer said Thursday his own inquiries satisfied him Leibell had won.

Leibell did not attend a meeting of the 92-member delegation here yesterday, but his name was on an official list of delegates.

Two other Goldwater delegates were named in the June 2 primary, one in Erie County and the other in Nassau County.

Saturn Booster Is Success in Test, Chrysler Product

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The eight engines of the first industry-produced Saturn Roman I space booster roared for 143 seconds without a hitch Thursday in a full-duration static test firing at the Marshall Space Flight Center.

The huge booster was built by the Chrysler Corp. at the Michoud operations plant in New Orleans.

The booster, the SI-8, produced 1.5 million pounds of thrust. It is almost identical to six Saturns which previously made successful flights from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

It will now be transported to the cape where it is expected to launch a giant meteoroid detection satellite early in 1965.

Will Invite Russia

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—The Soviet Union will be invited to participate in ceremonies marking the 100th anniversary of the United States' purchase of Alaska from Russia.

The centennial occurs in 1967. The invitation will be extended by Paul Greimann of Fairbanks, who plans to visit Moscow in July.

Grave of Indian Scout Can Not Be Located

HOBART, Okla. (AP)—The remains of Kiowa Indian Chief Big Bow, an ex-Army scout who died in 1901, were sought in vain Thursday by 25 persons, a helicopter, a road grader and a metal detector.

A reburial ceremony was interrupted Tuesday when the grave couldn't be found. The remains of the old chief were to have been transferred to Ft. Sill for military rites.

If the grave can be found, Chief Big Bow will be buried in the Ft. Sill post cemetery alongside Hunting Horse, who served under him as a Ft. Sill scout.

Different With Sharpe

NEW YORK (AP) — In Ian Fleming mystery fiction, James Bond, ace British secret agent, bears the code number 007, identifying him as an agent authorized to kill in the line of duty.

In the U.S. Army everyone also has a job code number, his MOS (military occupation specialty).

Pfc. John Sharpe of Montgomery, Ala., stationed at Ft. Totten here, wondered what the Army meaning of 007 is and looked it up.

It's a Women's Army Corps basic trainee.

Swede Gets Life Term for Spying, NATO His Target

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) —Col. Stig Wennerstrom of the Swedish air force was sentenced to life in prison today for spying against Sweden for the Soviet Union.

The sentence, Sweden's most severe in peacetime, was handed down 10 days before Soviet Premier Khruchev is due in Stockholm on a visit.

When Wennerstrom was arrested a year ago, Premier Tage Erlander said relations between Sweden and the Soviet Union had been seriously disturbed by the case. But recently he declined to comment when asked how this might affect Khrushchev's visit.

Wennerstrom, 57, was arrested after 14 years of espionage activities in Moscow, Washington and Stockholm.

His activity was mainly directed against the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, he said.

Wennerstrom received notice of the sentence from the Central Criminal Court in a special steel and concrete prison "bunker" in which he has been kept since a suicide attempt.

He will be eligible for parole after 10 years.

Dear Abby . . .

The Tramp And The Lady!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: With reference to the letter about why a man, who has a lady for a wife, will pick up a tramp and treat her like a lady, and then will turn around and treat his wife like a tramp:

Some time ago you stated in the confidential section of your column: "The worse a man's morals are, the better he wants his wife's to be." How do you reconcile the two answers?

MRS. A.

DEAR MRS. A.: A man whose morals are low wants his wife's morals to be high, but he prefers a tramp for a sweetheart because he has a feeling of worthlessness and inferiority with his wife—but not with the tramp. And because a man treats his wife like a tramp does not mean he wants her to behave like one. Married men who cheat with tramps have no desire to marry one. Comprende?

• • • • •

DEAR ABBY: I am so unhappy I hardly know where to start. I am a middle-aged woman employed as a cook, housekeeper, companion and chauffeur to the most selfish, heartless woman I have ever known. She expects me to eat leftovers that should go into the garbage can. She finds fault with everything I do. When she is going out I have to help her dress, which is a chore, because she tries on a dozen dresses before deciding what to wear, and I have to tell her how "beautiful" she looks in every one or she gets mad. On my day off she lays in bed watching TV all day, and I have to prepare all her meals and put them within her reach. She is not an invalid. She plays golf. When she goes out I have to stay up and dressed to let her in, lock up the house and undress her and put her clothes away. She is a millionairess, but she goes around the house in a quilted robe with the heat turned off to save fuel. Once she made a toll call for me and took 15c out of my wages. Jobs are not easy to find. What should I do?

MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: If you remain with this woman, you do not deserve much sympathy. Jobs may not be "easy" to find, but if I were you I'd start looking for another one tomorrow. You could hardly do worse.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WANTS TO BE POPULAR": It is better to sit home for a few weeks—or months—than to date boys who want only a quick physical thrill. After they get what they want, the challenge is gone and you'll be sitting with a bad reputation and memories that will embarrass and burn. Get smart, and date only decent boys, or keep your nose in a good book. These are years for self-improvement—not self-destruction.

Heart Campaign Donations Go to Research Studies

Contributions by Ulster County residents to the Heart Fund have helped make possible the award of $3,554,915 to scientists for research studies in the field of heart and blood vessel diseases. Deweese W. DeWitt, president of the Ulster County Heart Association, announced today. The newly announced awards are part of a $10,000,000 research effort being underwritten by the American Heart Association and its affiliates for the fiscal year 1964-65, DeWitt said. Of the share of Heart Fund contributions sent to the American Heart Association by the Ulster County Heart Association, more than 50 per cent is set aside for research.

Of the fellowships and grants announced today, 74 are new awards and 223 represent contributions of support from previous years. All are concerned with various phases of basic and applied research designed to combat ailments which are responsible for nearly a million, or more than 54 per cent, of the deaths in the U. S. annually. The allocations were made by the Association's National Research Committee.

The national awards are being made to scientists in 33 states and Canada. Recipients include 11 career investigators, outstanding scientists who receive support throughout their professional lives. Also included are 95 established investigators, highly qualified individuals who receive five-year awards for independent programs of research; 54 Advanced Research Fellowships; and three Research Fellowships.

Fellowships awarded for the 1964-65 fiscal period amount to $2,225, 375. The remaining $1,-$2,225, 375. The remaining $329,-540, will be spent for 134 Grants-in-Aid support specific projects conducted by exeprienced investigators.

In addition, the Association's Research Committee also approved new Grant-in-Aid projects totaling nearly $1 million, subject to the availability of funds to support the. It is expected that local Heart Association affiliates and chapters will provide supplementary research funds to underwrite many of these studies through the Association's Cooperative Research Program.

Flights to Start Again Over Laos As Reds Active

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Premier Souvanna Phouma said today that U.S. reconnaissance flights over Central Laos will resume in the next day or two because "important movements" of Communist forces are under way there.

The flights were suspended Wednesday at Souvanna's request.

"Unfortunately," the premier told a news conference, "recent information reaching us shows that important movements of Pathet Lao and Vietminh troops are taking place in these (Communist - controlled) zones.

"The flights will therefore be continued and if the Pathet Lao want them to stop it is up to them to create the necessary conditions."

Cadillac

HIS THIRD CADILLAC . . . HIS FIRST NEW ONE

This man is enjoying his first brand-new Cadillac—after becoming acquainted with the car's unsurpassed value by twice buying used Cadillacs.

He learned that a late model used Cadillac gave him more standard equipment and engineering advancements than most new cars—and gave it to him on a budget he could easily afford.

First of all, while Cadillac's styling was continually refined, it never lost the clean, dignified look that says Cadillac and Cadillac alone. The smooth, quiet performance and complete reliability of his used Cadillac was a constant source of enjoyment. Then, too, he and his family enjoyed luxury and comfort to a degree reserved exclusively for Cadillac owners.

The pride of ownership of so distinctive a car was a never-ending pleasure, for he had the satisfaction—always—of knowing he drove the finest.

When it came time to trade his previously owned Cadillac for a later model, he found its value had held remarkably high . . . and returned a substantial part of his original investment.

So what could be more natural—or wise—than to make the eventual move to a new Cadillac?

New or used, there is no finer motoring investment than a Cadillac. And your authorized dealer has one to fit any budget.

Relative efficiency of oil and gas heating units is calculated as equal, as reported in Bulletin LR-11 issued in 1962 by the U.S. Public Housing Administration. An efficiency of 100% was used for electricity, since almost all of the electrical energy is converted to heat. Fuel oil cost shown includes cost of electric energy required to atomize the fuel oil.

A communication was received from the Cerebral Palsey Clinic Committee of Ulster County noting the need for additional room. The communication stated the committee was in a position to erect its own building and asked that use of county owned land be granted. Referred to Committee on Public Health.

On motion of Supervisor Robert A. Phinnney (R), 11th Ward, the board authorized purchase of a garage building in Town of Esopus from Joseph Clark for $18,800 for use by the County Highway Department.

Pratt Boice of Lake Katrine was reappointed a member of the County Civil Service Board for a six year term.

By unanimous vote the board also reappointed Macdonald DeWitt to the board of trustees of the Community College, for a nine year term. The board in its resolution took note of the "valuable services" which he had rendered.

On motion of Supervisor Abram F. Molyneaux, (R), Woodstock, the office of deputy clerk of the Family Court was created and $3,900 was made available to meet the cost.

A refund of taxes in the sum of $7,587.90 was authorized to the Children's Aid Society, a charitable organization in the town of Gardiner. This covered taxes paid under protest since 1955. By a recent court decision it was held the Society was entitled to the refund of the illegally collected money, it being a charitable organization.

The Committee on Public Welfare relative to sale of surplus hay from the County Farm at New Paltz reported three bids had been received and recommended acceptance of the high bid submitted by George Riley of Gardiner. He bid $660 for bailed hay, $130 on standing hay, a total of $790. Other bids were Irving Rudolph, Kingston, $510 and Kenneth Walker, Tillson, $455.

A resolution by Supervisor George Majestic (D), Gardiner, asking that a Park and Recreation Committee of five members be created, was referred to the Industrial Development Committee and will be referred by that committee to the County Planning Board.

Clarence A. Raichle (R), 12th Ward, moved to table the resolution on the grounds the Ulster County Planning Board had already considered the action which was suggested in the Majestic resolution. Raichle said it would be a duplication of work. The vote on referring the resolution was 22 to 11.

On Hospital Board

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller today appointed Mrs. Edward S. King of Rochester to the Board of Visitors to Rochester State Hospital for a term ending Dec. 31, 1968.

Mrs. King succeeded Mrs. Helen Power in the unsalaried post. Mrs. Power resigned.

Favor TB . . .

not mean closing of the hospital as a TB hospital "in a few years."

New Drugs Big Help

Dr. Drachman said TB hospitals were being closed through lack of patients. This is due to new drugs and out-patient treatment. Hospital stays are being greatly shortened.

Supervisor James A. Rapp (R), First Ward, inquired as to the cost of use of 10 beds for non-tuberculous patients.

Dr. Drachman said some equipment would be necessary and he mentioned two machines at $400 each. However, he said, "change or not" the need for an additional physician at the TB Hospital will be needed "at any rate". He said there was no assistant physician at the hospital now and no provision had been made last year in the budget for such a physician.

Chairman Williams noted that the reason no provision had been made in the budget for such a physician was that "none was asked for" in the request submitted. Williams said in past years provision had been made for an $8,000 item but this year the hospital management had eliminated it and Williams said it was not eliminated at the suggestion of the budget committee.

Would Realize $65,000

Supervisor Rapp, citing the Medical Society action favoring use of a portion of the TB Hospital for non-tuberculous cases, cited income figures. He said the 10 beds at $18 per day, with those patients who can afford to pay the full charge, would bring in a revenue annually of some $65,000. This amount is as much as the state contributes for 35 of 40 TB patients and he said it was "not a bad deal", speaking from a financial viewpoint.

On the roll call the vote was 31 to 1. Supervisor Robert Phinney (R) 11th Ward voted against adoption.

The state will now make a survey of the facilities and if the report favors consent, under provisions of the law the 10 rooms will be released for other than TB chest diseases, as provided by law. The hospital will continue to be primarily a TB hospital, it was stated.

Accused Forger Released on Bond

Accused of forging a $35.15 check on June 8, James Joseph Ross, 27, who gave his address as the Stuyvesant Motor Hotel, city, was arrested Thursday by County Investigator Thomas Mayone and Detective Leonard Ellsworth.

Ross waived preliminary examination before Justice of the Peace Allan Dargie, Town of Esopus. The case was referred to the grand jury and the defendant was released on a $1,000 bond.

According to Mayone, Ross allegedly mailed the check with a letter to a bank in Hurley, requesting that a bank money order for $30 be mailed to him at the above address. The check bore the name of M. L. Tompkins and was drawn on the Kerhonkson National Bank.

When he didn't receive the bank money order, according to Mayone, Ross allegedly telephoned the bank and asked that the money order be mailed to him. Mayone said that Tompkins happened to visit the Hurley bank on business and when informed of the $30.15 check he said he knew nothing about it. The sheriff's office was notified and Mayone launched the investigation.

In a subsequent telephone call, the county investigator said, Ross was informed that he could pick up the check at a bank in Kingston, and when he went there yesterday he was taken in custody by Mayone and Detective Ellsworth.

Scranton Joins

a reversal of his long-stated position that he was not seeking the nomination, but would accept a "sincere and honest draft." Last Sunday Scranton modified his draft statement slightly to say would be available for the nomination if a majority of the convention delegates wanted him.

Caps Week of Activity

The Scranton action capped a week of activity that began last Saturday when Scranton met with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in Gettysburg. Eisenhower urged Scranton to make himself "more available" for the nomination.

Scranton flew to Cleveland Sunday morning for the Governors' Conference prepard to announce he would welcome support from GOP moderates. He did not intend, however, to campaign. Then shortly after his arrival, Scranton received a telephone call from Eisenhower who, disturbed by press reports, said he did not want it to appear that Scranton had been tapped by Eisenhower for the nomination or that he was part of any "stop Goldwater" movement.

Visibly shaken, Scranton went on television and reiterated his previous position. This was the opposite of what had been expected.

Ike Back in Picture

Without the expected rallying point, Scranton backers, Goldwater opponents and nonaligned GOP forces broke into confusion.

Eisenhower was back in the picture Thursday. He told The Associated Press he wanted a wide-open Republican Natonal Convention to stir the party's and nation's interest.

He disavowed a role of either pulling strings for—or cutting the ground from under—Scranton.

At stake in the Maryland convention are 20 delegate votes to the San Francisco convention. It was reported in Baltimore that Goldwater's total commitment ranged from 4 to 10.

Scranton is chairman of the 64-vote Pennsylvania delegation. All but three are committed to support him. The other three have indicated they favor Goldwater.

Bus Service

There will be no bus service to Big Scot store today but service will be on regular schedule on Saturday.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Sperry Rand was sold heavily as the stock market declined early this afternoon following a three-day recovery. Trading was slow over-all.

Sperry was unloaded on a series of large blocks — 17,000 shares, 15,000 and 10,900 shares —and remained under continuous selling pressure.

The selling, brokers said; was triggered by news that the highly-regarded Dr. Louis T. Radar had resigned as president of Sperry's Univac division to join General Electric. GE stock traded about unchanged.

The market as a whole was in a slow, irregular decline. Gains and losses of key stocks regained mostly from fractions to a point. Some groups fought the downtrend. These included retails, aerospace issues and drugs.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .5 at 303.7 with industrials off .6, rails off .1 and utilities off .3.

Highland Votes 2nd Time Tonight On School Budget

Voters in the Highland Central School District tonight for a second time will ballot on a proposed $1,439,538.33 budget for 1964-65. The budget was defeated May 5 by a vote of 108-101.

A school district spokesman said that if the budget in its present form is approved, the tax increase will be in the neighborhood of $9.33 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, boosting the rate from $76.71 (this year's rate) to approximately $86 per $1,000.

This projection, the spokesman said, is contingent on the tax rolls to be submitted by the assessors and the equalization rates expected about the middle of August. It was noted that if the assessment total and the equalization rates are basically the same as last year, the rate increase will be about $9.33 per $1,000.

The meeting tonight is slated to start at 7:30 in the High School, and the voting will take place at the close of the public session.

County Building

the department through which many thousands of persons pass each year. On the second floor is the county clerk's working offices, a department which is also widely patronized. Other departments occupy the upper floors with the Board of Supervisors rooms on the fifth floor. The sixth floor is presently "undesignated" and may be used for storage or additional space for departments as they are expanded.

Even the basement has been put to use. The Machine Tabulation Department will be located in the basement and provision is also made for storage areas.

Much of the basement is taken over by the machinery and equipment facilities, but a space apart from the boiler room and service areas will be utilized for office storage and office space.

To Store Plates

A room is provided in the basement for storage of automobile license plates with a chute leading from the ground level for unloading the plates directly to the basement.

In the event of need to replace large machinery units such as a boiler or airconditioning unit, provision has been made for "knocking out" a section of the south wall through which these large units could be removed. This will be covered and seeded but will be readily available in emergency need.

There is a fireproof stairway well in addition to the elevators serving all floors but in cases of extreme emergency an exit from the boiler room, an "emergency hatch" has been provided from the engine room.

"We have tried to think of any emergency," Augustus R. Schrowang Jr., told the Freeman reporter. "We hope we have given the county a good and complete building which will serve the county for many years," Schrowang concluded.

Larsen & Johansen, Inc., of Kingston are the general contractors for the job.

Chemical Head Killed

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — A three-car collision has taken the life of Thomas W. Morningstar, 37, of Rye, president of Morningstar-Paisley, Inc., chemical manufacturers with sales of $25 million last year.

Three other persons were injured in the crash Thursday.

Police said Morningstar's car and another were in a head-on collision after the other car and a third had collided.

$20,000 Voted . . .

Committee of the college board, said the firm of Augustus Schrowang Associates, and the engineering firm of Brinnier and Larios will proceed with test borings and other preliminary steps for development of a "master plan" or "site plan" for the college "as it is envisioned for the early 1970's when the full time enrollment is expected to be between 750 and 850 students."

Plan Is Required

This master plan is required by the State University before consideration is given to the construction of any buildings as the first phase of the total campus development project. This plan will show the location of the buildings to be constructed immediately and those to be erected within the forseeable future. Parking lots, roadways, sidewalks, campus lighting and other campus developments will be shown.

Feeney said the additional property from Mrs. Frances Leggett accepted last February, the approximately 85 acres originally proposed for the campus, had now been consolidated and title to all of the property has been taken.

Should Stop Rumors

In commenting on this definite move forward for the development of the permanent campus, Abram F. Molyneaux, chairman of the Community College committee of the Board of Supervisors said:

"The forward step we have taken tonight should put to rest any further rumors with respect to the college on the Stone Ridge site. The trustees and the board have both acted in the best interest of the county in solving the problems that existed."

The college opened in temporary quarters in the former No. 2 school building on West Chestnut Street in September 1963, with a full time enrollment of 193 and the part time enrollment was 550. This September the enrollment is expected to be about 350 full time and the evening enrollment approximately 500 to 550.

The fall term opens on September 21.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

ROGER E. SPEAR

Daughter Has Problem How to Invest $30,000

Q) "My daughter, a minor, has inherited a good-sized estate. She is in the 38 per cent income bracket. She has a wide variety of blue chips and would like your advice on the investment of an additional cash disbursement of $30,000. Would you consider tax-exempts? If so, how would you rate State of California selling to yield 3.55 per cent, Analy High School District bonds at 3:55 per cent and Folsom Gt. Union at 3.65?" J.C.

A) I am sincerely pleased at your daughter's good fortune, and I believe she would be well advised to put her $30,000 disbursement into tax-exempts.

I regard each of the bonds you mention as satisfactory. Since there is so little difference in yield, I suggest that because of superior marketability, she place the entire $30,000 in highest-rated State of Californias, which at the yield you mention have a taxable equivalent return—in her bracket—of 5.73 per cent.

Q) "My husband is 53 years old and is forced to retire. He is trying for another job to supplement his pension. I am interested in buying stocks. I thought of American Telephone; Sears, Roebuck; and Procter & Gamble. Can be purchase these stocks in $400-$500 lots as your column suggested? I have $13,000 in savings and would like your comments on my suggested purchases. Also, as to whether I should purchase E bonds." L.Z.

A) I am truly sorry that your husband is forced to retire at 53, and I hope he will find a worthwhile job.

Your purchase suggestions are excellent for growth, but I hope you understand the income return is rather low.

You can buy in amounts of $400-$500, but I would add to your list Texaco, Long Island Lighting, and Scott Paper.

You should, I believe, retain a substantial cash reserve, part of which could well include two or three thousand dollars in E bonds—for assured income and absolute stability.

Poodle's Chick

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—Mrs. Robert C. Perry of Fremont, the mother of seven children, says friends, who didn't think she had enough do, gave her a baby chick to care for.

Fortunately, she said, her French poodle Crepes Suzette came to the rescue and took charge of the chick.

"Suzette will not let the chick out of its sight," she says. "The dog carries it all over the house. If the chick gets out of the dog's bed, Suzette follows it. The chick peeps if the dog leaves the room."

Deer Comes to Him

SAYRE, Pa. (AP) — John Rhodes Jr., a Sayre policeman, has gone deer hunting for 23 years, but he's never been able to bag one. And his luck didn't improve even when a buck came to him.

The animal crashed through the porch window of Rhodes' home and went on a rampage through the first floor, as the man was shaving upstairs.

Reluctant to get in the way of the enraged and wounded deer, Rhodes called a fellow policeman, who shot it dead.

Hollywood News and Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This is Hollywood Boulevard—a man of eloquent hands is John Tartaglia, who uses them in conversation and for creating things.

Tartaglia, who came to this country from a village near Naples, Italy, 43 years ago, decorates and repairs interiors of theaters owned by the National General chain. One of his functions is preparing the cement in which movie stars place their marks in the forecourt of Grauman's Chinese Theater.

Shrugs It Off

"Nothing much to it," he shrugs.

Tartaglia arrived a couple of hours before the most recent ceremony and directed an assistant in removing a block of concrete a yard square. A three-inch base of rock and cement was laid upon the naked earth. Then came preparation of the top layer.

Ready-mix cement and sand was sifted twice through a screen and to the fine mixture was added pure cement for greater adhesion. Then came the coloring—green oxide earth, plus some black to deepen the hue.

"You can't see the color now," said Tartaglia, mixing the gray mass, "but the water will bring it out."

"Once he told me how he started this business of the footprints," he said. "It was back in 1927 when he was building the theater and Norma Talmadge came by to look at it. She stepped right out of her car into the wet cement. Mr. Grauman saw the footprints and got his idea. Miss Talmadge, Doug Fairbanks and Mary Pickford were the first ones to go in.

"We've been putting them in pretty fast in the last few years, but there are still 200 squares left. I don't think we'll ever run out of space."

Death From Abortion

LONDON (AP) — There are between 400 and 600 deaths in Britain each year from abortion, Dr. Ann Mullins writes in the magazine Family Doctor. She says at least 150 abortions take place each day.

CP Directors Will Honor Volunteers At Tea on June 18

A tea will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel 2 p. m. Thursday, June 18 for all Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Inc. volunteer workers and the staff of the Treatment Center.

Mrs. Milton Grover and Mrs. Gerald Sumber, co-chairmen of the tea, have announced that the board of directors wish to acknowledge fully the services of those who have participated in fund drives and volunteered help at the center.

In her annual report, Mrs. Charlotte Peck, clinic director said, "one of the essential facts, an integral part of the center program, is the role of the volunteers. These faithful workers serve not only as drivers, nursery aids and helpers for special events but also their warm interest strikes deep responsive chords within the children themselves."

The volunteer driver corps brings handicapped children from all parts of Kingston and outlying areas to the center, 400 Broadway for their regular therapy sessions These children may have handicapping involvements attributed to cerebral palsy, post poliomyelitis, muscular dystrophy, birth defects other than CP, speech problems or hearing defects. The driver corps is vital to the continuance of the center's rehabilitation program.

CP campaign workers in townships outside the community chest area carry the story of the vital service the center provides to Ulster and Greene County communities.

The extent of the help offered the handicapped child of Ulster and Greene depends directly on the volunteer services of residents as well as their financial support.

During World War II, in addition to her regular teaching duties, she served as a member of the US Air Force Ground Observer Corps, from 1942-1945.

In the New Paltz Community, Mrs. Compton has been an active member of the Reformed Church, the Dutch Guild, and the League of Women Voters. She also has beeen a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Poughkeepsie, and served as Chairman of the International Relations Committee of that organization from 1956 to 1958.

Mrs. Compton received her Bachelor of Science Degree from the State Teachers College in Denton, Texas, in the fields of Education and Social Science, and her Master of Arts Degree from Teachers College, Columbia University, in Supervision and Social Science. She also did additional advanced work at the University of Colorado, Penn State University, and New York University.

She began her teaching career at the Central High School in Fort Worth Texas, teaching Sociology and Civics, and then was Dean of Women at Washington State Normal School, Ellensburg, Washington, before joining the faculty at New Paltz.

Mrs. O'Donnell joined the New Paltz faculty as in instructor in 1942, and for the past seven years has been in charge of the Campus School French Language Program. At the time of the inauguration of this program, it was the first elementary French Language Program in the area.

She received her Bachelor of Arts Degree from Good Counsel College, in the field of English, and her Master of Arts Degree from New York University with a major in Education. She also did advanced graduate work at Columbia University and spent a summer at Urbino University in Italy and another summer at the University of Paris in France. During the summer of 1959, Mrs. O'Donnell studied for eight weeks in the French Language Institute at the University of Delaware under a scholarship provided by the National Defense Education Act.

In announcing the retirement of Mrs. Compton and Mrs. O'Donnell, President Haggerty expressed appreciation on behalf of the College for their long service and devotion to duty. "We feel certain," he said, "that these two individuals, inspite of their retirement, will continue to contribute a great deal in their respective fields."

Dr. Bond, Principal of the Campus School, pointed out that, together, these two teachers represent over 50 years of devoted service to the children of the New Paltz Community. "We of the staff of the Campus School," he said "will miss the stimulation and inspiration of working with these two outstanding teachers."

Both Mrs. Compton and Mrs. O'Donnell were the honored guests at a faculty dinner recently at which Mr. Benjamin Matteson, former principal of the Campus School and later Dean of the College, praised them for their work in the field of Education. They received gifts from the entire College Faculty, presented by Mr. John Harrison, Associate Professor of Art at the Campus School, who is Chairman of the Faculty Social Committee. Dr. Bond brought greetings to them from the administration of the College.

They were again honored by the Campus School Parent Teacher's Association at the final meeting of the organization this year, on May 22. Dr. Bond presented them with gold pins, on behalf of the New York State Teachers Association, symbolic of the devotion of their lives to the teaching profession in the State of New York. Woodstock News

Rotron's earliest days and its present total environment. Local residents employed at Rotron are depicted "on the job." Beautiful vistas of the Village of Woodstock and the countryside, in all four seasons, provide other highlights of the film. It was produced and directed by Woodstock's James Trainor, an internationally - known documentary film maker.

Festival Winner

Accompanying "Rotron in Woodstock" will be the Academy Award-winning "Rasho-mom," a Japanese film with English subtitles. In addition to winning an Academy Award as "Best Foreign Film," it won the Grand Prize at the Venice Film Festival and was selected by the National Board of Review as the "Best Foreign Film."

The plot involves three men, sheltering themselves at the main gate to Kyoto about 1200 years ago, who are contemplating a brutal act that recently occurred. A merchant and his wife, traveling through the forest, were waylaid by a bandit. The wife was attacked and the merchant was killed. The crime is enacted four times, resulting in four different stories: the bandit's version of the incident, the wife's version, the dead merchant's story as told through a medium, and finally, the version as told by a witness.

Director Kurosawa has woven these four contradictory tales into a completely engrossing and intriguing film that will leave its audience spellbound.

High Woods Area Survey Started On Library Needs

During the library meeting in High Woods recently at the home of Mrs. William Ryan, it was decided to form a local committee to plan a survey of the book needs of High Woods, Fish Creek and part of Daisy, to help determine whether any type of general area would be advantageous.

Mrs. Harry Lowe, recently retired librarian of the Saugerties High School library, answered many questions about library services in general and student needs in particular.

Mrs. Berthel Wrolsen reported on a recent visit to Mid-Hudson Libraries in Poughkeepsie, a municipal organization chartered by the State of New York. Mid-Hudson Libraries extends library services to member libraries in the counties of Ulster, Greene, Dutchess, Putnam and Columbia.

About 50 libraries, including those in Saugerties and Woodstock, belong to the Mid-Hudson system. Mrs. Wrolsen told how the "coming thing" for small rural areas is not the establishment of more little libraries, but rather, small, carefully-stocked reading centers, to augment already existing facilities.

The date of the next general meeting of the group will be announced after the survey committee has met.

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The average producer of television shows counts the number of sets which will carry his program by the millions, if it is a network broadcast; by the thousands, if local. Lou Ames, television show producer, counts his sets by the hundreds—300, to be precise.

The average producer feels he is an exceptionally creative fellow if he manages to turn out 30 hour-long TV shows a season. Lou Ames estimates that his output this summer will total some 2,000 hours. Subject matter will range from cooking, fashion and flower shows to travelogues and interviews, laced with public service programs.

Ames is headman of the special small closed-circuit television circuit at the New York World's Fair. It consists of a complete broadcasting studio, equippped with the most modern electronic gadgets, and 300 color television sets around the 646-acres of displays and exhibits.

A project of the Radio Corp. of America, the tiny network is commercially designed to exploit the glories of tinted TV to millions of fair-goers who might never have seen it before. It also performs an agreeable useful function — amusing weary sight-seers as they rest their aching feet, and focusing on the faces of occasional lost children to speed reunions with worried parents.

Ames does not have much trouble filling the 12 hours a day, seven days a week, schedule. Press agents from commercial exhibits of the fair are always suggesting that his mobile camera cover a ceremony or event of some sort. He is bombarded with short commercial films, on a variety of subjects.

Visitors to the TV studio — and there is invariably a waiting line — are conducted through the building, and at one point have a chance to see themselves on color television.

Ames estimates that 8,000 visitors a day tramp through the center.

Primary Caused Wringing of Hands

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania does today what he seems ready to do—tell the country that he will seek the Republican presidential nomination—it will be just one more twist in an already unforgettable week.

And if the public is no less confused after he does, the prime movers in the Republican party—Scranton not excluded—will have to share the blame.

For while Sen. Barry Goldwater was emerging as the GOP's only aggressive leader, they were looking more like caretakers than captains. They were sitting back, doing nothing, saying nothing now that New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the only top Republican willing to stick his neck out against Goldwater, seemed at the end of the line although he says he is still in the running.

While Goldwater and Rockefeller were slugging it out in the primaries, there was always the fine chance the two would knock each other out of all consideration before the Republican nominating convention in July. That would leave the field wide open to those would - be presidents who said they'd accept the nomination but would not fight for it.

After Goldwater's California primary victory all but sewed up the nomination for him, they began to wring their hands. They showed concern for the nation and the party but never enough to really do anything about it.

Ike Just Watched, Too

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was also concerned but he didn't show any more leadership than the others. He told The Associated Press Thursday his main concern is in seeing an open convention and a platform and ticket that would build the party to its maximum strength.

He didn't hide his reservations about some aspects of Goldwater's conservative philosophy but, as he put it, he wants to be in a position to pick up the pieces after the convention and help unite the party behind its nominee.

He had said he wouldn't interfere in the selection of a candidate but before the Governors' Conference opened in Cleveland this week he called Scranton and nudged him toward some activity.

Scranton had said he would not seek the nomination but would accept it if drafted. Eisenhower suggested he not be so rigid about waiting to be drafted.

Confusing Performance

Of all the Republican leaders, Scranton put on the most indecisive and confusing performance. He said one time he could run for the vice presidency on Goldwater's ticket and indicated their views on issues weren't too far apart.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan said he'd do everything in his power to stop Goldwater but when former Vice President Richard M. Nixon suggested that Romney actively seek the nomination in opposition to Goldwater, Romney wouldn't.

But Nixon who would like the nomination, but says he isn't a candidate, explained that in urging Romney to oppose Goldwater he wasn't really trying to start a stop-Goldwater move although it might have that effect.

There was always the chance of course, that if Romney and Goldwater fought each other until the convention got deadlocked on them, Nixon might have a chance, perhaps his best and only chance, to be picked finally as a compromise candidate.

Political Chaos

Nixon said Scranton would be a good vice-presidential running mate for Goldwater, a view which, if it caught on, might erase Scranton from the convention's mind as a presidential candidate at all.

Scranton repaid the compliment by suggesting that Nixon, who had been vice president eight years under Eisenhower, would be just the man to run for the vice presidency again.

If all this adds up to some kind of political chaos, that is what it was. Goldwater? All he had to do was sit back and watch the spectacle.

Crazed Man Dies

COLOGNE, Germany (AP)—A crazed man who fatally speared two women teachers and seared 28 children and another teacher with a flame thrower died Thursday night after he was shot by police, then gulped down poison.

The worker, Walter Seifert, 40, a tubercular lathe operator, was shot in the pelvis as he tried to flee from the school. Before police could subdue him he swallowed the contents of a small bottle of insect killer.

Doctors who treated Seifert for tuberculosis had classsed him as mentally unstable but harmless. Before he died he told police he was fed up with the way physicians had treated his illness and "wanted to take revenge."

Ammunition Explodes

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Huge explosions and fire rocked an ammunition dump across the Ozama River from Santo Domingo Thursday night, killing or injuring an unknown number of persons.

At least 50 injured were taken to the Dominican capital's hospitals.

An unofficial report said a fire broke out in the powder magazine of the ammunition dump at the 27th of February barracks.

Urges Flag Display

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller suggests that all New Yorkers display the American flag on Sunday, which he has proclaimed as Flag Day in New York State.

The governor issued the proclamation Thursday.

Hand Was Not Type for Slam

A letter from Schenectady reads: "East cashed his two black aces and led another spade. I ruffed in dummy and went after trumps. East showed out on the second lead. Since diamonds went around twice, I was able to discard my last spade, and get out for down one. A mighty poor result considering that we reached five hearts under our own steam. Who is to blame?"

Apart from the fact that North and South were quite unlucky,

Opening lead—♠ 3

I have to charge both of them with North getting the major share of the blame.

North did have a very good hand, but not one that looked at all like a slam in view of the fact that his partner had dealt and passed. North only held one ace and no high honor in hearts. The best play for a slam would be a finesse, in case his partner had passed ace-queen-jack of hearts and a side ace. Therefore, North should not have obscured the bidding by showing his three-card club suit. Instead, North should either have rebid his diamonds or raised his partner's heart suit.

South's blame is very minor. To start with, he might well have bid one heart instead of two. True he had a maximum pass, but he also held only a five card heart suit and no support for partner's diamonds.

Then his four no-trump call was a trifle optimistic. By this time he had bid and rebid his five card suit, so there was some possibility that his partner had raised him on only two trumps. Even if North held two aces ,there would not be any sure play for the slam.

Costello Will Defend Title in Herdegen Memorial Golf

County Tourney Opens Saturday At Twaalfskill

Ulster county's blue ribbon golf tournament—the 14th annual Herdegen Memorial—starts Saturday at 9 a. m. at The Twaalfskill Club in Kingston.

The winner is recognized as the Ulster county amateur champion. Defending champion is William (Buzzy) Costello of Kingston and Rider College, who captured the 1963 crown in a 5-hole sudden death playoff with Leon Randall.

Thirty six players, who qualified in club tournaments under a new quota system, will compete. The club and at-large totals are: Wiltwyck 16, Woodstock and Twaalfskill, 6; At-Large, 6; and Shawangunk Country Club, Ellenville, 6.

In addition to Costello, three former champions — Leon Randall, George Hughes and Bill Van Aken, will compete. The fifth champion, Clarence (Dubby) Raichle did not seek to qualify.

The 36-player field will be reduced to 24 low scores and ties at the end of 36 holes.

The second round is scheduled Sunday at 9 a. m. at Wiltwyck. The third round will be played at Woodstick on June 20 with the finals at Shawangunk on June 21.

Twelve Prizes At Stake

Twelve of the 24 finalists will receive prizes, with the champion receiving the traditional Greek Jacket and a trophy.

The crack field includes virtually all of the "name" golfers in Ulster County except Bill Kaufman, who is not active. Wiltwyck's powerful contingent has Harvey Bostic, club champion; Leon Randall, Charles J. Turck, Harold Van Aken, Ronnie Marks, Bill McCullen and George Cosenza.

Dan Gaffney, the 1964 Kingston High School sensation, will be playing as a Wiltwyck member.

BUZZY COSTELLO

spearhead the Woodstock delegation. Ellenville is represented by its club champion, Robert V. Stapleton and George Barthel.

Dees Is Optioned

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels said Thursday night they have optioned first baseman Charley Dees to Oklahoma City in the Pacific Coast League, reducing the Angels' roster to 24, one under the player limit.

Dees has been with the team since the season began. He was used mainly as a pinch hitter, batting .077 in 25 games.

Two Top Scores In Bridge Play

Two outstanding performances were registered in the Glenerie Bridge Club's fractional point game. The classy Joseph Pechloff (Kingston) and Ralph Wesselmann (Shokan) combine turned in an excellent 67 per cent game to lead the East-West side.

On the North-South another equally potent tandem — Mrs. Harold Rakov of Kingston and Dr. Paul Perlman of Woodstock were just a half point behind with a superb 66½ per cent effort.

The runnersup were:

North-South: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Peck, Woodland, 55 per cent; Mrs. Margaret Kantzer and John Chapman, Poughkeepsie, 51½ per cent; Mrs. C. Russell Edwards — Mrs. I. H. Wheatcroft, Kingston, 50½ per cent.

East-West: Herbert Gertner —Dr. Victor Randel, Kingston, 63½ per cent; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Le Fevre, Hurley, 55 per cent; tie for fourth at 52 per cent: Miss Dorothy Maroon — Dr. Habeeb Maroon, Kingston; and Mrs. Jay Melton, Kingston, and Mrs. Lee Friedman, New York City.

A fractional point game is scheduled tonight at 8 o'clock at the Bridge Studios on Fair Street.

Watzka in Second No-Hitter; E. K. Giants Win, 21-1

Paul Watzka racked up his second no-hitter of the season in coasting to a 12-1 win for the Giants over the Braves in a Glasco-East Kingston LL game.

Watzka made a more than generous contribution to the cause by belting three two-baggers in four trips to the plate. He also struck out 15 Braves in his limited mound chores.

The Giants got things started with three tallies in the opening stanza on a single hit. Rick Hackney came across with the lone Brave hit in the bottom half of the frame and after that it was all zeros for the home team in both hits and runs. Watzka walked two batters.

Neil Crantek rapped two doubles and a single in four trips to the plate for the winners. Teammate Bob Clausi also went three-for-four. Steve Pasqua also stroked a double for the winners.

Losing hurler Robert Todaro fanned 13 Giants and gave up seven bases on balls .

Felice opened with two tallies. The Lions came back with one in the bottom half of the first, three in the second and two in the third for a 6-2 lead. Felice came up with two runs in the fourth, but the Lions retaliated with three more in their half of the inning to put the game on ice.

Cogswell clubbed two-for-three for the winners. Barry Rose slammed a round-tripper for the losers while teammate Burt Bodie collected the only other Felice safety, a double.

Runaway Game, Squeaker, Mark NLL Contests

A romp and a squeaker that went into extra innings featured a pair of National LL games.

Batsmen clubbed out a total of 36 hits as the Mets pounded out a 21-6 victory over the Giants.

Contrariwise, the Dodgers took a 2-1 win over the Cubs on a two-bagger by Dave Post in the bottom of the eighth inning in a game limited to seven safeties.

Mets held an 8-0 lead for three innings and added another run before the Giants came up with three tallies in the bottom of the fourth. The Giants held the visitors scoreless for the first time in the fifth while adding two more runs, but the Mets came on with a vengeance in the top of the sixth, with 12 runs. A single run by the home club was fruitless as the game ended.

Ed Basch slammed four hits in five trips to the plate for the winners, including a home run and a triple. Team mate Paul De Cicco had a perfect day at the plate with five-for-five. Earl Edmund and Mike Pugliese slashed three-baggers for the losers. Giant Ron Drieser also collected a double. Team mate Parris Beverly went three-for-three for a perfect day in a losing cause. Rickie Williams belted four hits in six trips for the Mets.

Tom Manello gave up 12 hits in taking the win while losing hurler Fred Homel was ripped for 24 safetics.

First-sacker Post broke open the close eight-inning contest between the Dodgers and Cubs.

The Cubs came up with a lone tally in the opening frame and the Dodgers produced the equalizer in their half of the second After that it was zeroes for five and a half innings.

Tony Darwak smashed two hits in three appearances at the platter for the winners, including a home run. Post had a two-for-four day at the plate.

Pony Show Judge Named at Katrine

Paul J. DuCuennois, of Glens Falls, has been obtained by the Lowlands Ranch Club of Lake Katrine to judge the club's All Pony Show on Sunday. The occasion marks the first all-pony show in the Hudson Valley.

A pre-veterinarian student at Cornell University, DuCuennois has owned and shown both registered and grade ponies throughout the east for a number of years. In 1962, his show string was winner of the Eastern New York Pony Association high point award.

The American Shetland Pony Club is a pony registry established to protect as well as develop the blood lines of the Shetland Pony as a breed in this country. Among the 22 classes to be held in the Lowlands Ranch show will be model, driving, pleasure and other games, as well as a Pony Grooming Class for those under 16 years of age.

$73.00 Double At Monticello

MONTICELLO — Faye Truder, a 6-1 outsider, pulled out a 2:08.4 decision over pace-setting Dark Amber in last night's second race to clinch a healthly $73.00 daily double payoff for backers of the 5-2 combination at Monticello Raceway.

The opening dash was taken by Whetstone, a two-year-old Jasper Hanover colt making his first betting race start.

Faye Truder, driven by Bill Hylan, came on strong in the stretch to post her second victory in six tries. The three-year-old brown filly by the Intruder returned mutuels of $15.40, $7.10, and $4.20.

Dark Amber held on for second and payoffs of $3.70 and $3.20, while Painted Princess was the show horse for $3.40.

Al Burton was in the sulky as Whetstone racked up a 2:10.2 mark in winning easily over Nevele Mom. The winner was worth $8.60, $4.30 and $3.10 and the runnerup $7.00 and $4.90.

Longshot Senator Glib paid a $7.70 show mutuel.

McBride Likes His New Role

Los Angeles Ace Hits Jackpot in 1st Relief Role

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

After laboring in vain for nearly two months, Ken McBride has gone on relief and hit the jackpot.

McBride, a 28-year-old right-hander, halted his 10-game losing streak as the Los Angeles Angels nipped Cleveland 5-4 in 12 innings Thursday night.

The one-time ace of the Angels' pitching staff beat Washington 4-0 on opening day, April 13, then lost 10 consecutive games in 12 more starts. His latest start—and defeat—was last Sunday.

Then, against the Indians Wednesday night, Manager Bill Rigney brought McBride in from the bullpen for his first relief appearance since April 19, 1962. He didn't give up a hit in 1 2-3 innings.

He relieved again Thursday night, coming on this time in a 4-4 game with two on and none out in the ninth inning. He got Vic Davalillo on a grounder and induced Leon Wagner to hit into a double play.

McBride pitched two more innings, allowing one hit, before leaving for pinchhitter Willie Smith in the 12th. Smith's single started the winning rally.

Year of Despair

The season for McBride has been one of utter frustration. He won 13 games and lost 12 for the Angels last year and had a 3.26 earned-run average.

Elsewhere in the league, Baltimore defeated Chicago 3-1, New York whipped Boston 8-4 and Minnesota downed Detroit 4-2.

After singling for McBride, Smith was forced at second by Tom Satriano. Ed Kirkpatrick's single and an intentional walk to Jim Fregosi moved Satriano to third from where he scored on Lou Clinton's sacrifice fly.

Dean Chance started for the Angels and ran his scoreless inning string to 28 before Bob Chance singled home two runs for the Indians in the sixth. Dick Howser's two-run single tied it in the ninth. Joe Adcock and Felix Torres each drove in two runs for Los Angeles.

Robinson Homers

A two-run homer by Brooks Robinson in the eighth carried the Orioles past the White Sox. The blow off Hoyt Wilhelm broke a 1-1 tie. Luis Aparicio homered for Baltimore in the sixth. Tom McCraw got Chicago off to a 1-0 lead in the first with a homer off Milt Pappas.

Mickey Mantle slammed two home runs and Roger Maris one for the Yankees. Mantle connected with one on in the fifth, then slugged his 10th homer with the bases empty in the seventh. Maris' 10th came in the third. All of the blows were off starter Bill Monbouquette.

Ed Bressoud and Felix Mantilla homered against Jim Bouton, who won his fourth game in nine decisions. Bouton doubled and scored in the fifth and belted a two-run single in the eighth.

Dick Stigman and reliever Garland Shifflett stopped Detroit on three hits as Earl Battey knocked across three runs. Shifflett pitched the ninth after Stigman walked leadoff batter Al Kaline. Bill Freehan and Don Demeter tagged Stigman for home runs in the fifth.

Battey slashed a run-scoring double in the third and smashed a two-run homer in the fourth.

'That Club' Enlists Edwards

Redleg Catcher Drops Strike to Cause Defeat

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

There have been 6,119 strikeouts in the major leagues this year. Pitchers have been happy about 6,115 of them.

The other four lost ball games.

It happened again Thursday night in this Year of the Dropped Third Strike as Cincinnati catcher Johnny Edwards joined a club that is quickly losing its exclusiveness.

Before Edwards could take his red face and damaged pride back to the privacy of the Reds' dugout, the Houston Colts had rushed across five runs in the fifth inning and nailed down a 5-3 victory.

John Tsitouris, the Reds' starter, held a 2-0 lead going into the fifth and retired the first two men without any difficulty. Al Spangler then drew a walk and Nellie Fox followed with a single.

Bearing down, Tsitouris, appeared out of trouble when he fired a third strike by Mike White, but the ball flashed past Edwards and White raced for first, loading the bases.

Came The Crusher

Tsitouris, apparently unsettled, forced in the Colts' first run by walking Dave Roberts and then Bob Aspromonte applied the crusherby smacking a grand-slam homer.

That sent Tsitouris to the showers and Edwards into the Dropped Third Strike Club.

The club has strict rules—the dropped strike must have directly led to a defeat. The other members in good standing are Joe Torre of Milwaukee, Philadelphia's Gus Triandos and Mike Brumley of Washington.

The Philadelphia Phillies, meanwhile, moved back into first place in the National League on their day off when Milwaukee defeated San Francisco 6-5 and dropped the Giants into second place, seven percentage points behind.

Elsewhere, Don Drysdale posted his third shutout with a four-hitter in the Los Angeles' Dodgers' 5-0 victory over St. Louis and Larry Jackson won his eighth game as the Chicago Cubs whipped the New York Mets 6-3.

Aspromonte's homer was his third in three games. He has hit only one other. The Colts' third baseman also collected two singles and in the last three games has collected seven hits in 12 at-bats.

Claude Raymond got the victory in relief, extending his scoreless innings streak to 22 before the Reds scored an unearned run in the eighth on Frank Robinson's double and two errors by Fox.

The Braves-Giants game seemed to revolve around San Francisco outfielder Harvey Kuenn. Kuenn lost Eddie Mathews' drive in the sun in the eighth inning and it went for a three-run double. Then Kuenn homered in the bottom of the eighth.

He came up again in the ninth after the Giants had scored three runs and pulled within a run, but with a chance to win it he grounded into a doubleplay.

Felipe Alou's homer in the ninth against his former San Francisco teammates turned out to be the winning run as Warren Spahn brought his record to 5-4.

Drysdale, bringing his record to 8-5, was in serious trouble only in the fourth when the Cardinals loaded the bases with one out. But the Dodger right-hander got Charley James on a shallow fly and got Tim McCarver to ground out.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, tied their season high for hits by collecting 14 — 10 off loser Ray Washburn.

The Cubs pulled out front to stay against the Mets in the top of the first when Jim Stewart singled and Ron Santo homered. Santo later drove in the decisive run with a single in the seventh after Lou Brock and Billy Williams singled.

Jackson, 8-4, gave up nine hits but brought his lifetime record against the Mets to 8-0.

Nat'l LL Fund Drive Tomorrow

The Kingston National Little League Inc. will conduct its sixth annual "Home Run" drive to raise funds, Saturday, in Wards 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9.

League players in uniform, accompained by adult volunteers, will begin the house-to-house canvass for financial aid starting at 10:30 a. m. Boys also will be stationed at main corners in their particular boundaries.

League President Clayton Stalter stressed the need of the once-a-year drive for funds. He said, "Many people don't realize the expense involved in the running of a league and the upkeep of the grounds and building." He said that between $1,200 and $2,000 was required to properly run the league for an ordinary year. He said further explanation concerning expenses would be given by league officials upon request, and "We need the help of every citizen and hope that when a Little Leaguer knocks on your door tomorrow, you will be generous.

National Little League is established at Shults Stadium in Kingman Park and is known as one of the Hudson Valley's "better LL diamonds." The league consists of 90 boys from the downtown area. The playing area is entirely enclosed with a link chain fence and modern conveniences are contained in the building. There is a parking space for 300 cars.

American Legion Tryouts, Registration on Saturday

American Legion Post No. 150 and co-sponsor Old Capital Motors will hold registration and tryouts for American Legion baseball candidates Saturday at 6 p. m. at Dietz stadium.

All interested, 16 to 19 years of age, boys born on or after Sept. 1, 1945, are eligible. Boys must bring birth certificates issued by a bureau of vital statistics. Baptismal and hospital certificates will not be accepted.

Tommy Maines will again manage the Legion nine, with Jules Albertini and Al Gruner serving as coaches. It is hoped there will be at least four Legion teams in Ulster county this season.

M.P.'s Dying Early

LONDON (AP) — Members of Parliament are studying vital statistics with more than usual care. The last ten M.P.'s in the British House of Commons died at an average age of 59. Life expectantcy in this country is ten years more.

Knights and Hurley Capture Wins in Babe Ruth League

Charlie James scattered seven hits and fanned 13 to lead the Knights of Columbus to a 9-5 victory over the Vols in the Babe Ruth League.

In a free swinging affair, Hurley clobbered Rotary, 28 to 5, scoring 12 runs in the first inning and 14 in the fifth. The game was mercifully halted by darkness.

Wayne Corkery rapped two doubles and single for Vols. Jack Watzka had a single-double combination for the Vols.

Charley Moore, pitching an 8-hitter, was the beneficiary of the Hurley onslaught. Joel Tomson slammed a triple and homer for the winners. Ralph Hoffman had a double and two singles. Roger Vogt and Charlie Moore bashed triples.

Reminds N.Y. Vets Of Cutoff Date For State Bonus

Mrs. Donald B. Snell, Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, Home Service Chairman, reminds veterans that a cutoff date for filing applications for payment of a World War II Bonus has been enacted into law by the New York State Legislature. March 31, 1965 has been set as the date beyond which veterans of World War II may not file unless they can prove that they were physically or mentally incapable of doing so.

Honorable discharged veterans of World War II who were on active duty between Dec. 7, 1941 and Sept. 2, 1945, who were legal residents of New York State at least six months immediately prior to entry into service are eligible. Also eligible are the veteran's next-of-kin, if the veteran died while on active duty with the armed forces of the United States at any time between Dec. 7, 1941 and Sept. 2, 1945. If the veteran died after separation from the armed forces, the next-of-kin is entitled to what the veteran would have received had he or she lived to present the application in person.

For service outside the Continental United States at any time between Sept. 2, 1945 and Dec. 7, 1941, there is a maximum bonus payment of $250. For service of more than 60 days within Continental United States, the payment is $150; and for service of 60 days or less within Continental United States, the payment is $50. The payment to eligible next-of-kin is $250.

The Ulster County Chapter American Red Cross, 308 Clinton Avenue, may be contacted concerning the order of precedence of the eligible next-of-kin.

Forms for application for the bonus may be obtained from and filed with any local office of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs or from the Veterans' Bonus Bureau, New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs, Albany.

Art Student Tour

Forty art students and three chaperones, Mrs. Lillian Campbell, Mrs. Margaret Lyon who teaches in Highland, and Mrs. Brita Reed from the Central School Art Department, went on a field trip to New York City recently. They saw an exhibition of VonGogh's work at the Guggenheim Museum which was designed by Frank Lloyd Wright, as well as visit the Metropolitan Museum of Art with its many varied and well known masterpieces.

Some of the students also saw the show in the Museum of Modern Art. This museum had just recently been remodeled and enlarged and those who saw it for the second or third time were impressed by the changes, especially in the patio and garden area.

A short stop was also made by some of the group, to the museum of Contemporary Crafts where avant garde crafts of all kinds are exhibited.

Evaluation Is Given on Local School Personnel

NEW PALTZ—This is the 16th in a series of reports on the evaluation of New Paltz Central High School by the Middle States Association.

The evaluation of the school staff and administration was concerned with the numerical adequacy of all personnel; their effectiveness in performing their duties; staff improvement; the adequacy of salaries; teaching load policies; and the organization and management of attendance procedures, reports to parents, school schedule, and school finance.

The visiting committee found that the school has an adequate number of administrators, teachers, and professional non-instructional personnel such as nurse, specialists, and guidance counselors. The committee felt that the school has need for additional clerical and maintenance help, but that the existing personnel are handling their work loads as effectively as possible.

The committee commended the entire staff, administrators, the Board of Education, teachers, clerical, custodial and cafeteria staffs, for their good working relationships among themselves and with other staff departments. The Board was especially commended for being aware of the details of the management of the school and of the needs of the community. The administrators were found to be aware of the educational needs of the community, well qualified for their jobs, and actively involved in efforts to improve the total school program. The administration was especially commended for its comprehensive program to keep the pupil informed through press releases and newsletters.

It was recommended that the high school principal be freed from more of his clerical duties in order that he might spend more time orienting new teachers and working more intimately with curriculum development and improvement of instruction. It was also felt that the high school principal should be provided with an office commensurate with his position. The committee recommended that the school district office, including the board of education, business manager, and the supervising principal, be moved out of any building where any students are taught.

The committee felt that the teaching staff was cooperative and interested in doing a good job. It was recommended that teachers explore new teaching techniques, do more experimenting, and further utilize the findings of educational research in order to continue improvement of instruction. The facilities, staff, and leadership of the adult education program received strong commendation.

The teaching load was found to be too heavy in certain subject areas. Because of homogeneous grouping in all of the academic areas, each class period requires separate preparation. However, this matter has been considerably improved by the addition of new teachers since the time of the evaluation.

The professional and non-instructional salary schedules were found to be good in relation to local socio-economic conditions. The salaries for custodial and maintenance staff were rated, however, as somewhat sub-standard. The committee felt that attendance procedures, reports to parents, school schedule, and school finance were efficently organized and well managed.

The most important part of the evaluation is, of course, the rating of the total program and its effectiveness in meeting the collective and individual needs of the students. In this respect, the evaluating committee felt that the staff is making noteworthy progress. However, the committee urged the entire staff to continue to improve coordination within and between the various departments. The needs of the non-academic student, it is felt, require special attention.

Summer Music

Again this summer the New Paltz Central School offers a special opportunity to all pupils in the district who wish to continue their instrumental music lessons. Beginning lessons on all band instruments will also be given by Paul Steiner in the music room of the Central School.

There is no tuition charge, but there is an instrument rental charge for students who do not own instruments.

Lessons will begin on Monday, July 6 and end Friday, Aug. 21. Now is the time to enroll in the summer music program.

High School Has Awards Assembly

New Paltz High School held its annual awards assembly Friday. Students who participated in the various music organizations and who distinguished themselves at NYSSMA were recognized by George Bond, Stuart Krams and Paul Steiner.

Mrs. Ruth Frampton, librarian presented certificates to students who belonged to her Library Assistants Club and assisted her in library during their study periods.

Mrs. Marcella Leininger, distributed the awards in the business education department.

Thomas Benenati, giudance director, presented certificates to students who distinguished themselves by making the principal's list or honor roll.

John L. Wyman, high school principal, awarded letters to the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders. Bruce Grey, student council president, received the accomplishments of the council this year and assisted Mr. Wyman in giving keys to girls and tie pins to boys in the Student Council.

Vacation School Plans Announced

A summer vacation church school will again be sponsored by churches of the New Paltz area for all children interested in participating.

It will be held this summer beginning Monday, Aug. 17 and continuing for two weeks, ending Friday, Aug. 28. The school will be held in the Educational Building of the New Paltz Reformed Church, from 9 a. m. to noon. The theme will be, Jesus, Learning About Him and From Him.

The registrar will be Mrs. Alvin Beatty, and as soon as registration blanks are made available, they should be returned to her. A small registration fee will cover the cost of study, craft, and activity material, as well as the mid-morning daily snack.

All children from kindergarten through junior high age may attend.

Your Merc dealer invites you to compare the 9.8 hp Merc 110 with competitors' 9.5 hp fishing motor

Merc 110 is the lightest outboard in the 10 hp class ever built. Yet, it performs like a 12 hp, trolls like a 3 hp and weighs like a 5 hp outboard.

Merc 110 balances perfectly on the transom. You don't have to lean over the back of the boat to clamp it on . . . risking the chance of falling in the drink. Merc power plants are high enough to be at least as high as the transom. Unlike competitive outboards, it keeps its power dry.

Merc 110 has a tilted powerhead that prevents fuel "puddling" at any speed. It idles and trolls smoothly without flooding or misfiring on "raw" fuel. The fixed-jet carburetor is on the front of the motor toward the boat . . . not on the back. You don't have to get in the water when normal service is required.

Merc 110 has a unique Glide-Angle design that lets it slide up and over unseen obstacles . . . over sandbars and through shallows. No need to tilt it by hand. It corrects itself when you hit deep water again. There's no protruding nose on the front to harvest weeds, snag rocks or plow sand. It has no shear pins . . . a live rubber safety clutch protects the prop on impact.

Merc 110 has a Jet-Prop exhaust system. The exhaust is fired through the center of the propeller hub . . . burying the fumes, and with it the sound, far behind the boat. The exhaust fills the vacuum pocket that forms in back of propeller hubs, resulting in increased thrust and improved breathing of the engine.

There are many other features to COMPARE on a Merc 110 . . . and your Mercury dealer will be happy to have you make the comparison. See him soon. See how you get more RUN for your money with Mercury . . . 100, 85, 65, 50, 35, 20, 9.8, 6 and 3.9 hp outboards and MerCruiser Stern Drives . . . 110 to 310 hp gasoline; 60 and 100 hp diesel.

Capitol News in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

DISARMAMENT: Sen. Joseph S. Clark today blamed a belligerent congressional minority—and he included specifically Sen. Barry Goldwater—for blocking the road to complete and general disarmament.

This "boisterous belligerency in foreign policy," led by a self-perpetuating few, "is a constant drag to our efforts to wage the peace," said Clark, a Pennsylvania Democrat.

They rally against any treaty, "no matter how minor, with the Communist world," he said in a speech prepared for delivery to the General Assembly of United World Federalists.

Clark called upon advocates of disarmament to take "issue with the military-industrial complex and all those who, like Sen. Goldwater and many a Democratic senator, as well, pursue a belligerent line in foreign policy."

Goldwater, the front-running contender for the Republican presidential nomination, was the only member of Congress named by Clark in his speech.

TAXES: Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier, chief economic adviser to President Dwight D. Eisenhower a decade ago, has called for a halt to "the Kennedy-Johnson expenditure explosion."

Saulnier charged in a Republican panel's report issued on Thursday that many of the President's projected spending reductions are either "of doubtful practicability" or stem from "bookkeeping devices."

Johnson has used more of these bookkeeping devices "than any other administration in history," said Saulnier, a professor of economics at Columbia University, in the Republican Critical Issues Council Report.

WARREN COMMISSION: Marina Oswald testified again Thursday to the presidential commission investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and, a source close to the commission confirmed, was questioned about a report that her late husband threatened to kill Richard M. Nixon.

The source declined to reveal what answers the widow of Lee Harvey Oswald gave when questioned about the report and a second one that she had blocked an attempt on Nixon's life by locking Oswald in his room.

Mrs. Oswald refused to discuss her six-hour testimony and her attorney, William A. McKenzie, shielded her from newsmen's questions, even those she seemed disposed to answer.

Kennedy was murdered last Nov. 22 while riding in an open car through the streets of Dallas. Nixon had visited the city the day before, the day of the reported locked-room episode.

Federal and local authorities are convinced Oswald killed the president. Oswald subsequently was slain by Dallas nightclub operator Jack Ruby.

Some of the nomadic "blue men" of the Sahara reacted to a new cattle duty by shooting the tax collectors.

Carlino Has Praise For N. Y. Education

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (AP) —Higher education "bespeaks a responsibility for higher involvement in community affairs by those who have that education," Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino said today.

Carlino said New York State's vast expansion of college opportunity should reverse "the trend toward non-participation in the political and intellectual life. . . which some claim is the inevitable consequence of urbanization and industrialization."

In a speech prepared for commencement exercises at the State University Agricultural and Technical Institute here, Carlino said:

"No public effort in the field of increasing higher educational opportunity has matched the record of New York State in the past decade."

Youth Is Seized On Way to Pick Up Pay Check

A 32-hour manhunt by more than 50 policemen for George Emory Hastings, 20, of 476 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, ended Thursday night when troopers nabbed the youth as he went to a store to pickup his pay check.

Hastings is accused of the theft of five vehicles in Dutchess County. He was booked on charges of first and second degree grand larceny, escaping from custody and second degree assault.

Awaits Jury Action

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Francis T. Williams, Town of Fishkill, Hastings waived preliminary examination. He was committed to the Dutchess County Jail pending grand jury action.

The larceny charges involve the alleged thefts of five vehicles, including a sports car and a pickup truck. The assault charge accused him of attempting to run down a State Police BCI officer after the youth was cornered on a Poughkeepsie street following a chase.

According to Fishkill troopers, Hastings was picked up early Wednesday morning, after he was stopped for questioning about the car the youth was driving. Authorities suspected the vehicle had been stolen. As Hastings was being taken from a car to the Fishkill troopers station on Route 52, he bolted and disappeared in the darkness. Troopers combed the nearby wooded area but found no trace of the youth.

Sometime later, a car was stolen from Fishkill village. Hastings reportedly was spotted driving the vehicle towards Poughkeepsie, and two troopers gave chase. Troopers said Hastings was seen in the vicinity of Rose and Main Streets and a trooper fired three shots, but apparently missed his target.

During the getaway escapades of Hastings, authorities alleged, the youth stole two more cars and a pickup truck, which were later recovered.

Management Alerted

Investigators learned that Hastings had been employed at Bradlee's Store on South Road, and management was alerted. Last night, authorities said, Hastings went to the store to pickup a pay check. Two troopers cruising in the area were notified and they soon had the accused youth in custody, ending a 32-hour manhunt which was made by 50 policemen including state troopers and Poughkeepsie town and city police.

Before Hastings was caught, troopers thought he might have been hit by one or more of the bullets fired during a chase in Poughkeepsie. After the capture of the youth, authorities learned he had apparently been cut by particles of glass from a bullet-shattered getaway car.

He suffered lacerations of the forehead and multiple bruises of the legs. NEW YORK (AP)—The Student Admissions Center says about 60,000 places are still open in next semester's freshman classes of two-year and four-year accredited colleges.

Cyclists Injured, Collide With Auto

Two Dutchess County men were injured Thursday night when a motorcycle on which they were riding was in collision with a car on a highway north of the Dutchess-Columbia county line.

Claverack State Police said the motorcycle was operated by Lawrence Lawson, 20, of Tivoli, who was treated at the Northern Dutchess Hospital. A passenger, Leonard Hummel, 26, of Poughkeepsie, was treated by a Red Hook physician for multiple lacerations and abrasions of both legs.

Troopers reported the car was driven by Miss Rita N. Gruntler, 17, of Tivoli, who was uninjured. She was operating the vehicle with a learner's permit. The vehicles were traveling in opposite directions when the crash occurred on a curve.

State police summoned both drivers on charges of failing to keep to the right. The summonses are returnable before Justice of the Peace Guido Zilliani, Town of Clermont, at a later date.

Both riders on the motorcycle were ejected as the vehicles collided, troopers said.
